40 KILLED, 30 HURT AS INDIA BUS BURNS

NEW DELHI (UPI)—A bus jammed with 120 passengers burst into flames today when a passenger's cigarette ignited gasoline which had leaked into the vehicle. First reports said 40 persons died in the inferno which followed and 30 others were injured.

Authorities said the gasoline apparently leaked into the bus from cans which had been placed in luggage racks on the roof.

IWA Strike Threat Dispelled As Vote Favors Nemetz Plan

LOCKHEED ENTRY IN SUPERSONIC RACE

1,800-m.p.h. Transport Unveiled

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Lockheed Aircraft Corporation unveiled today a plywood dummy of its proposed supersonic transport.

The mock-up of the 1,800-mile-an-hour plane, called the Lockheed 2000, is 273 feet long, about 100 feet longer than present transports.

The four-jet plane would carry the 266 passengers seated five abreast in the coach section and four abreast in first class. A Lockheed spokesman said it could take off and land at present jet-transport airports.

The Lockheed 2000 is the firm's entry in a design competition with Boeing under a study ordered in August, 1963, by the late president John F. Kennedy toward development of a U.S. supersonic transport.

General Electric and Pratt & Whitney are designing jet engines. The Federal Aviation Agency will select an airframe and an engine company to build two prototype supersonic transports.

Designs are to be submitted Sept. 6.

The U.S. transport will compete for world air traffic supremacy in the 1970s with the British-French Concorde.

Lockheed said the U.S. craft, made largely of titanium and due for first flight by 1970, will be nearly 400 miles an hour faster than the Concorde. But the Concorde is scheduled to enter airline service two to three years ahead of the U.S. competitor.

Workers Return To Jobs

First results in voting by 26,000 coastal woodworkers show overwhelming acceptance of the Nemetz report, dispelling the chances of an industry strike.

There was still no comment on the report by Forest Industrial Relations, representing the companies, but a spokesman indicated the industry stand will not be made known until the full union vote is counted later this week. Acceptance is expected.

Turnouts at mass meetings Sunday in Victoria, Vancouver and Duncan drew less than one-half of the members of these locals of the International Woodworkers of America.

In Vancouver, which has 7,000 members, 2,746 voted yes and 326 no for 89 per cent approval.

At Duncan, just over 2,000 of the 4,300 members voted nearly 90 per cent in favor.

About 800 Victoria IWA members, half the total membership here, voted Sunday but the meeting passed a resolution that balloting be continued on the job for those who didn't go to the meeting.

The 4,000-member New Westminster local also is balloting on the job.

About 1,700 members voted in Port Alberni but no ballots were counted until remote camps along the coast can also vote.

Complete results are expected to be made public Thursday.

BACK AT WORK

At the same time, IWA members on strike for the past 10 days in Vancouver and Duncan voted to go back to work immediately.

As many as 14,000 members were on strike at one time but this dwindled to about 7,000. The union had requested no strike action until the Nemetz report was made public.

Duncan president Weldon Jubenville said: "By and large it is a pretty good report.

"It's by far the best report the union has ever got from a mediator. I'm convinced the action of the membership of Local 1-80 and others in stopping work speeded up and sweetened the report."

NO EXTENSION

He also said no extension of the ballot is planned. Letters were sent to each local member pointing out the ballot would be taken at the Sunday meeting.

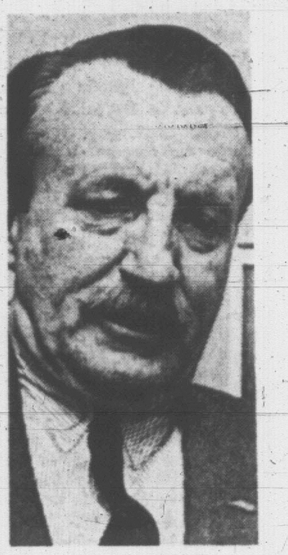
NEW TRIAL ORDERED IN JONES VS. BENNETT



G. E. P. JONES
. . . sued premier

The B.C. Court of Appeal today allowed a new trial in a slander suit launched against Premier W. A. C. Bennett by the former head of the B.C. Purchasing Commission, George E. P. Jones.

The unanimous decision of the three-judge appeal bench also noted:

"The effect of the proposed legislation (to fire Jones) appears to be tantamount to an acknowledgement by the government that the appellant's compulsory retirement was for some cause other than misconduct in office.

"In the absence of explanation of the actions taken by the government it was for the jury to determine what inference was to be drawn from the two apparent courses of action taken by the government."

The judgment stated that the government was pursuing two opposite courses:

One, the prosecution of the appeal of Jones' acquittal on criminal charges, the purpose of which "could only have been to cause the aquittal to be set aside and a finding of guilt substituted";

Two, was the introduction of Bill 34 which made "most generous" provisions for Jones' compulsory retirement.

The 19-page judgment said that it was up to a jury to determine exactly what words were used in the alleged slander.

"Until that has been determined the question as to whether they were related to the appellant and whether they were capable of conveying a damatory meaning, and were in fact defamatory of the appellant, cannot be answered."

BILL EXPECTED THURSDAY

Sharp Rallies Support For Bank Act Changes

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—Plans for the introduction of the controversial bank act amendments are going ahead with the likelihood that it will be placed before the Commons Thursday, just ahead of the summer recess, Government House Leader George McIlraith said here today.

The bill will go before the house after a debate on the resolution. It will be given first reading. Originally there had been hope on the government side that it might be able to get second reading and be referred to the finance committee of the Commons.

Now the aim is to get first reading only. It will come up for second reading and referral to the committee after the summer recess, according to the House leader.

GETS SUPPORT

The decision indicates that Finance Minister Sharp has rallied support in the cabinet for the amendments.

Several members of the cabinet were reported to be disturbed by the provision in the amending bill that allows the bank interest rate to go up.

Mr. Sharp was said to be unhappy with the delay but now appears to have the solid support of the majority of the cabinet.

Mr. McIlraith declined to comment on reports that Finance Minister Sharp had considered resigning over the issue. The newspaper headlines to that effect were just "hot-weather gossip," Mr. McIlraith said.

The official explanation for the delay in introducing the bill was that one clause had to be altered after the bill was in print.

MEET TODAY

Mr. McIlraith said it might be possible to get the bill before the house for first reading Tuesday. But he thought it would more likely go before the Commons Thursday.

The finance minister was at a cabinet committee meeting today. He was to see Prime Minister Pearson later and the bank bill in its final printed form will be before the cabinet again Tuesday for discussion.

Mr. Sharp was annoyed at the delay in bringing the bill forward.

Former finance minister Walter Gordon and former provincial secretary Maurice Lamontagne have been fighting hard to prevent any changes in the existing bank rate on loans.

ONTARIO JUDGE JAILS FIVE UNION LEADERS

TORONTO (CP)—Jail sentences of two months each were imposed today on five Peterborough union leaders convicted June 6 of contempt of court.

Another 21 men each received 15-day sentences.

Chief Justice G. A. Gale imposed the two-month sentences on Charles Clark, William Mulders, Stanley Rouse, George Rutherford and Victor Skurjat.

All had been convicted of contempt for violating an injunction restricting picketing at the strikebound Tilco Plastics Co. plant in Peterborough.

Chief Justice Gale said in his judgment June 6 that mass demonstrations outside the Tilco plant Feb. 23-24 were illegal in the face of a court injunction limiting pickets to 12.

He said the illegal picketing was well planned and deliberate and was an open challenge to the authority of the court.

MISSISSIPPI MARCH OVER

No Longer Will Fear Reign, Says Meredith

JACKSON, MISS. (AP)—The long and turbulent Mississippi march has ended with James H. Meredith—who started it as a "journey against fear"—saying the "governor and every other person is going to pay attention to the Negro."

"The system of white supremacy will reign no longer" in the U.S., Meredith told a heavily-guarded rally behind the imposing state capitol building Sunday.

Some 16,000 persons, most of them Negroes, flowed through Jackson streets to jam into a portion of the grounds and adjacent areas.

The final leg of the march—from Tougaloo College on the outskirts of Jackson to the capitol—and the rally were marked by a subdued atmosphere.

Meredith, 33, led the procession along with a number of national civil rights leaders, including Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

RESPONSE GREATEST

Meredith drew the greatest response from the crowd, which couldn't hear half of what was said from the flatbed truck that served as a speaker's platform.

Meredith said his father, now dead, told him most white persons "are pretty decent."

"It's true that we got some mean white folks in Mississippi . . . but these people can be decent.

"There is only one thing that is holding them back. And that thing is the system of white supremacy.

"The purpose of the march that I started three weeks ago . . . was to point up and to challenge that thing at the base of the system of white supremacy. That thing is fear. . . ."

STARTED JUNE 5

Meredith began the trek June 5 at Memphis, Tenn., 225 miles north of Jackson. He was wounded by a blast of birdshot from a shotgun the next day near Hernando, Miss., after covering 27 miles. A white man, Aubrey Norvell, of Memphis, was charged with attempted murder and is free on a $25,000 bond in the case.

King and other national civil rights figures rushed in to take up the marathon mission, turning it into a Negro voter registration crusade. They led the marchers off U.S. 51—the route planned by Meredith — and meandered through the heavily Negro-populated delta area.

A sidetrip by auto to Philadelphia, Miss., for a rally unleashed violence and a task force from the march returned to the east central Mississippi town last Friday for a two-mile walk to the courthouse under heavy police guard.

Meredith recuperated from his wounds in New York, where he is a law student at Columbia University. He walked at the front of Sunday's final procession for a while but he had to drop out and ride ahead in an auto because his leg, still not healed from the birdshot wounds, began swelling.

HAILS MEREDITH

At the Capitol, King, who heads the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, hailed Meredith, saying, "it was his bravery, his majestic scorn of crippling fear that originated this march."

Among the whites joining the final day's procession were AFL-CIO Vice-President Walter Reuther and Justice Michael

Peace Efforts Continue—Rusk

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) U.S. State Secretary Dean Rusk told the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization today that the United States will continue its "persistent efforts" to move the war in Viet Nam from the battlefield to the conference table.

Speaking at the opening of the annual meeting of SEATO's council of ministers, Rusk said the United States deeply regretted "that the Soviet Union has seen fit to give both moral and material support to aggression against South Viet Nam."

"What we should like to see them do is to take up their duties as co-chairman (with Britain of the Geneva conference on Indochina) and help the Geneva machinery establish peace in Southeast Asia," he said.

He said that in due time the Chinese mainland will have a government more compatible with the abilities and great traditions of the Chinese people.

At a closed session in the afternoon, Foreign Minister Tran Van Do of South Viet Nam told the foreign ministers 36,000 Viet Cong had switched to the Vietnamese government side in the last year, informants said.

They added that Rusk thought the report important enough that he deferred until Tuesday his own speech to permit Do to speak.

WIRE BRIEFS

Apology by Healey

(See story Page 18)

LONDON (UPI)—British Defence Minister Denis Healey today formally apologized for his personal remarks about French President Charles de Gaulle in a weekend speech. Healey told the House of Commons, "I did not intend any personal discourtesy."

Dockers Still Out

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto dockworkers who walked out Friday protesting a liquor charge against a checker voted unanimously against going back to work for the first shift today.

Continue Fight

SAIGON (Reuters) — The moderate Buddhist leader, Thich Venerable Tam Chau said today that Buddhists would continue their struggle against South Viet Nam's ruling generals, using non-violent means.

Theological Beatniks

MILTON, Ont. (CP) — A Roman Catholic priest says those who support the theory that God is dead are "theological beatniks." Rev. J. P. Lardie of Hamilton made the statement while preaching the first sermon in the new Holy Rosary Catholic Church here.

Gangster Aide Held

MONTREAL (UPI) — Joseph V. Asaro, former lieutenant for Cosa Nostra chieftain Joseph (Joe Bananas) Bonanno, was being held in Montreal's Bordeaux Jail today following his arrest by the RCMP on immigration violations.

Interior IWA Eyes Coast Pay

SMITHERS (CP) — The big Interior membership of the International Woodworkers of America (CLC) is expected to seek parity with coastal woodworkers when they open negotiations for a contract renewal in 1967. Thir present contract runs until September next year.

Spokesmen for the Interior group have indicated that a major point will be parity with Coast lumber workers, now voting on acceptance of a recommended increase of 40 cents an hour across the board over two years plus numerous fringe benefits.

The 120 coastal timber operators have not indicated whether they will accept or reject the recommendations made by industrial inquiry commissioner Mr. Justice Nathan Nemetz of the supreme court. They apparently will await the outcome of the IWA coastal membership vote.

Interior IWA spokesmen say the parity demand would include a single bargaining agency plus an equal wage scale. The current Interior basic wage in the Williams Lake area is $2.17 an hour with an increase to $2.26 due in January.

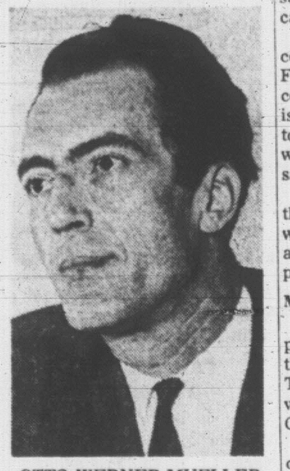
Present basic rate for coastal IWA workers is $2.17 an hour.

FROM SYMPHONY

Werner Mueller Resigns Suddenly

BY TERRY IZZARD

Conductor Otto Werner-Mueller dropped a bombshell in music circles today by announcing his resignation as director of Victoria Symphony Orchestra.



OTTO WERNER-MUELLER
. . . 'a stifling situation'

The sudden announcement took even his closest friends on the symphony by surprise and left a big question mark as to the orchestra's future.

First to learn of the move was symphony society president Jack Barraclough who said today: "It's going to be a great loss.

"The public of Victoria won't appreciate it until he's gone."

FINISHING YEAR

Mr. Werner-Mueller, who took on the job of musical director in 1963, will end his association with the symphony at the end of this year.

Unquestionably the most talented conductor Victoria has ever had, the 40-year-old German-born musician, said of his resignation today:

"The symphony is working on a shoestring. There's no room for improvement. It needs more money."

Not the sort of person to criticize for criticism's sake, he went on to say in an interview at his home:

"It's absolutely ridiculous the amount of money they're working on now. It's so unsure."

BEGGAR

Of himself he said: "I feel much more like a beggar than an artistic asset to the city.

"This is a stifling situation."

Mr. Werner-Mueller, whose contract runs until the end of the season next April, but who took the optional six months notice, said the symphony is sadly in need of more professional musicians.

At present, many of its 70 members are drawn from the tri-services college of music at Naden.

COLLEGE VITAL

"If the college were taken away there would be no symphony," he remarked.

For his services for a season — which last year consisted of 27 concerts in Victoria and surrounding areas — the former CBC conductor receives $11,000.

In addition, he annually conducts a number of concerts up-Island, in eastern Canada and the U.S.

A professional conductor since the age of 19, he believes the symphony cannot improve any more unless the city chips in a larger annual grant.

FIVE CENTS

Last year, Victoria's share of the cost was five cents per capita, with other Greater Victoria municipalities chipping in slightly less.

Other grants from government and individuals, and ticket sales gave the symphony a total working budget of $100,000, scarcely enough to pay musicians' wages. It left them $16,000 in the red at the end of last season.

BOGOTA, Colombia—A Communist has started a battle with Colombia's Franciscan friars over their use of an Afro-Caribbean swinging beat at masses.

The Colombian Franciscan community ordered the cumbia, a pounding native rhythm, to be played during the mass, in accordance with a freeing of the liturgy promoted by the Vatican ecumenical council.

The community also issued a long-playing record of sacred music to the beats of the watusi and twist.

"Caliban," pen-name of the Communist columnist of the newspaper El Tiempo, took the Franciscans to task for using such music in church.

Friar Fernando Uribe countered that Caliban was "hasty" and said the church would continue its musical reform but "without engaging in sensationalism."

CARACAS — Venezuelan priests discarded their cassocks Saturday and put on their "new-look" outfit of trousers, jacket and white clerical collar.

Although the cassock remains the normal dress for priests in Venezuela, the modern-style outfit has been permitted following a recent Venezuela Episcopal Anglican conference.

The cassocks must still be worn in church and during religious instruction.

A 41-year-old Spokane man who has been "doing it for 25 years" plans to start out today on a transcontinental trip—on roller skates.

And Calvin C. Bartholomew won't be travelling alone. He's taking along Kathy, his bride of five weeks, who will be driving a camper-equipped pickup in which Bartholomew will spend his nights and rainy days.

Bartholomew says the trip will take 173 days—maybe less. Anyway, he claims he can average nine miles an hour and he figures the trip will end up being 5,385 miles long.

TYNEMOUTH, England — A trawler crew member, who locked himself in the engine room Sunday, gave the crew a two-hour ride on the North Sea.

He threatened to blow up the 128-ton British trawler Wilson Line, which was about 80 miles off England's northeast coast, if anyone tried to reach him.

He then switched the engines on and put the trawler into an erratic zig-zag jig.

Finally the chief engineer cut off fuel supplies and the engines died.

The crew member surrendered after realizing the engines had stopped.

LONDON—A collection of ancient books once retrieved from a pile of waste paper today became the most expensive manuscripts in the world when they were sold at auction to a New York book dealer for £90,000 ($270,000).

The collection contained the first nine volumes of the 15th century manuscript of Ovid's Metamorphoses translated by—and believed to be in the hand of—England's first printer, William Caxton.

The price for the collection was paid by the House of El Dieff, a New York bookshop, during a sale at the London auction rooms at Sotheby's, acting for a firm of British book dealers.

Three Shot In Faith Battle

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Three young men believed to be Roman Catholics were shot in Belfast's Protestant district Sunday. One was killed, the others severely injured.

The shootings sparked fears that Protestant extremists plan to step up violence during their celebration July 12 of the Orange cause.

An emergency meeting of Labor members of Parliament was called in London to discuss the situation.

The Queen and the Duke of Edinburgh are scheduled to visit Belfast next week.

The shootings, in Malvern Street, were seen by three teenage girls. One said that the man killed, Peter Ward, 18, was shot as he lay in the road.

She said that another man was shot in the leg as he held his hands up.

There have been a series of violent incidents in Belfast this year, following conflict between the Protestant majority and the Catholic minority. Religious feeling has been one of the chief reasons why Northern Ireland has remained in the United Kingdom and refused to join the predominantly Catholic Irish Republic.

Russian Party Begins Tour With Warm Ottawa Greeting

OTTAWA (CP)—A Soviet parliamentary delegation began a shortened Canadian tour today after an airport welcome Sunday by a crowd of officials and flower-bearing children.

The 11-member delegation headed by First Deputy Premier Dmitry Polyansky is to spend about 10 days in Canada, leaving about July 5 or 6.

They originally were scheduled to leave July 9. Some events have been chopped from the tour to permit the earlier departure. Mr. Polyansky, touted as a possible future leader of Russia, will remain behind to make an automobile tour of the western grain belt. The week-long trip will start three or four days early in keeping with the changed schedule.

The Polyansky party starts its tour today, meeting Prime Minister Pearson and Conservative Leader Diefenbaker.

There'll be a round of receptions and functions, including a visit to the Commons.

MEET GRAIN OFFICIALS

Wednesday, the Russian group goes to Winnipeg to meet grain officials, followed by a three-day visit to British Columbia. Then it's back east to Montreal for a look at the world's fair site and later an Ontario visit.

The delegates, returning the visit of a Canadian parliamentary group to Russia last year, arrived in a Soviet government Ilyushin 18 turboprop.

Prior to the 19-hour flight, they were seen off in Moscow by Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and other members of the ruling politburo.

Deputy Commons Speaker Herman Batten boarded the Russian plane at Gander, Nfld.

The Speaker, Lucien Lamoureux, headed the greeting party.

Mr. Polyansky, 48, said Russia and Canada have no reason to have any conflict in the future and must work to consolidate peace and pevent war.

Mr. Lamoureux said Canada was pleased such a high-ranking official would visit Canada and hoped another would follow with an even more impressive position.

There was no indication whether this meant that Canada wants to have Mr. Kosygin pay a visit.

Most of the Canadian MPs and senators who visited Russia were on hand to pay their respects along with high-ranking diplomats.

Russ Fear Bonn Atoms

TORONTO (CP) — Russian scientist Vassily Emelyanov says a desire by the United States to give W. Germany access to nuclear arms is the main stumbling block to achieving a nuclear non-proliferation treaty.

Prof. Emelyanov, chief adviser on disarmament to the Russian government, said Sunday in an interview agreement on a treaty could be achieved at the Geneva disarmament talks if this issue could be settled.

The Soviet Union was anxious to agree not to spread its nuclear weapons among aligned countries and expected the U.S. to do the same.

Prep School Prizes Given

At Glenlyon Preparatory School's 34th annual prize-giving Friday, major awards were shared by Fred Hughes, Bruce Homer and John Hadden.

Fred Hughes won the Stockdill Prize as top academic student and shared the Morton Shield, for best all-round boy, with Bruce Homer. John Hadden won the McDowall Shield for character and conduct.

The Glenlyon awards were presented by Dean Robert Wallace of the University of Victoria.

At St. Michael's School, which held its 56th annual prize-giving Friday, the Merit Shield was presented to Michael Burling, who also won the head boy award.

The David Privett Scholarship went to James Roberts and the Mothers' Scholarship was awarded to Donald Williams. Awards were presented by Professor S. G. Pettit of the University of Victoria.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

Intermittent rain or drizzle occurred over most of the south coast of B.C. overnight while partial clearing took place in the Interior. Early morning temperatures were generally mild but clear skies allowed the mercury to drop to 35 at Smithers. A series of Pacific disturbances will maintain cool, unsettled weather over most coastal districts today and Tuesday. Interior areas will have variable cloudiness and a few afternoon and evening showers.

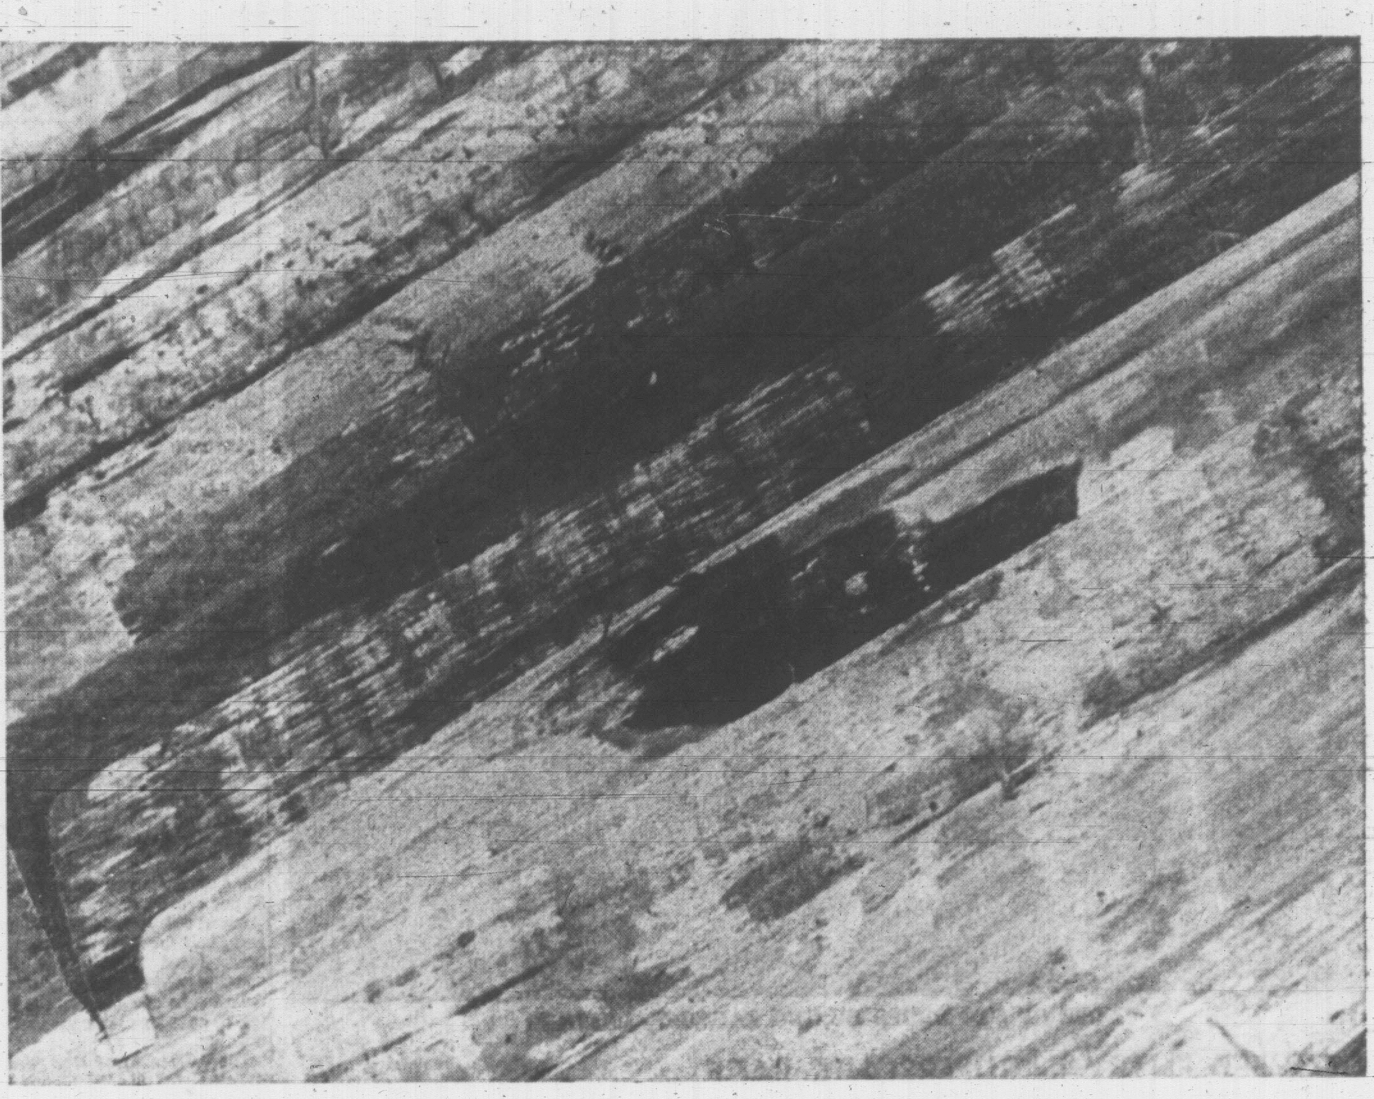
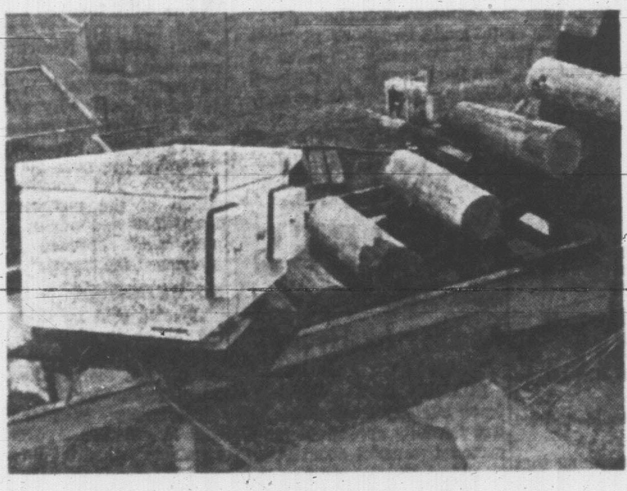
Close up!

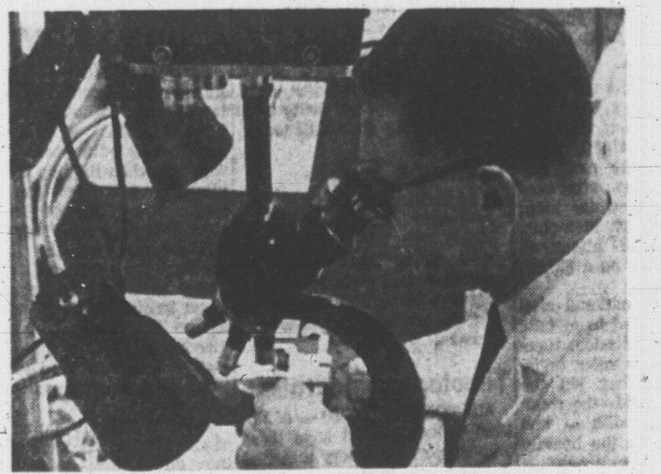


This "what-is-it?" picture shows logs on the conveyor belt at a Vancouver plywood factory as the B. C. TEL closed circuit television camera sees them. Watching a conveyor belt is an extremely tedious job. Closed circuit TV takes over this essential but dreary chore, enabling the man it replaces to move on to more productive and worthwhile work.

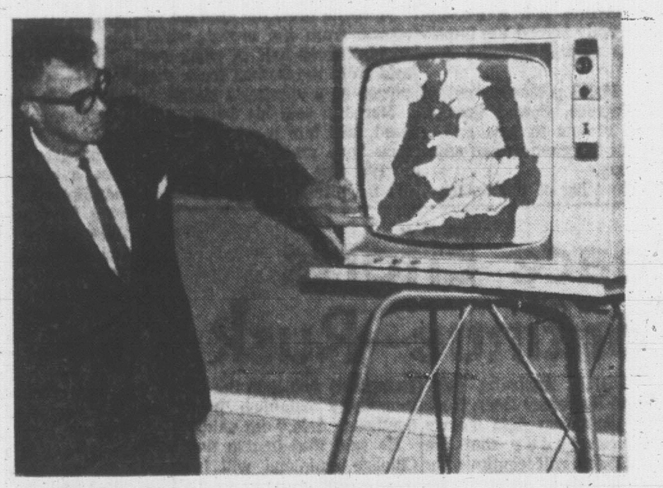


SECOND BY SECOND, HOUR AFTER HOUR, the camera scrutinizes the flow of logs into the plant—checking for size and correct positioning on the belt.

WATCHING THE PICTURE on a monitor inside the plant, this worker can slow down or temporarily halt the conveyor belt if any serious irregularities develop in the flow.



WITH NEW INDUSTRIAL APPLICATIONS increasing every month, B.C. TEL closed circuit television is also used for many public service purposes. Here it helps pathologists at a Cancer Institute. The cost of a basic installation is surprisingly low.



AT THIS BIG SECONDARY SCHOOL closed circuit TV is of growing assistance to the teaching staff. There is virtually no end to its possibilities in modern business. Check how it might help your business by calling our Marketing Department this week—naturally without obligation.

De Gaulle Sets Example

W. GERMANY SEEKS TALKS WITH RUSSIA

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

BONN (AP)—Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany says he is ready to meet with Soviet leaders here or in Moscow for talks on German problems.

Renewed interest in the possibility of such talks has developed as a result of declining East-West tensions in Europe, currently dramatized by French President Charles de Gaulle's visit to the Soviet Union.

Erhard told The Associated Press in an informal discussion of defence and foreign policy problems that Soviet leaders have a standing invitation to visit West Germany and added:

"I would also be ready to go to Moscow."

On other major issues he said:

ERHARD
. . . tensions drop

1. He opposes any major withdrawals of U.S. troops from West Germany because heavy cutbacks could increase the danger of nuclear war and undermine the sense of security of the German people.

WANTS SPACE TOOLS

2. He wants modification of the agreement under which West Germany buys arms in the United States to offset American dollar expenditures for maintaining six divisions in West Germany. He wants West Germany to obtain the right to buy peaceful space equipment as well as arms.

3. Some transitional arrangement will have to be made to cover French troops remaining in West Germany after they are formally separated from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization July 1. Erhard wants the French to stay, but a new military mission and new legal basis justifying their presence has not been negotiated with France.

4. Reunification of Germany is essential to secure peace and stability in Europe, but this cannot be obtained through the efforts of Germans alone. It also is a responsibility of the Big Four and only Russia has refused reunification, Erhard said, so the key to achieving it lies in Moscow.

PRAISED DE GAULLE

Erhard did not specify what problems he would like to take up with Soviet leaders, but there is no doubt reunification would be at the top of the list. The chancellor praised de Gaulle's handling of this issue during his mission to Moscow.

"At my last talk with de Gaulle (in February)," Erhard said, "his trip to Moscow was already decided on. He said then that he would under all circumstances represent the German point of view in the sense and to the extent that he considers reunification indispensable if peace and security are to return to Europe.

"He has done what he said. De Gaulle in this has done us good service."

Isolated China Dangerous, Pearson Tells Atom Meet

TORONTO (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson said Saturday night that China will remain a disturbing factor in the world balance of power as long as she remains outside existing international councils.

Mr. Pearson told the international assembly on nuclear weapons here that everything possible must be done to end her isolation.

The prime minister said any progress in arms control would require that China be a party to discussions on the matter. He did not refer to the United Nations, but his remarks appeared to reinforce a growing belief that Canada is leaning towards support of UN membership for China. The United States has for years led a successful campaign against the admission of China.

Mr. Pearson said Chinese leaders appear bent on achieving effective nuclear capability no matter what the cost. He insisted that measures be taken now, before China achieves that capability. He expressed concern that in the future the U.S. and the Soviet Union will increase their defence spending without achieving either increased security or international stability.

Mr. Pearson said an agreement by the two big powers not to build anti-missile defences would reduce world tension and make a better climate for disarmament negotiations.

He objected to the point of view which argues that the real issue is protective measures against the looming threat of Communist China with its nucelar potentiality.

He said China will be more conscious of her responsibility as a member of the international community if she is admitted to the UN.

Nuclear Arms Limit Urged by Conference

TORONTO (CP)—The International Assembly on Nuclear Weapons closed a four-day conference Sunday by issuing a communique calling for a treaty limiting the spread of nuclear arms.

The communique recommending the non-proliferation treaty said in part:

"In certain troubled areas such as Europe, the Middle East and Asia, the acquisition of nuclear weapons by opposing powers might indefinitely postpone the prospects of political settlements."

The treaty would have to be signed by all nations having any nuclear capability, whether for civil or military purposes."

It also called for a temporary halt to underground nuclear testing, suggesting all nuclear powers forgo testing for a trial period while earth tremors are checked through a system of challenge and invitation.

Under the proposed system, if tremors emanating from a country cannot be established as natural, the government of that country will be bound to supply either explanatory data or invite observers to investigate.

MISUNDERSTANDING

'No Discrimination' Against Storekeeper

Charges of discrimination against a downtown Chinese merchant were denied today by Ald. Michael Griffin.

Realtor C. N. Montague said Friday the installation of a parking meter on Blanshard Street wiped out a long-established loading zone outside the store of Chew Chung on the southwest corner of Blanshard and Fort.

He said this smacked of "discrimination."

Ald. Griffin immediately raised the matter with the city engineer's department.

"I think there has been a misunderstanding," he said. "The city did install a parking meter in the former loading zone on Blanshard. But it gave Mr. Chung a much larger loading zone on the Fort Street side of his store.

"This sort of thing is going on all over the city. As Mr. Chung's store is on a busy corner, it was found expedient to have the loading zone on the Fort Street side, where it also serves other stores in this block.

'NO DISCRIMINATION'

'Certainly there was no discrimination against Mr. Chung. Many city merchants have been affected this way."

ARRESTED SHIP BACK IN BUSINESS

HALIFAX (UPI)—The Liberian freighter Bordapian has been released from arrest in Halifax harbor and is loading cargo for Britain.

The 5,700-ton freighter was placed under arrest by the attorney-general's office for the Province of Nova Scotia when it arrived in port on June 18 with four survivors of a fishing trawler with which it was involved in a collision at sea. The collision occured about 70 miles south-southeast of Halifax during heavy fog early on the morning of June 18.

'Fiction Replaces Reality'

QUEBEC (CP)—Jean - Noel Tremblay, minister of cultural affairs, said Saturday that "fiction sometimes replaces reality" in the coverage of Quebec affairs by French newspapers.

"We are happy that Quebec affairs are a source of news to you and provide you with an opportunity to express opinions," he told 24 journalists, employed on newspapers in France.

"We regret, however, that fiction sometimes replaces reality."

Mr. Tremblay said Quebec residents wish that newspapers and magazines in France would provide a fuller account of the various shapes of opinion found in Quebec and explain more accurately the social, religious and political changes.

Wilson to Press War Against U.K. Leftists

By HAROLD MORRISON

LONDON (CP)—A qualified informant says Prime Minister Wilson has evidence that Communists took political advantage of the damaging seamen's strike, but did not conspire to use it as a national plot against Britain's economy.

Nevertheless, Wilson is reported prepared to tell Parliament Tuesday that events in the six-week strike, which soon may be settled, point to a need for greater vigilance against militant left-wingers who seek to seize power from union moderates.

The informant says evidence shows that moderates in the 65,000 - member union were so complacent they were unable to cope with the pressure from militant leftists, who had successfully gained so much support for the strike that a compromise reasonable to the moderates could not be accepted.

This was the proposal by Lord Pearson that the seamen's current 56-hour week be implemented next year instead of in two years as the shipowners had offered.

SEEK EXPLANATION

Wilson, angered by the hold-out, spoke in veiled terms of backstage pressures by a tightly-knit group of politically motivated men. The seamen's 48-man national executive demanded a full explanation.

Every union is aware that the 33,000-member British Communist party, of which Edmonton-born Bert Ramelson is national industrial organizer, tries to influence the course of British unions wherever possible.

Gordon Norris, a member of the seamen's negotiating committee, is a self-acknowledged Communist. Another is Jack Coward, member of the union's Victoria and Albert strike committee. Still another is Jack Dash, unofficial leader of London dockworkers.

Some British newspapers question whether Wilson will want to give Parliament a full report on infiltration since he seeks a strike settlement and wants no emotional response that would keep seamen from their ships.

WILL GIVE NAMES

Nevertheless, the informant says Wilson is preparing a long statement, ready to name individuals. He may challenge the members' judgment.

The Sunday Times suggests that along with Norris, Ramelson and Dash, Wilson may name others, including Harry Watson, Communist chairman of the Lightermen's Union.

The Sunday Observer adds that the Communist newspaper Morning Star — formerly The Daily Worker—played a role along with the Communist-dominated World Federation of Trade Unions based in Prague.

Seamen and shipowners are to resume negotiations Tuesday based on the operators' latest offer of 48 days of paid annual holiday instead of 39 in return for a seamen's pledge to step up efficiency.

YOUTH CHARGED

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Mathew Lamb, 18, was charged today with capital murder in the slaying of a 20-year-old girl and the wounding of three other persons Saturday night.

Lamb was remanded until Thursday for psychiatric examination. He was arrested Sunday following the shooting death of Edith Chaykoski and the wounding of her brother, Kenneth, 22, Grace Dunlop, 19, and Andrew Woloch, 21.

Speaking for Whom?

A CANADIAN PRESS DISpatch quotes Mr. Paddy Neale, secretary of the Vancouver and District Labor Council, as saying on June 19 at a meeting of the B.C. Federation of Labor, that judges are "political hacks" and that "the law is an ass. We must try to have it changed, but if we can't, then we may have to ignore it." He is reported also as saying: "They (judges) and the courts are biased against the trade union movement."

Most of the people of this province will agree with Attorney-General Bonner, who in reply to Mr. Neale said that "the history of the Canadian court system is a complete answer to charges of this sort."

But the charges nevertheless have been made and the threat uttered, and Mr. Neale's labor organization has not repudiated him. He is quite right to say that if the law does not suit him he should try to have it changed. But it is quite another matter for a man in Mr. Neale's position to say publicly that union members may have to "ignore" the law.

Does Mr. Neale mean that only he and his colleagues should flout the law, or is this a general principle to be applied by everyone? In either case the result could only be revolution or anarchy. No one benefits more from the rule of law than the very people—the workers of the country—whom Mr. Neale purports to represent. The history of the last century or more has been the story of the steady accumulation of legislation designed to protect the "little man" against injustice from society at large or from aggressive elements within it. If he urges disrespect for law then Mr. Neale will deal a serious blow to the welfare of trade union people.

The modern contest between labor and management—and often between labor and the public—is conducted according to rules laid down in legislation. This has been particularly necessary in the use of the strike weapon. There are rights, responsibilities and safeguards binding on all parties to labor disputes. For one party to say that it may have to ignore a portion of the law with which it disagrees is to open the whole situation to chaos.

Whether such a statement is a deliberate threat or merely a careless phrase, it is not right that the judiciary and the courts should be so treated, or the law of the land so regarded with contempt.

Mr. Neale should retract the parts of his statement which slander our judges and threaten a breakdown of law; or other responsible labor leaders should dissociate themselves and their organizations from these sentiments. The great bulk of labor people have been placed in a false position.

The Necessary Luxuries

IT IS ENCOURAGING TO READ that the new capital region board, authorized under recent legislation, has been actively pursuing one of its prime functions: namely, to acquire selected parkland sites in the area.

To date, four properties have been purchased — seafront at Island View Beach, a hilltop and other land in North Saanich, and the sand spit at Witty's Lagoon. This is an excellent start and further progress in extending the parks system will be welcomed.

It is to be noted that the main purpose of the board is to obtain ownership of the parklands, thus securing them for the future, rather than to develop them at this time. Choice locations, particularly waterfront areas, are already scarce; there is no time to be lost in preserving parks for the use of the large population which inevitably will inhabit this area in the not distant future and require many breathing spaces.

Esquimalt municipality, while supporting the principle of parks, does not support the principle of helping to pay for them, and hence does not levy the half mill rate by which the other local governments raise money for the purchases. The people of Esquimalt will, of course, be welcome to use the parks, presumably as guests of the people of the sister municipalities.

Distance Lends Enhancement

TO THE EXTENT THAT THE proposed skydeck tower has been removed from the Inner Harbor and a dominating position near the Legislative Buildings the plan has proved less objectionable to City Council and the public. Now scheduled for an area nearer the Outer Wharf which is zoned for light industry, the tower will exert less of an influence on a harbor region which certainly did not need it.

The location has not, however, freed the 325-foot viewing tower of its fair-ground flavor and it is difficult to see it as a permanent and typical part of the Victoria scene. One could wish a promotion more in keeping with the general atmosphere and tradition of a city where the unexcelled natural scenery, rather than man-made structures, has been the world-recognized attraction for visitors. If we have anything unique to preserve, we should preserve it.

'. . . In a Gilded Cage'

THE MIAMI BEACH WEDDING arrangements called for the bride to descend a specially constructed stairway, surrounded by live doves in gilded cages. A cloud machine, hired for the occasion, was to puff mist around her head. A widely circulated picture magazine had arranged to place a crew on the spot to record the occasion.

The bridegroom, having gone through the rehearsal with the comment "if I had to do it all again, I'd elope," boarded a plane and went home before the ceremony.

The whole $25,000 production went pouf without benefit of the vapor machine.

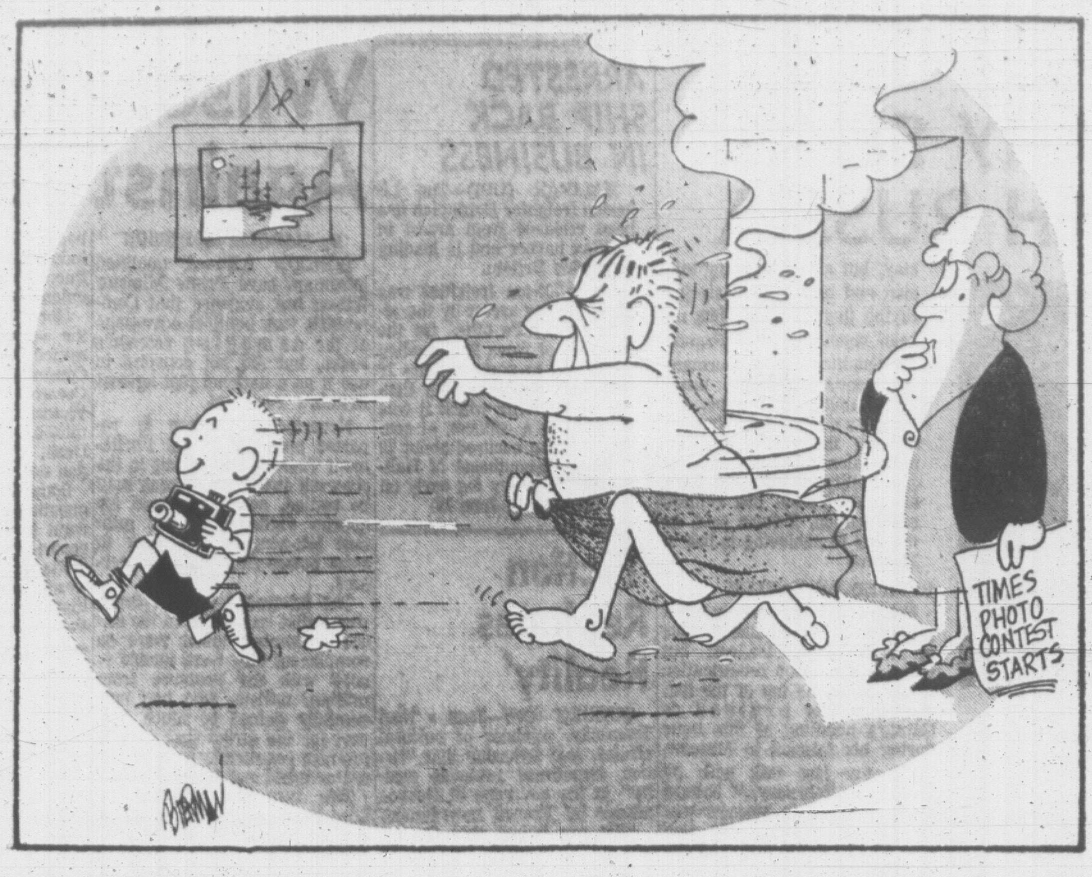
How an engaged couple — and their parents — go about arranging a wedding is their own business. But one can't escape a certain sympathy for the defaulting groom. He probably looked up the contrived staircase, noted the captive doves and possibly wondered how he'd look in a gilded cage.

Frapping Back

IT MAY NOT BE THE WAY General de Gaulle arranged the pull-out of France's air force from the NATO command, but aircraft of that country, military and civilian, will apparently be withdrawn also from Fiji.

In this instance, the initiative comes from the airport workers at Nadi International Airport who have decided to ban servicing of French planes as a protest against France's plan for nuclear-bomb testing in the Pacific.

The chief ingredient of the force de frappe is apparently going to be frapped back at.



Letters To the Editor

"An Interesting Friend"

We are very much interested in the way you edit the Victoria Daily Times. It has a "personality" of its own. Objective, to an amazing degree, selective, for a wide range of readers, and written remarkably well for deadline output.

We found ourselves agreeing and the reverse, as one would with an interesting friend. We travel at least half the year and this is our first letter to a newspaper editor.

The Jack Beastall columns are particularly unique in that they show a personal interest in the individual's problems. Also, they are not pedantic and "weary-weary" as so many old-time advice columns so often become.—Mr. and Mrs. James W. Watson.

The Needle

Before the Victoria city council permits the erection of a 325-foot structure on the site of the Net Loft restaurant or anywhere else within five miles of the waterfront, perhaps they will consider the following observations:

1. Such a structure will be visible for many miles out at sea. (This coast is already adequately served by lighthouses.)

2. It will dominate Victoria's skyline and landscape.

3. It will change Victoria's scenic character and local atmosphere from one of unique charm to one of imitative over-commercialism; "The Coney Island of the West," "Canada's miniature Eiffel Tower," etc., etc.

Surely we already have a surfeit of imitations and copies of buildings and exhibitions of other countries.

A great many of the people who live and work in Victoria, object to the erratic zoning and granting of licences, as opposed to planned development, improvement and beautification of the city.—John G. Barnett, 3141 Woodburn.

Example, Mr. Martin

In the June issue of "Within Our Borders," an Alberta government publication, it is stated that "the $26 million Foothills Hospital complex, Calgary, designed and constructed by the Alberta Department of Public Works, was officially opened June 10." This 2,000-room hospital with 13 levels is intended to serve the medical needs of Southern Alberta.

It would be a step in the right direction if the B.C. provincial government could see its way clear to undertaking the construction of hospitals where badly needed—in Victoria, for instance.—F. C. Blower, 2829 Heron.

Too Much Cynicism

Congratulations to Mr. Norman Cribbens for saying in his review on "Inside Daisy Clover" that the world is "not a garbage dump and the people in it so many flies."

He is to be commended on his insistence there is far too much cynicism and dirt in our modern films. I have noticed young people pretend to like this sort of thing, but at heart they are idealistic and are looking for something better. Carry on, Mr. Cribbens!—Old Timer.

Hard to Breathe

I know there are lots of people in Victoria with asthma like myself, but this past two weeks I've had a hard time getting my breath.

With the hope of you printing this in your paper, I may get some information on what they use to get relief.—Neil McKenna, 1709 Cook Street.

FROM OTTAWA

By MAURICE WESTERN

Starring Judy LaMarsh and the Taxpayers

Western

THE case for state culture, as outlined last week by Miss Judy LaMarsh in proposing the resolution for establishment of a Canadian film development corporation, has provoked a good deal of restlessness among the less dreamy-eyed back-benchers on both sides of the House. There is nothing novel about the subsidization of infant industries in this country, even — as in this case — where the infants are as yet unborn. (Miss LaMarsh was not exaggerating much when she said: "The fact is that there is at this moment no feature film industry in this country.") But it is by no means clear from the minister's presentation that this is the most promising infant on which to bestow the still not inconsiderable sum of $10 million.

Miss LaMarsh observed, no doubt accurately, that there are some 1,400 movie houses in Canada; that some 100 million admissions will be sold this year; and that of these only two or three in all probability will be films made in Canada by Canadians.

Undynamic

But it is interesting to hark back to the pre-war debate on the establishment of the National Film Board (which was to have only one paid employee and which, two years later, had an appropriation of less than $40,000). We then had about half our present population but, as was pointed out, the number of admissions in 1937 was 134,374,061. Miss LaMarsh does not appear to be investing in a particularly dynamic industry.

The minister blames this situation on the inadequacy of our home market; on the inundation of our movie houses with American and European films and on lack of state support. We have the knowledge and skills, the actors, the actresses and the craftsmen but our film producers have great difficulty in obtaining sufficient financing for the high risk production of feature films.

It should not be imagined, however, that the state is stepping in merely to help producers; no, indeed. "Motion pictures are an important element in our cultural life. They should serve a national purpose and reinforce our Canadian identity."

Stay-at-Homes

Miss LaMarsh offered no estimate of the number of Canadians who can be counted upon to go to the movies to reinforce their identities. Why go out when, according to Mr. Ouimet, they can do their reinforcing by staying home to watch CBC programs with 50 per cent Canadian content?

Furthermore, is it the function of entertainment to serve a national purpose? Miss LaMarsh agrees that a Canadian industry can be commercially viable only if it exports its products to the world market. But they will not win acceptance through Canadianism; only through merit. The magic name of Hollywood did not ensure the American industry against near disaster when faced in the post-war period with the competition of TV and superior European films.

India has invested large subsidies in a state supported industry but Mrs. Gandhi herself has complained of the quality of Indian films. Yugoslavia lately has won much foreign praise for her prestige films but in Yugoslav cities there are long queues outside houses showing American and British films. How is the Canadian government to ensure that the resistant consumer patronizes films which, in the corporation's view, are good for him?

Public Taste

Miss LaMarsh agrees that the production and distribution of feature films is increasingly international in character. An American film with British stars and an Austrian plot is a box-office smash, not because of its national ingredients but because people like it.

In the judgment of private investors, a Canadian feature film industry is not at the present time a promising prospect; otherwise we should have one. The state will, therefore, correct matters. The new agency will be empowered to invest in film productions which, in its judgment, "show promise of being intrinsically worthy and likely to succeed in commercial distribution." Films do not pay off on promise or on their intrinsic worth, as attested by government officials. There is one inexorable test; the box office.

However, the agency will put up part of the cost by subsidy or loan and it will share in the profits. These profits, if any, will be reinvested in other films, thus keeping the show on the road. Failing profits, we may assume that the corporation will come back to Parliament. Meanwhile it will encourage excellence by suitable awards.

Miss LaMarsh counts on "more than ordinary support" from film distributors and chains, remarking ominously that the government has decided against quotas on foreign imports "at this time." Obviously, there would be no point in quotas when as yet we have no films. Equally obviously, the distributors are supposed to do their part, or else.

The minister gave the House a few assurances of somewhat doubtful significance. It is not intended that the $10 million will be used to "make two or three men rich." Good. But no subsidy in history has even been advocated on that interesting ground.

Furthermore, Miss LaMarsh does not intend to "hand this money out as a sort of charitable assistance." It will be handed out though, to an industry which has demonstrated "that it has not been able to stand on its own feet." What won't stand must be propped; an interesting condition in which to face the world.

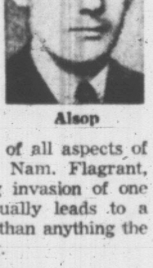
TV Competition

Feature films are expensive; the corporation's budget, though large in our terms, would barely cover the costs of an American box-office flop. The state has deemed it wise to encourage this industry at the very moment when it is getting ready to induce us all to buy color TV so that the CBC can preserve our national identity against the wiles of the foreigner. With the state as a partner in an enterprise dedicated to such noble purposes and in competition with its own most sacred corporation, we can probably assume that the initial $10 million is merely a come-on. We are going to live dangerously, culturally-speaking, and the sky will be the limit.

FROM WASHINGTON

By JOSEPH ALSOP

A Stable Base for Stepped-Up Attacks



Alsop

AT least three times since March, President Johnson has been on the verge of intensifying the bombing pressure on North Viet Nam, by authorizing such new departures as systematic attacks on the vital oil fuel stores and power stations. Now, it seems probable, the necessary order will at length be given. This is in fact a very modest step for the president to take, in view of the progressive northern take-over of all aspects of the war in South Viet Nam. Flagrant, massive and continuing invasion of one country by another usually leads to a riposte far more grave than anything the president is considering.

But the real cause for rejoicing is not the probable imminence of the president's decision to accept the oft-repeated advice of the joint chiefs of staff. The real cause is the reason for the president's decision, which is the restoration of relative political stability in South Viet Nam.

On all three earlier occasions, in brief, the needed presidential order to intensify the bombing was aborted at the last moment, by renewed outbreaks of political instability in South Viet Nam. These last months have been a hard passage for the astute South Vietnamese Prime Minister, General Nguyen Cao Ky.

Among the opponents of the president's policy, denouncing "the puppet Ky," is currently the fashion. In fact, however, General Ky has shown real independence, quite often defying or ignoring advice from the backseat drivers here in Washington. He has also shown real adroitness as well as genuine moderation in his handling of the political Buddhists and he has succeeded very well.

Improved Political Outlook

One has to add the famous remark of Napoleon's old mother: "pourvu que ca dure" — if only the success lasts! But for the moment, the political outlook in the south has vastly improved. And with luck the outlook should improve further, with the oncoming national election.

In itself, this is a fact of cardinal importance. For the intelligence is crystal clear that the war planners in Hanoi are placing their main hopes for victory on political disorder in South Viet Nam and/or mounting opposition to President Johnson here at home.

The disappointment of these hopes must be a grave blow to Hanoi. The blow comes at a bad time, too, for the actual fighting in the south has been going far worse for the Hanoi war planners than most people in this country even begin to suspect.

Intensified Efforts

Behind the confusing pattern of many big and little engagements, two facts stand out. On the one hand, throughout this winter and spring, the Hanoi war planners doubled the scale of their invasion of the south, greatly intensified their efforts in many other ways, and dangerously increased the strain on the Viet Cong infrastructure in the South Vietnamese countryside.

The purpose, beyond doubt, was to assume the offensive on a considerable scale, with far-reaching political-military results. Thus far, however — and here is the second key fact — the Communist forces in the south have everywhere failed to regain the initiative.

With extreme brilliance, General Westmoreland has instead kept the enemy continuously off balance by a remarkable series of spoiling operations. These operations have not only left the Hanoi war planners in the wretched situation of a man making huge investments and getting no return at all. In addition, they have also taken a very severe toll on the manpower and morale of the enemy forces.

Furthermore, General Westmoreland has achieved these very impressive results with a margin of strength that is still inadequate. But his margin is widening month by month. Add that the supposedly Buddhist controlled Vietnamese first division has just inflicted a severe defeat on the V.C. in Quang Tri province — which must mean that the recent disorders have affected the Vietnamese army much less than might have been feared.

With the South Vietnamese forces relatively unimpaired, and with his own margin continuously widening, it is obvious that General Westmoreland is soon going to be able to do all sorts of things which his limited resources have not previously permitted. These new departures, such as virtually permanent occupation of some of the key V.C. base areas, will bring much bigger dividends than can be got with spoiling operations.

Triple Hope

Greater pressure on North Viet Nam; still worse reverses for the V.C. and North Vietnamese troops in the south; the disappointment of Hanoi's most fondly cherished political hopes — that triple combination, if it can be realized, should produce another turning point in the war. We were on the brink of catastrophic defeat last year. We are now gaining slowly on the other side. If the turning point comes by autumn, it may even by possible to see light at the end of the tunnel.

Looking Back

From the Times of June 27, 1906:

His Worship Mayor Morley and council members drove out to Elk Lake today to investigate the possibility of introducing improvements to Victoria's present source of water. In recent days the Mayor has been investigating every potential water supply in the Highland district area, including the Sooke Lake with a view to ensuring a supply of water for years to come. It has been suggested that Elk Lake would be adequate for many years if a little care were taken in preventing loss by runoff.

MARKED for READING

PERSON TO PERSON

All works or art are, primarily, personal utterances addressed to others as persons. An artist attempts to embody in an object what he has been permitted to see of the world from his unique perspective; and what his work "means," be it a poem, a painting, or a symphony, is the outcome of a dialogue between the work and whoever is reading, looking at, or listening to it. Not only is every work of art unique, but its significance is unique for each person who responds to it.

After the Haggling, An Agreement to Talk

By JOHN BEST

West German Socialists and East German Communists will meet in mid-July to talk about some of the differences between the two Germanys.

Canadain Press reporter John Best writes about the significance of the unprecedented dialogue in this first of three articles.

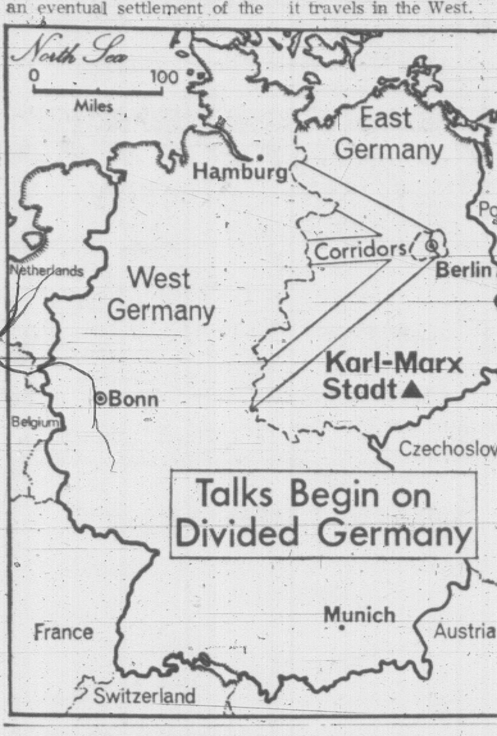
EAST BERLIN — When West German Social Democrats and East German Communists sit down to talk in Karl Marx Stadt in mid-July, they'll be performing what some regard as a minor miracle.

Their talks on issues dividing the two countries, will be the first East-West political contacts in Germany in about 20 years and the wonder is that they were ever arranged at all.

Not that anyone is expecting the dialogue to settle anything. But it could help lead to an eventual settlement of the issue of a divided Germany by creating a climate in which further, more official talks could be held.

Proposed earlier this year by the East Germans, the idea provoked a lot of haggling before agreement was finally reached toward the end of May.

Negotiations became tangled when the West Germans brought up the question of discussing the Berlin Wall. Then there was the problem of settling when and where the meeting would take place. And there was also the question of safe-conduct for the East German team when it travels in the West.



East Germany, which originally suggested May as the time of the debates, later switched to July, saying May would conflict with important provincial elections scheduled for that time in West Germany.

Some in West Germany interpreted the postponement as an indication that the Communists were getting cold feet — that they had proposed the dialogue in the first place as a propaganda stunt, not expecting the West would accept.

It was finally decided to open the meetings in East Germany July 14 and conclude in Hannover, West Germany, a week later.

Heading the West delegation going to Karl Marx Stadt, 115 miles south of Berlin, will be Mayor Willi Brandt of West Berlin, chairman of the Social Democratic party, main opposition group in the West German parliament. Party deputies Fritz Erler and Herbert Wehner are to accompany him.

Ulbricht To Go?

The East Germans haven't announced the makeup of the team that will go to Hannover. Observers are wondering whether Communist party boss Walter Ulbricht will go.

The thorniest issue on the way to settling plans for the dialogue was a West German law that holds leaders of Communist-ruled East Germany answerable for shootings at the Berlin Wall.

"Just to think, if one of our leaders went over there he could be arrested for murder," an East German official told me indignantly.

West German political leaders later agreed to work out a bill that would ensure safe conduct of the East Germans.

West Germany's Christian Democratic government, while showing no enthusiasm for the meetings, has gone along with the idea to the extent of not putting obstacles in the way.

Officials in the West are reported to be of two minds about the debates. On the domestic front they feel the advantage will go to the non-Communist side.

The East German people, they say, are far more vulnerable and receptive to Western ideas than West Germans are to Communist arguments.

Press Coverage

The fact that many East Germans are disenchanted with conditions here was recognized by the Ulbricht regime itself five years ago when it erected the wall to prevent people escaping to the West.

One condition Western negotiators insisted on was that the debates have full press coverage, including live television and radio broadcasts.

On the other hand, some West German officials are uneasy about the effect the debates will have on world opinion. The spectacle of representatives from the two German states debating on terms of equality might serve to spread the notion that East Germany is just as much a state as West Germany, a thought that conflicts with the views of the Bonn government.

A West German diplomat who has grave misgivings about the dialogue says world opinion will not take particular note of the fact that the debates are between two political parties and not between two governments

Wider Acceptance

His argument is that this will lead to wider acceptance of the idea that the two Germanys should deal with one another on unification and other questions, an idea that East Germany and the Soviet bloc have been peddling for years.

The decision on whether Ulbricht takes part may depend on how much value East Germany places on this aspect of the debates.

At the same time, East German officials believe that contacts may open prospects of wider relations with West Germany at the official level should the Social Democrats ever win power in Bonn from Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's Christian Democrats.

One issue that the debates are likely to bring into focus is that of a confederation of the two Germanys, strongly endorsed by Moscow as a means of ending the division.

West Germany has resisted the idea, continuing to insist that reunification should be accomplished on the basis of country-wide free elections.

Never Free Hand

Moreover, it dislikes the whole idea that reuinification should be threshed out between the two German states. West German officials know the Soviet Union will never give the East Germans a free hand anyway. And they insist that Moscow and the other big powers have a responsibility to reunify the country.

In other Western countries, however, there is growing belief that the confederation idea, pushed by Moscow, could at least be explored, even if it means some form of recognition of East Germany.

"We can't just pretend that it doesn't exist," said a Western diplomat.

Despite the seemingly insurmountable difficulties in which the German problem is enmeshed, the coming talks have evoked much interest in both East and West.

They represent the first concrete move to get something moving since Nikita Khrushchev planned a visit to Bonn nearly two years ago before it was upset by his removal from the Soviet leadership.

Mountainous Obstacles For Thant Peace Mission

By WILLIAM R. FRYE
Times UN Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS — The United Nations let it be known this past week that Secretary-General U Thant will visit Moscow this summer to explore once again the prospects of peace in Viet Nam.

Frye

Thant's peace program calls for three steps:

1. A halt to the American bombing of North Viet Nam.
2. A de-escalation of other fighting by all belligerents.
3. Negotiations among the parties involved, including the Viet Cong.

This plan is somewhat in advance of the public American position, as it would have to be to have any chance of acceptance by the communists.

Major Injury

It is even further removed from the communist peace terms, which also begin with a halt to the bombing but which promise no military quid pro quo and which demand acceptance, prior to negotiations, both of the political program of the National Liberation Front (Viet Cong) and of the Front as the "sole" spokesman for South Viet Nam.

A peace mission by U Thant in August or September would not be incompatible with President Johnson's current thinking on war-peace strategy.

According to those close to him, the president would like to inflict major injury on the North Vietnamese army in the Central Highlands this summer and then offer to halt the fighting for at least 30 to 60 days during and after the Sept. 11 elections in South Viet Nam.

More Pressure

If Washington was able to make its peace offer in the form of an affirmative response to an appeal by Thant, additional pressure might be generated for similar acceptance by the communists.

The Thant peace mission may also be reasonably well-timed for Saigon. If the elections for a constituent assembly do indeed take place as scheduled, they should give the South Vietnamese government a legitimacy it has not enjoyed before.

From this strengthened position, Saigon could agree to negotiations on terms it hitherto has shunned. Specifically, it could agree to sit down with the National Liberation Front without unacceptable loss of face.

The essential obstacle to peace, however, does not lie in Washington or Saigon. It lies in Hanoi's belief that it can force reunification of the country under a communist regime.

Ho Chi-Minh apparently is planning a major monsoon offensive this summer, believing the politically weakened anti-communist armies can be so badly mauled they will throw in the sponge and/or be forced out by a fed-up American public opinion.

U Thant cannot change Hanoi's state of mind by going to Moscow.

Thant's peace mission therefore faces mountainous obstacles.

What he may be able to do is to moderate the impact on Soviet-American relations of the intense, bloody and quite possibly widened, fighting to be expected this summer.

President Johnson cannot permit Ho's monsoon offensive to succeed. If it makes progress, he will be under irresistible pressure to expand the war.

Involve Russia

The great fear in diplomatic circles is that this would dynamite incipient efforts for a European-security settlement, set back hopes for long-range Soviet-American collaboration to contain China, and involve Russia much more deeply in the war.

If Thant can help avert such a disaster, he will have achieved a great deal. His maximum goal — Soviet help in whittling down Hanoi's asking price for peace — is probably unattainable from the start, short of major American military victories this summer.

His minimum goal, however — Soviet non-belligerence and continued semi-insulation of the war from the mainstream of East-West relations — is well worth seeking. And there is some reasonable hope of his achieving that much.

Pilfering Isn't All That Bad In Preposterous Viet Economy

By WENDELL MERICK

In the Alice-in-Wonderland economy of Viet Nam some experts are coming up with the view that the pilfering of goods shipped into the country for sale to American troops is not at all a bad thing.

"That's one way to get goods on the market," said an economist. "And that helps put the brakes on the inflationary trend.'

The trouble is that local businessmen have been holding back goods in already overcrowded warehouses until consumer demand gets higher and higher prices can thus be charged. The crowded warehouses have in turn caused a shipping problem, with vessels unable to unload their cargoes.

Becoming Critical

Now American officials in Saigon are prodding the Vietnamese government to do something about these reluctant merchants. Up to now the Vietnamese have been loath to take a firm line with the commercial community but the situation is now becoming critical, in the view of the Americans.

Another instance of Viet Nam's topsy-turviness is the idea that the black market in both U.S. dollars and gold is beneficial for the economy. These smuggling activities are described as "escape valves" holding down the pace of the inflation, which struck with full force last autumn when the United States introduced Military Payment Certificates (MPCs) in an effort to reduce the amount of dollars freely available in Viet Nam.

The best thing for Viet Nam would, of course, be a boom in domestic production. That is something the future may or may not hold. Second best is the import program, but that has not worked out too well. Third best, economists admit, and perhaps the most realistic is the black market.

"The black market in dollars helps the few with money. Without it, prices would skyrocket and this would hurt the majority."

Again it is thought that bringing in gold has a healthy effect. It is a form of national wealth as long as the gold is kept inside Viet Nam, as appears to be happening. Smuggling is accomplished by the traditional routes of airliners from Europe and ships from Hong Kong. But there are the less conventional methods — overland to French plantations from Laos and Cambodia. With typical Oriental faith the Vietnamese are buying gold at the rate of about $5 million a month.

A U.S. Congressional committee would be shocked if anyone had suggested the unconventional methods officials here rely on to keep the economy from falling apart.

The great problem is the enormous increase in the money Vietnamese have to spend as a direct result of the presence of nearly 300,000 American troops in the country. There is a shortage of skilled and semi-skilled labor; even unskilled labor has no problem in finding work at wages undreamed of 18 months ago.

The Americans hoped that putting servicemen on MPCs (convertible into piastres at the rate of 118 to the dollar) would help put the lid on the circulation of dollars — on the "Green Imperialism" as anti-American newspapers here described the invasion of the green-backed dollar last year.

Some American officials were against MPCs at first, because it would drive up the price of the dollar on the black market. It did just that, but those officials now concede that MPCs had a beneficial effect. There are just as many dollars floating around as there were 18 months ago, but the amount would have reached astronomical levels if the American troops had free access to dollars to peddle.

Piastres in Demand

One of the contradictions in the Viet Nam economy is that with the amount of Vietnamese piastres in circulation at an all-time high, there is still not only poverty here but the government itself is in a sense bankrupt. The Vietnamese economy is solid only as long as Uncle Sam provides the foundation.

But somewhere along the line the piastre is in demand. In Hong Kong the piastre is significantly stronger on the legal money exchange than it is here in Viet Nam. This is one instance — the only one that comes to mind — where a better exchange rate is not available in Hong Kong.

Someone, say sources here, is buying up piastres in Hong Kong. For what reason no one seems to know. But it is another intriguing aspect of the rather preposterous economic scene in Viet Nam.

DOUBLE IMAGE IN THE VALE

By WARREN UNNA
The Washington Post

SRINAGAR, India—The Vale of Kashmir, one summer later, is a combination of idyllic shikaras ferrying their sofa cushioned passengers through houseboat-lined canals and snow peak rimmed lakes—and bayonet-armed soldiers standing behind sandbag barricades at all the bridges.

The Kashmiris say it is quieter than last year when there was a disconcerting rustle before the Pakistanis attacked in August in their attempt to wrest the territory away from India. Four caches loaded with Pakistani arms have been discovered during the past three weeks, but they are believed to be caches which were secreted last fall.

Military Buildup

Yet Ghulam Mohammad Sadiq, chief minister of India's northernmost state of Jammu and Kashmir, is uneasy. In an interview he said he has had increasing reports of new military buildups in Pakistan Kashmir, on the other side of the United Nations policed cease-fire line.

When a would-be assassin tried to throw a hand grenade at Sadiq a while back, the tourists started cancelling their summer reservations. For a moment it looked like idleness for this valley's fabulous houseboats, the elongated mansions on rafts complete with peaked Victorian windows, dining rooms and fireplaces which date back to the days of the summering British colonial masters.

Fears Overcome

But the lure of the valley apparently has overcome the fear of unpleasant disquiet and the tourists now are here in droves, cooling off from the Indian plains to the south which now are at oven temperature awaiting their monsoon dousing.

The tourists aren't bothered by political unrest because the government of India has all the leading malcontents locked up. Kashmiris, known for emotional exaggeration, report there are anywhere from 60 to 2,000 political prisoners now in the pokey. But Sadiq, who in addition to his other duties also is home minister, told me that the prison list which totalled 1,200 after last fall's attack, now is down to precisely 159. Some of them were implicated in Pakistani-sponsored sabotage and the rest are members of political factions which have been agitating for greater freedom for Kashmir from India.

House Arrest

The only real nationalist leader, Sheik Mohammed Abdullah, endearingly referred to here as "Sheikh Sahib," is under house arrest in Madras State, the whole length of India away from this bountiful valley.

The government is not anxious to see the sheikh released. "It would mean an increase in the tension," Sadiq explained.

He is not afraid that the sheikh's plebiscite front followers will make life difficult for the Congress Party government in next year's all-India elections.

"They have no faith in the Indian constitution so in any case they will not fight the elections," Sadiq explained.

Sadiq, along with most members of his cabinet, used to be ardent followers of the sheikh. If he was liberated today the New Delhi blessed Sadiq cabinet might well be liberated from its job.

Kahmir's chief minister thinks an independent Kashmir which many of the sheikh's followers now want, "is a very pleasing idea. But it would create a political vacuum and we would become a sort of cockpit of international intrigue."

Instead Sadiq thinks future stability means catering to Kashmir's farmers, who account for 95 per cent of the nearly four million people in the state, and helping them develop cash crops and agriculture-based industries to free them from their summer tourist-based economy.

No Illusions

He thinks this would take care of the discontent which simmers during Kashmir's idle winter months. But Sadiq is under no illusion that he can dispense with the bayoneted guards behind their sandbag barricades at the bridges. He thinks they will go only when Pakistan gives up her hopes of gaining this valley.

So that means this valley is fated to go on living its double role of picture postcard idyllicism punctuated with vigilant bayonets.

Dutch Provos Challenge Establishment

By COLIN LEGUM

THE HAGUE — The recent riots in Amsterdam sparked off by a strike of building workers have brought the provos into national prominence for the third time in a year.

The provos—short for provocateurs—are the beatniks of the Netherlands. Both men and women dress in white. They are mostly young intellectuals from good homes, between the ages of 18 and 30, and their protest is against a society which they feel has no place for young people.

Provos are opposed to authority. Their methods are to harass and provoke the authorities in every part of the Establishment—from the Royal Family to the policeman on the beat.

They came into prominence for the first time as demonstrators against the marriage in March of Crown Princess Beatrix to Herr Claus von Amsberg, a German who had been a member of the Hitler-Jugend (Nazi youth movement).

But their major impact came as a result of their decision to take advantage of the lowering of the voting age—now 21—to enter their own list of candidates for the Amsterdam municipal council earlier this month. For weeks before the elections they turned the city upside down, inviting arrest, popping in and out of prison, provoking the police, the magistrates and the electoral and civil authorities.

Dispersed by Force

Many provo antics were genuinely funny—as when they solemnly paraded round and round a prison in which one of their candidates was detained dressed in gas-masks and garish scarves, and carrying old walkie-talkie radios, rockets, an outsize rasp so blunt it couldn't file through a fingernail, a collection of ironmongery, candles and pamphlets. But the police were not amused when the demonstrators clambered up the walls and gate. The provos were dispersed by force, and some were arrested.

But provos are not simply anarchists. Their program for municipal reform was constructive—it included a "proposal" for painting all the buildings in the city white. White is their magical, virginal color. They are at war over air pollution and demand the abolition of all traffic from the centre of Amsterdam. Dirt, noise and traffic are their immediate targets.

Their most successful election gimmick was to provide a number of bicycles—painted white, of course—to be used freely by whoever needed a conveyance. When the journey was completed the bicycle was simply abandoned for the next person who came along to pick it up. The idea was to popularize the idea of communally-owned cycles to replace motorcars.

One of their less successful acts has landed a prominent provo in prison for three months. He was held responsible for a pamphlet proposing that a bomb should be placed in a tunnel—not yet started—under a canal to provide new outlets for traffic. Another provo sent to prison is the wife of the Dutch chess champion, Jan Hein Donner; he promptly refused to represent his country in South Africa because of the absence of "freedom," not in South Africa, but in Holland.

Leading Member Returned

That the provos have to be taken seriously was shown by their success in winning enough votes in the Amsterdam elections to get their leading member, Bernhard de Vries, returned to the municipal council. He has been there for just over a fortnight; the citizens are waiting to see how a rebel behaves within established authority.

The provos are concentrated in Amsterdam but they have their supporters in all large Dutch towns.

Political leaders of all parties, though irked by the provos' methods, agree they must be taken seriously as a social phenomenon signifying frustration among the youth of Holland. But few seem to have any constructive idea of how to deal with them and most politicians hope that the provos are a passing phenomenon.

What makes provos unique among the beatnik groups around the world is that they have political ideas and are willing to participate in politics—even if they insist on bending the rules to meet their own ideas of electioneering.

GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — An upturn in prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today reflected broad advances in some commodities on the Chicago market.

Winnipeg oilseeds, especially rapeseed, followed gains posted in Chicago soybeans which advanced to the daily limit. There were no reports of export business in oilseeds.

Trading in oats and barley was moderate, with fair buying in barley by shippers but no concrete reports of export sales.

Rye responded to Chicago rye advances stemming from favorable crop reports and general optimism on U.S. markets.

Export loadings of Canadian wheat included 2,135,000 bushels to the Soviet Union and 40,000 to Japan.

CHICAGO (AP) — Five of the seven soybean futures contracts were up the limit of 10 cents a bushel allowed for a single trading day but offerings still were scant in the early afternoon.

Brokers said the active trading included both speculative and commercial support. It was the second time within a week that the 10-cent limit had been hit in the pit but it was the first time for the new crop months.

Potash Search Begins

WALLACE, N.S. (CP) — The Atlantic Development Board and the Nova Scotia government are srarting drilling in their search for potash.

Crews spent the weekend here unloading 470 tons of drilling equipment from the 1,961-ton freighter Chesley A. Brosbie of St. John's, Nfld.

The rig is bound for an abandoned farm five miles east of this Northumberland Strait fishing village of 300.

Gordon Gillis, drilling foreman for Petrolia Drilling Contgactors Ltd. of Calgary, said Sunday he expects to start the drill in four or five days.

Dr. R. A. Cameron of the mineral engineering department of Nova Scotia Technical College said the drilling is getting underway in this area because "it appears the most favorable from present knowledge."

ENCOUNTER POTASH

Some potash has been encountered in the Canadian Rock Salt Co.'s salt mine at Pugwash, 10 miles west of here, and in an abandoned salt mine at Malagash, about seven miles east of here.

Dr. Cameron, an Edmonton native who grew up in Halifax, is employed by the joint ADB-mines department project and is preparing geological maps of the area. He said the joint project started more than a year ago. Geophysical and geological surveys were conducted and shallow test drilling was done to about 1,000 feet early this year in the Wallace area and at nearby River Philip.

This shallow drilling was to test the ground structure.

Saskatchewan, leader in Canadian potash production, has mines at less than 3,000 feet.

Potash is the major ingredient used in the production of agricultural fertilizer.

Dr. Cameron said construction of a fertilizer plant would not necessarily follow development of a potash mine, but he felt such a plant would be a natural consequence.

With the company, besides Mr. Gillis, are an engineer and a crew of seven, and seven men hired in this area. The plan is to work the drill around the clock in three shifts.

There was no firm estimate on how long the drilling will take.

Dr. Cameron said there are plans to drill again in East Wallace whether or not potash is found at the site now being tried.

'BOOZE PUSHERS?'

TORONTO (CP)—William H. Temple, treasurer of the Ontario Temperance Federation, says Air Canada is converting its hostesses into barmaids.

"It is sad to see one of the finest airlines in the world throwing moral standards overboard in order to promote the sale of booze," Mr. Temple said Sunday in a speech at Donlands United Church.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Prices Move Lower

Prices continued to move lower near the close of business on both the Toronto and New York stock exchanges.

Vancouver reported mixed trading with volume staying up.

IN TORONTO Alcan and Consolidated Paper dropped 1 each to 39¾ and 38⅜ in the main list. Bank of Montreal, Royal Bank and Salada Foods eased ⅜ each to 58¼, 73¼ and 10⅝ respectively.

Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce fell ⅜ to 63½.

Falconbridge and Inco advanced ¼ each to 90½ and 96¼ among senior base metals. Cominco climbed ⅝ to 40⅝.

AT NEW YORK volume to 2:30 p.m. was estimated at 5,600,000 shares, compared with 7,140,000 Friday.

Prices advanced moderately during the morning but gradually fell.

The aircrafts, electronics and airlines led the downturn.

Douglas slumped more than 5 points. Zenith fell more than 2 points.

Losses of better than 2 points were taken by Pan American World Airways, American Airlines and Eastern Air Lines.

U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic and Jones and Laughlin held onto their gains of half a point.

AT MONTREAL utilities were up but most other sections moved fractionally lower in light trading. Industrial volume to 2 a.m. was 65,800 and mines and oils 580,400. Banks were off. Montreal dropped two points to 58 and Nova Scotia one point to 70.

Papers moved to lower levels. Consolidated slid 1¼ to 38¾.

Industrials were down with Du Pont and Imperial Tobacco each easing ⅛ to 43 and 19 respectively.

IN LONDON the stock market was quiet today.

Leading industrials sagged a little but selective buying brought some gains elsewhere in equities. Gilt-edge securities were lower.

Dollar stocks were lower. Canadian Pacific was steady and other Canadians to firm up were Algoma, BA Oil, Canadian Husky and Brazilian Traction. On the dull side were Consolidated Paper, Consolidated Mining, International Nickel, Noranda and Trans-Canada Pipe Line.

IN VANCOUVER Sileurian Chieftain led mining trade, and was up six cents to .70. It had gone as high as .78 earlier in the day.

Native was up to a new high of .55, a climb of a nickel.

Dynasty was among the losers. It dropped .50 to $10.75 and had gone as low as $10.62. Croydon was off three to a new low of .57, and Nadina was off two to a new low of $1.79. Pacific Silver hit a new low of 16 cents, off three.

Brenda was up .60 to $7.80 and Chataway added .10 to $1.15.

Negotiations For Gas Progressing

TOKYO (AP) — Negotiations are progressing satisfactorily on the purchase of natural gas from Alaska, a spokesman for Tokyo Gas Co., said Monday.

Details as to the amount and terms of a contract to be signed with a group of American oil companies will be released about the middle of July, the spokesman said.

He said under present plans Tokyo Gas Co., will buy about 960,000 tons of liquefied gas annually but the amount will depend on how much Tokyo Electricity Co., will be able to consume for power generation. He said the two firms will divide the purchase. Tokyo Electricity will take the greater part, he said.

The spokesman said the first shipment is expected to arrive in Japan about two years hence when facilities and ships are expected to be completed.

"I can't say when the contract will be signed but negotiations are progressing smoothly," he said, adding further details must await announcement in July.

Bank on Wheels Stirs Storm In S. Africa

JOHANNESBURG (AP) A bank on wheels has stirred up a storm in South Africa's staid and proper banking world.

The country's newest bank, the Bank of Lisbon and South Africa, startled its rivals by introducing a door-to-door service for customers. An armored car will call on request at customers' premises to handle deposits and withdrawals.

The police welcomed the move, saying it could reduce payroll robberies. But several other banks, led by the large Standard Bank of South Africa, angrily condemned the move as "nothing but a gimmick, completely unorthodox and out of line with accepted banking principles in South Africa."

There were annoyed that the gentleman's agreement under which "no one introduces anything new without first discussing it with the others" was ignored.

Standard Bank Chairman Guy Edmunds in a letter to the Bank of Lisbon and South Africa warned that his bank "could not stand aside and see the deposits of our customers being taken over by your institution as a result of the service which you have introduced."

He did not say, however, what his bank planned to do other than that it would not start a similar door-to-door service.

False Teeth on Cars!

DETROIT (AP) — Automobiles are being fitted with "false teeth."

Also with "bird baths" and "chili bowls."

Slang expressions such as these have been compiled into a list by workers at a Chrysler Corp. assembly plant here.

Auto parts by the hundreds have been renamed to correspond with something similar in shape, appearance or behavior.

It makes it easier for workers to understand each other and saves time in work where speed is important.

Rather than ask for "the steering wheel horn button assembly" and be met by a blank stare, they just say "false teeth."

The teeth, in this case, are nylon inserts for headlight rims. "Bird baths" are drainage fittings for folded convertible tops.

There's also "popcorn" which means nylon inserts that bracket rivets and screws.

"Cat whiskers" are strips of hairy weather stripping that hug the sliding side windows of a car.

"Spaghetti" means wiring behind the instrument panel; "goose-neck" is the gasoline tank filler tube; "wishbone" the upper control arm of the front wheel; and "garnish" the car's molded brightwork."

It might interest drinkers to know that "whisky box" is the console in bucket-seat sports cars, and "red eye" is the high beam indicator light.

DEAN of public relations in Canada, Walter S. Thompson, retired CNR director of public relations, died Saturday while en route to a Montreal hospital. He was 80 years old. In 1939 when King George VI and Queen Elizabeth toured Canada, the Queen Mother said at the end of the tour: "There is one person we wish we didn't have to leave behind, Walter Thompson."

BILLION-BARREL 'POOL' SOUGHT

CALGARY (CP) — The search for oil in the Arctic islands is on again after a pause by exploration firms. Their goal: "The big one — the billion-barrel pool."

"It's there all right," says one exploration engineer. "That big or bigger. It's just a question of who finds it first and when and where."

Among major projects are a $30,000,000 joint exploration program being considered by more than two dozen companies and a 1,100,000-arce exploration survey started by a French firm in March.

Geologists first moved into the islands in 1959. By 1964 three costly wells had been drilled, then abandoned. Then companies paused and land holdings dropped to 41,000,000 acres from 57,000,000.

Now federal exploration permits cover 63,000,000 acres in what Dr. J. C. Sproule describes as "one of the largest, if not the largest, known untapped oil and gas basins on earth."

His company, J. C. Sproule and Associates, proposed the joint exploration group which would hold a reported 70 per cent of the barren land now covered by permits.

SHIPPING IS PROBLEM

Dr. Sproule predicts that the cost of finding oil will be cheap in the end because of expected rich discoveries. But some oil men are less confident that the problem of moving the oil will be easily solved.

They point to the abandonment of Mobil Oil's $10,000,000 project on the Arctic mainland, 100 miles north of Dawson City, as an example. Mobil quit in October, deciding it wasn't worth building a pipeline.

"And they were a lot nearer civilization than we would be up in the islands," said one engineer. "That's the only trouble with the islands, you've got to make a good find to make it worth it."

However, the mines and technical surveys department has said pipeline construction appears feasible and, because of the short shipping season, seems to be the only solution.

Major holdout from the Sproule project is Petropar Canada Ltd., a company controlled by the French government and the largest landholder in the islands with more than 14,400,000 acres.

Petropar has a seismic underground mapping survey under way on Mackenzie Island. It conducted preliminary surveys in 1964 and 1965 and plans to wrap up the present survey in mid-August.

But the exploration picture to date has been all dollars and no barrels. Oil men working on the northern mainland have had more luck; both oil and gas have been found.

Burmah Oil, Great Plains and other companies sank a well near Resolute on Cornwallis Island in 1963. It ate up $1,300,000 — the total budget for two wells — and then was abandoned.

That, says a Great Plains engineer, is what makes "share-the-risk" exploration vital. The company is considering offering its close to 4,000,000 acres for farm-out in the joint project.

Transportation costs were a major factor in the Cornwallis Island well. Oil engineers now are counting on lighter drilling rigs and use of freighter aircraft to hold down the bills.

MEN DEMAND LEMONADE OR THEY WON'T WORK

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP) — Employees of the Parkdale Works of the Steel Company of Canada, Ltd., returned to work today—but there were no guarantees they would stay on the job.

Demands for lemonade and complaints about the heat caused a walkout at the plant last Thursday.

On Friday the workers first returned, but left the plant again during the day.

The company subsequently cancelled all shifts from Friday midnight until 7 a.m. today.

A meeting between management and the United Steelworkers of America, which represents the about 500 employeess, will be held to discuss the situation.

One official said that several years ago lemons or lemonade were served at the plant during periods of extreme heat.

The company manufactures nails and wire.

Man. Adds $5 Million To Centennial Costs

WINNIPEG (CP)—Rising material and labor costs have pushed the estimated bill for the centennial Manitoba Arts Centre from $11,500,100 to $16,400,000, Maitland Steinkopf, chairman of the Manitoba Centennial Corporation, said today.

In mid-1964 the corporation had prepared a budget for an $11,500,000 downtown project. But this was revised when the Winnipeg Art Gallery decided to withdraw from the project.

The centennial corporation then drew up plans for a $13,500,000 centre, including a $5,000,000 concert hall, a planetarium, museum and museum research centre.

But, Mr. Steinkopf said, rising costs have pushed the contract price for the concert hall to $6,900,000, including furnishings and landscaping.

Mr. Steinkopf estimated the planetarium, museum, museum research centre, exhibits, equipment and parking facilities would cost $6,500,000.

The chairman said land costs will likely reach $2,000,000 and further $1,000,000 can be expected in material and labor inflation.

Mr. Steinkopf said commitments by the federal and provincial governments will cover the cost increase.

Czechs May Purchase West Planes

PRAGUE (Reuters) — Czechoslovakia appears likely to be the first of the East European countries to buy Western jet airliners.

British and American aircraft salesmen hope this may be the spearhead of a sales breakthrough in the region.

Representatives of the British Aircraft Crop., Douglas and Boeing have all made recent visits to Prague, and the British have high hopes of selling the super VC-10 to Czechoslovak Airlines.

The sleek new airliner with its four rear-mounted engines is believed to be particuairly suitable for the Czechoslovak long-distance routes to Havana and Peking.

There has been talk of packages of three aircraft for $33,000,000.

Whichever of the planemakers wins the contract, the Western jets will be flying in and out of East European airports where only Russian Ilyushin and TU-104 and TU-124 jets have been resident, except for a few British propeller-driven Viscounts used by Poland, mainly on its London route.

National Power Grid Proposed by Ottawa

ST. ANDREWS-BY-THE-SEA, N.B. (CP) — The case for a national power grid was put strongly today by Jack Davis, parliamentary secretary to Mines Minister Pepin.

"By national power grid I mean the construction by Ottawa of certain high voltage, long-distance power transmission lines," Mr. Davis told the Canadian Construction Association.

"Sites such as those in Labrador, northern Manitoba and the Yukon will only be economic if they are developed with a large market in mind," he said.

A single province might never be able to handle the financing.

One example was the Nelson River project in Manitoba, in which Ottawa had already agreed to construct, finance and own a $120,000,000 high-voltage, long-distance line that would take power 600 miles south to Winnipeg. Some of this power might go to Ontario and Saskatchewan, with any surplus sold in the U.S. mid-west.

Provinces like British Columbia, which would have an export surplus for years to come, "might well take note." The cost of nuclear power was coming down. There was need for haste in development, he said.

3 Presidents Installed By Optimists

Three Optimist Club members were installed as presidents of city clubs Saturday night in a ceremony in the Ingraham Hotel.

They are: David Nolli, Oak Bay Optimist Club; Jack Metcalfe, Evening Optimist Club; and Al Davidson, Noon Optimist Club.

Bill Holmes, lieutenant-governor elect of local Optimist Clubs, officiated at the installation, and was presented with a life membership. Mr. Holmes takes office July 1.

TROPHY

The lieutenant-governor's trophy for best membership drive was presented to the Evening Optimist Club by Harry Youson, present lieutenant-governor.

Entertainment was provided by singer Jock Dunbar, accompanist Melissa Hill and magician Don Robinson.

Holiday Schedule At Post Office

Postmen, too, will take a rest on the Canada Day holiday.

Mail delivery, including rural mail routes, money order, savings bank and wicket services will be curtailed Friday.

Normal holiday service will be provided for special delivery and mail receipts and despatches.

Mailbox collection will be made in the evening only, and the post office box lobby will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

$190 Stolen From Wallet

A man who stole $190 in cash from a chance acquaintance in a beer parlor will be sentenced for theft July 4.

Gordon Gogal, no address available, pleaded guilty in central court Friday. A police constable searching the accused early on the morning of June 17 found a wallet and the money, belonging to John Hughes.

Gogal said he took the wallet after Hughes fell asleep when the two men went to a house party.

300 Hunt for Girl

WHITESHELL, Man. (CP) — Some 300 persons are continuing to search for a nine-year-old girl, Kimberley Anne McLean of Winnipeg, missing for a week in this area 100 miles east of Winnipeg. She was last seen heading for a lake for a swim, clad only in a bathing suit.

Public Apathy: The Enemy That Never Surrenders

A doctor's greatest enemy is public apathy.

Some people don't seem to wan, what's good for them.

This message came across crystal clear in the report Friday of the Cytology ing Program to the grand council of the Canadian Cancer Society at its annual meeting.

The report deals with the battle against carcinoma of the cervix—cancer of the mouth of the uterus.

Up to now 49 women could be expected to suffer this affliction every year in a city the size of metro Victoria.

Now through a screening process known as a Papanicolaou smear the cancer can be detected in time and the incidence of the disease slashed dramatically to one-seventh the previous rate.

But despite a massive program of publicity only two-thirds of the women in B.C. have undergone the screening.

And a special survey found that almost one-quarter of B.C. women had never heard of the test.

The survey discovered that "a higher percentage of the unscreened population come from the larger urban areas and from the lower mainland, that they were in the lower socio-economic groups and tended to have a poorer educational background.

City Man Third

A young Victoria Sikh placed third in the first year section of the annual provincial lumber grading examinations.

Amerjit Ball, 3031 Albany Street, was awarded $25 from the F.C. Manning Memorial Price Fund by the B.C. Lumber Manufacturing Association.

Smoking Cause Of Lung Disease In Test Canines

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Emphysema, a lung disease with a death rate increasing faster in the United States than that of any other single disease, has been produced experimentally in cigarette-smoking dogs, a medical research team reported today.

At two smoking sessions daily, for more than a year, the dogs inhaled cigarette smoke through hollow plastic tubes inserted in their windpipes.

In a report to the general scientific session of the annual meeting of the American Medical Association, the researchers said:

" . . . The inhalation of smoke directly from cigarettes by dogs causes destruction of lung tissue indistinguishable pathologically from that found in human emphysema."

The U.S. Public Health Service has reported that the death rate for emphysema, increased sixfold between 1953 and 1963.

SAYS NOT COMPARABLE

The Tobacco Institute, Inc., commenting on the study, said the method used "is not at all comparable to human smoking conditions."

"Therefore, the results cannot be interpreted as having any relation to the possible effects of human smoking."

The study was headed by Dr. Oscar Auberach of the Veterans Administration Hospital, East Orange, N.J., and E. Cuyler Hammond, in the statistical research section of the American Cancer Society.

They reported that they attempted to duplicate human cigarette smoking as closely as possible.

DISLIKED FIRST SMOKE

The dogs initially behaved like a child smoking his first cigarette. There was profuse salivation, coughing, dilation of the pupils, redness and tears in the eyes and sometimes nausea and dizziness.

After a week or so, the dogs showed signs of enjoying smoking as evidence by tail wagging and voluntarily jumping into the smoking box.

On the 24th day an apparently healthy dog, which appeared to have good tolerance for smoke, was found dead in its cage. Four others died between the 229th and 415th days of the experiment, at which time the remaining five dogs were put to death and their lungs were examined.

The group reported observing similarity in the changes in the lungs of the smoking dogs and the changes noted in the lungs of human smokers.

TRAINING of communists to mine ships and bridges in South Vietnamese waters was reported by Admiral Norvell G. Ward, head of the U.S. naval forces in Viet Nam, during a news conference in Washington. "We can anticipate attempted sabotage," he said. (AP Wirephoto)

Terrorists Offered Bribe To Officer

MONTREAL (CP) — Two alleged members of a Montreal-based terrorist group were said Friday to have offered $500 to a non-commissioned officer in the Canadian Army in return for detailed plans of an armory and a list of weapons kept there.

Sgt. Robert Marchand, 19, said at a preliminary hearing of Robert Levesque, 25, of Montreal and Rejean Briggs, 21, of suburban Lasalle, that Briggs introduced him to Levesque who had offered him the money.

RCMP officers were alerted by Marchand and members of the force were in an adjoining room when the soldier arrived to hand over blueprints.

Levesque and Briggs were charged with conspiring to commit an armed robbery.

Police said both are members of an organization calling itself Le Mouvement pour l'Independance Nationale. They were committed to voluntary statement June 29.

Aussie Drought Appears Over

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — The drought over the central part of eastern Australia appears near an end.

"Only a few more inches of rain over a wide area in the next few weeks and it will be broken," says John L. Green, chairman of the New South Wales drought relief committee.

The cost has been great: Farm income down by $250,000,000; 17,100,000 fewer sheep in two states in a year; 1,000,000 fewer cattle; less wheat and wool.

New South Wales, the state in the centre of the East Coast, has been hardest hit. Green says the drought has been the worst since 1902.

Rains in May and June have brought relief and hope for many farmers and ranchers. Only the northern part of the state, particularly in the far west—an area the size of England, Scotland and Wales—remains drought country.

Even in areas where the drought has been broken, heavy rain is needed to build up inland rivers and fill irrigation reservoirs, mostly less than one-quarter full.

A government spokesman says it will be seven or eight years before the flocks and herds are built up to what they were.

Doctor Pays Penalty

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A San Jose, Calif., doctor was sentenced Friday to work eight hours a week for one year in free clinics, as penalty for violating U.S. income tax laws. Dr. Mobley, 62, an anesthetist, pleaded no contest to charges of failing to file income tax returns in 1959 and 1960.

Bill Foster Third; Protests Penalty

ATLANTA (AP) — After 500 consecutive miles as a front-runner in United States Auto Club races, Mario Andretti is ready to turn his fine Italian hand to the wheel of a stock car.

The 26-year-old native of Trieste, Italy, led all the way Sunday in winning the second annual Championship 300 at Atlanta International Raceway in a Dean Racing Enterprises rear-engine Ford.

His victory came on top of two straight USAC wins at Milwaukee and Langhorne, both of which he led from start to finish. This is the first time in USAC history a driver had led 500 consecutive miles.

Andretti said he's ready to take over the wheel of a Dodge Charger in next week's Firecracker 400 at Daytona Beach, Fla.

He finished a lap ahead of Billy Foster, of Victoria, who also drove a rear-engine Ford. However, Foster was penalized three laps for passing two cars during a caution flag, dropping him to third place.

Foster filed a protest and USAC officials took it under advisement, saying they would return to Indianapolis for a board meeting early this week before ruling.

Foster's penalty boosted Gordon Johncock, of Hastings, Mich., into second place. Johncock also drove a rear-engine Ford.

Two drivers were injured.

A wheel came off the rear-engine Offy driven by Terry Copp, of Fresno, Calif.

His car broke into two sections, both bursting into flame. The part with Copp inside spun onto the infield, where fire and rescue units pulled him out.

He was in good condition in hospital.

When Art Pollard, of Medford, Ore., pitted his rear-engine Offy on the 69th lap, it burst into flames. He got to safety and suffered only a slight burn on the cheek.

Giants' Gaylord Runs, Pitches Like Marichal

Perry Takes 10th Victory By Snapping Cincy Streak

By Associated Press

Gaylord Perry is running like Juan Marichal and winning like him, too.

Perry continued his sprint toward team-mate Marichal and Sandy Koufax, of Los Angeles, Sunday, pitching a two-hitter as the National League-leading San Francisco Giants stopped Cincinnati's eight-game winning streak 10-0.

The victory was the 10th against one defeat for Perry, giving him a .909 percentage, best among the league's top pitchers. Marichal, at 13-2, has an .867 mark with Koufax, who posted his 14th triumph against two defeats Sunday, is at .875.

In rambling toward the best season of his five-year major league career, Perry has picked up one of Marichal's habits. Instead of plodding to the mound each inning as virtually all pitchers do, Marichal runs.

MISSED THREE WEEKS

The 27-year-old righthander has accomplished half a 20-game season even though he missed nearly three weeks after hurting his left ankle sliding into second base May 24.

He still walks with a noticeable limp.

He had the Reds worried through five innings after he retired the first 15 batters he faced. But Chico Ruiz led off the sixth with a single and Cincinnati got two more baserunners before the shutout was completed.

In other games Los Angeles edged Atlanta 2-1, Pittsburgh trimmed Philadelphia 2-0, Houston topped St. Louis 6-3 in 11 innings and Chicago whipped New York 7-0 before losing 8-2.

In the American League Sunday Baltimore outslugged California 12-7, Minnesota swept Detroit 7-5 and 7-1, Cleveland bombed Kansas City 14-3 after bowing 4-2, New York swept Chicago 7-2 and 2-0 and Washington downed Boston 9-3 after losing 13-7.

BACKED BY HOMERS

While Perry stymied the Reds, the Giants exploded with five home runs—two by Tom Haller and one each by Jim Davenport, Don Landrum and Jim Hart. Jim Maloney suffered his third defeat in 12 decisions.

Koufax became the winningest pitcher in the majors, scattering seven hits and striking out 11. The Dodgers pulled it out in the ninth on Denis Menke's two-base error and Willie Davis' double.

Woody Fryman shut out Philadelphia on three hits while Roberto Clemente and Willie Stargell, who walked, scored the Pirate runs.

Jim Wynn's three-run homer off Joe Hoerner in the 11th boosted Houston past St. Louis. The Astros, blanked on five hits by Al Jackson through eight innings, erupted for three runs and a 3-3 tie in the ninth. Wynn drove in the tying run with a sacrifice fly.

Curt Simmons pitched a five-hitter for the Cubs in the opener of the doubleheader and was supported by Ernie Banks, who drove in three runs with a single and a sacrifice fly.

Ron Santo extended his hitting streak to 25 straight games before leaving the game in the third. Santo suffered a double fracture of the left cheek bone when hit by a Jack Fisher pitch.

The Mets came back in the nightcap behind Dennis Ribant's six hitter.

Rangers Sign Boomer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bernie (Boom-Boom) Geoffrion, one of the National Hockey League's top scorers until his retirement in 1964, today signed a three-year contract to play for the New York Rangers.

Geoffrion, 35, is the fifth highest goal scorer in NHL history and carved a 14-year starring career with the Montreal Canadiens. He retired two years ago to become coach of the Quebec Aces of the American Hockey League, but changed his mind in recent weeks and decided to return as an active player.

"I'm very excited about getting on the ice and confident that I have three or four more top years left in the NHL," he said.

SCORED 371

Geoffrion has scored 371 goals and made 388 assists, for a total of 759 points. Only Gordie Howe, Maurice Richard, Ted Lindsay and Jean Beliveau have scored more regular season goals.

When Geoffrion retired it was with the stipulation that if he decided to return as a player, waivers would be required. The Rangers were first on the waiver list and they grabbed him at the $30,000 waiver price.

Emil Francis, general manager and coach of the Rangers, said Geoffrion, whom he called one of the NHL's greatest all-time right wingers, would "fill a very big hole on our power play."

HIT BY BALL thrown by Jack Fisher, New York Mets. Ron Santo, of Chicago Cubs, is comforted by wife, Judy, in hospital. Santo, who suffered double fracture of left cheekbone Sunday, was due to undergo surgery today and is expected to be away from National League Cubs for at least 10 days. (AP Wirephoto).

FRACTURED CHEEKBONE

Beanball Fells Star Infielder

CHICAGO (AP)—Ron Santo, Chicago Cubs' top candidate for the All-Star team, was to undergo surgery today for a fractured left cheekbone after being hit Sunday by New York Met pitcher Jack Fisher.

The beaning of the veteran third baseman came in the third inning shortly after Met manager Wes Westrum and Cub manager Leo Durocher exchanged words over a beanball battle which erupted in the second inning.

However, Westrum and plate umpire Chris Pelekoudas both held that the hitting of Santo was unintentional and that the pitch merely got away from Fisher.

Santo, who had extended his hitting streak to 25 straight games with a single in the first inning, was carried off the field on a stretcher and it is expected he will be sidelined two weeks.

PHILLIPS HIT

Adolfo Phillips, who had homered for Chicago in the first inning, was hit by Fisher in the left elbow and had to leave the game in the second inning.

When the Mets came to bat in the third, Simmons hit Ron Hunt and that started the argument between Westrum and Durocher with Westrum being restrained by the other umpires after brushing Pelekoudas away.

"I know in my heart Fisher didn't throw at Santo," Westrum said. "The ball just sailed and Santo froze. Jack even yelled 'look out' just as soon as he released the pitch."

Pelekoudas said, "This wasn't the case of Fisher throwing at Santo. I had warned both managers that I would hold them responsible if there were any further incidents after the second inning.

"The ball just got away from Fisher. Fisher yelled; but instead of falling away, Santo just bent his knees."

Emus Handed First Defeat

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — The Emu Cricket Club of Australia lost its first match of a month-long Canadian tour Sunday to southwestern Ontario all-stars, 123 runs to 92.

All-stars relied on the steady bowling of Meville McColin of London for the win. He tied up the visitors in 15 overs, five maidens and five wickets for 19 runs.

For the Australians, Don Brown batted 41 runs.

Sunday's game left Emus with nine wins, four draws and one loss since the tour started in Vancouver June 1.

Kids a Little Excited But Casper Was Cool

CHICAGO (AP)—Golfer Billy Casper, in command of himself and his game, won the Western Open Sunday by letting a corps of youngsters flounder in his wake and took another stride past faltering Arnold Palmer.

Casper, 35, shot a steady one-under-par 70 for a 283 total, the only score to better Medinah No. 3's par of 284 for 72 holes.

He won $20,000 to wrest the PGA money-winning lead from Palmer, whom he defeated in a playoff for the U.S. Open crown last week.

Casper took dead aim at less experienced youngsters — Kermit Zarley, 24, Homero Blancas, 28, and Tommy Aaron, 29—to get his win.

Aaron went into the final round with a one-stroke lead over the field, but Casper went in front on the third hole with a birdie and dared the others to catch him.

BREWER WAS SECOND

Gay Brewer, with a closing 71 finished second with a 286 and won $12,000. Aaron blew to a 75 and Zarley shot a 74 as the youngsters settled for 287 totals and $6,250 each.

"I think it's a little tougher for them," said Casper in reference to the younger set's failure to catch him. "You'll notice Brewer, a seasoned pro, stood right in there. But the kids get a little excited.

"I know how it is. I went through it myself. But I played the game exactly as I would have if anyone else happened to be chasing me."

Palmer shooting a final round of 72 for 289, was not among those chasing Casper and finished in a tie for ninth. Arnie won $2,400 giving him $65,817 for the year.

HAS WON $69,749

Casper, who attributed his fine showing to the fact that he did not have a single three-putt green, now has won $69,749 this year.

Casper, who says he is at peace with himself since he adopted the Mormon religion, will be in Salt Lake City for the Mormon Tourney next weekend.

"No, I won't play. I'll just hang around and help them give away the trophies."

After that it will be a week of fishing and then the Minnesota Open.

Casper is the last pro to win three in a row when he took the Portland Open, Hesperia and the Orange County Open in the fall of 1960.

Palmer won three straight the spring of 1960, scoring in the Texas Open, the Baton Rouge Open and the Pensacola Open.

283—Billy Casper, $20,000.
286—Gay Brewer Jr., $12,000.
287—Tom Aaron, Kermit Zarley, $6,250.
288—Jack McGowan, Homero Blancas, Tony Lema, Bruce Crampton, $3,62[illegible].
289 — Arnold Palmer, Ken Venturi, George Archer, Charles Coody, Billy Maxwell, $2,400.
290—Bruce Devlin, G. Dickinson Jr., Bob Verwey, Joe Campbell, $1,750.
292—Mike Souchak, Dan Sikes, Doug Sanders, Mason Rudolph, $1,350.

Mustangs Prance To Four Victories

It was a good weekend for Greaves and Courtenay Mustangs in the Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League.

Mustangs received credit for four victories over the weekend, taking two by default over Chemainus Saturday and sweeping a doubleheader from Kings Sunday at Courtenay.

Greaves played and won only one game but it was against Transport Workers, the biggest threat to the defending champions' league title.

Lefthander Les Brice won the Saturday contest, 5-1, at Hampton Park to move Greaves a half game ahead of Transports. Brice, showing sharp control, scattered seven hits and fanned eight Transport hitters while walking only three.

Brice picked up two infield hits and a triple in five trips to the plate and figured in both of Greaves' big innings.

TWO-RUN SINGLE

The lefthanded swinger got aboard on an infield hit in the first inning and scored along with Dave Rivers on Bob Lumley's single.

Brice laid down a bunt with two men on in the seventh. First-baseman Art Worth had to rush the play and fired wide at first base to enable Bob Moysey and Rivers to score and Brice to move to third. Lumley then drove the pitcher home with a sacrifice fly to round out Greaves' three-run inning.

Jack Mosdell and Chum McLellan stopped Kings twice at Courtenay Sunday.

SECOND STRAIGHT

Mosdell allowed two runs in the first inning of the first game, but Mustangs came back in their half of the first with three runs to provide the quick righthander with his second straight victory over Kings.

McLellan, who picked up three hits in the doubleheader, beat Kings 9-4 in the nightcap.

Rawlings won two games by default over Chemainus on Sunday.

Hett Drops Lions Into Third Berth

Geoff Hett had the ball moving quickly and breaking well Sunday as he pitched a 1-0 four-hitter for Colony Inn over Red Lions at Heywood Park.

The loss dropped Lions out of a three-way tie for second place in the Senior "A" Men's Softball League. Red Lions are now tied for third with McLarens, who lost 2-1 to second-place Sooke Sunday.

Colony scored once in the second inning off Rick Rawnsley to provide Hett with the only run he needed to take the win. Dick Stone singled, moved to second on a single by Steve Bishop, advanced to third on a double steal and came home on a passed ball to plate the lone score of the contest.

McLarens scored first but couldn't hold onto the lead in Sooke's 2-1 victory over McLarens.

McLarens' third-inning run came when Keith Hunter singled home pitcher Rod Turner.

Sooke responded with a run in the fourth. Ken Maxwell came home on a wild pitch after reaching first on a walk, moving to second on an infield out and stealing third.

Mike Gallo led off the sixth for Sooke with a double, then scored the winning run on an error.

Home runs by Bob Holness and Norm Curran powered Carlings to a 6-1 victory over Sooke at Heywood Saturday.

HOPES WRECKED

Unseeded Aussie Upsets Emerson

WIMBLEDON (AP) — Owen Davidson, an unseeded Australian, upset defending champion Roy Emerson, of Australia, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4, today in the fourth round of the Wimbledon Tennis championships.

Davidson, a brawny lefthander, thus wrecked the 29-year-old Queenslander's hopes of becoming the first man to win the Wimbledon title three straight times since England's Fred Perry accomplished the feat 30 years ago. Emerson had won in 1964 and 1965.

A bad fall in the third game of the second set unsettled the lean champion after he had easily won the first set.

With games 1-1 in the second, Emerson slipped on the slippery turf going for a backhand, skidded two yards, and thudded against the umpire's chair.

The packed centre court was hushed as Emerson slowly got up and felt his left leg. Then the crowd cheered as the champion walked back to the serving line, apparently unhurt.

But the fall took all the steam out of Emerson. During the next few games he trod warily and seemed reluctant to put his full weight on the leg while serving.

RETAINED LEAD

This gave Davidson his chance to take the lead and he got service break to go ahead 3-2 for a lead he never dropped in the set.

Davidson, ranked only sixth in Australia, never let his advantage go after that. Although Emerson began to regain confidence, he still seemed hesitant to go for his shots and his normally fast reflexes were slower than usual.

Earlier, Nancy Richey, coholder of the No. 1 ranking in the United States, advanced to the quarter-finals by defeating Kathy Harter of Seal Beach, Calif., 6-2, 6-4, in the completion of a rain-interrupted match.

In the finish of another match also stopped by the rain, Australia's Ken Fletcher beat India's Jaidip Mukerjea 2-6, 10-8, 9-7, 3-6, 6-1.

Fletcher will meet Spain's Manuel Santana in the quarter-finals. Santana won by default from England's Bobby Wilson after leading 6-3, 6-3, 1-2. Rain also stopped that match Saturday.

Fulp Scores

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (CP) — John Fulp of Anderson, S.C. driving a Lola T-70, won the 200-mile United States Road Racing championship race Sunday after three drivers, including a Canadian, piled up on the 19th lap.

The Doctor Provided The Correct Medicine

Saanich Greens, receiving an outstanding performance from Dr. Bill Powell, won the W. Jack Robertson Memorial Trophy Sunday, at the Saanich Polo Grounds, with an exciting 6-5 overtime win over Lancers.

Powell scored all six goals for the winners. His horse spilled on the wet turf in the early minutes of the overtime period but he recovered and scored the game-winning goal in the last 10 seconds of the period.

John T. Parker and Andrew Barrie each scored twice for the Lancers, who paced Powell and the Greens goal for goal up until the final seconds. Eoin Ruthven scored the losers' other goal.

Hockey Merger Seen

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — The American Hockey League has proposed merging with the Western League beginning with the 1967-68 season, says Harrisburg Sunday Patriot-News.

Both leagues formed committees some time ago to discuss the proposal, the newspaper said Sunday.

The AHL will hold its annual meeting in Hershey, home of the league's Hershey Bears, starting Monday.

The Patriot-News quoted Lloyd Blinco, Hershey general manager, as saying: "The Western League, expected to have seven teams when San Diego enters the league, would adopt the name of our league."

"No inter-locking schedule during the season was proposed. Rather, the AHL would operate with a solid nine-team front, while the AHL would have seven. The new league would be divided East AHL and West WHL."

"That's as it stands now, however, that could change. There are many points to be worked out," Blinco added.

Also being considered, the newspaper said, is an earlier end to the leagues' schedule.

Under a day off plan, the AHL would conduct its post-season playoffs for the Calder Cup while the WHL holds its playoffs. Then the winners would meet for the championship.

Last season the two circuits played a inter-locking schedule.

FAIRWAYS SAFE . . . . . . FROM RUSSIAN INVASION

Golf Not Soviet Cup of Tea

MOSCOW (AP) — Golf is one international sport that is safe from victories by the Russians. That's because they don't play and don't intend starting.

Russian athletes have come on strong in other one-time aristocratic sports like tennis, horsemanship and rowing. But sports authorities here only laugh when asked when golf's turn will come. They dismiss it as a speciality of certain countries that excites no interest in the Soviet Union, like baseball and football.

"We'll start playing golf when you Americans start playing gorodki," one sports authority said, treating the whole idea as a joke. Gorodki is a Russian sport in which players throw a big stick at small sticks, trying to knock them out of a square.

The Soviet press does not attack golf as a rich man's sport that wastes valuable land and spreads harmful country club values through society.

The press just ignores it. The Russian people, with the exception of a few in the big cities, never have heard of it.

The only victims of this situation are the foreign golf players in Moscow who sometimes talk as if they consider the lack of a course the city's greatest deprivation.

Some Westerners' thinking is, the Russians have invaded other sports they never played before, why not his one. Some motive, it seems, must be involved to explain golf's different treatment from tennis, riding and rowing.

One guess is that the authorities have considered the game but decided against it as a bad investment.

To develop players up to the international standards — and the Russians like to win the sports they go in for — a lot of courses would have to be built and a lot of young people trained at a cost far greater than it was with tennis. For example, land, greens, equipment, the whole works would be needed.

Titled Hero Repays His Owner in Queen's Plate

By JIM CRERAR

TORONTO (CP) — A horse that was nothing but trouble earlier this year redeemed himself Saturday by running away to a three-length victory in the Queen's Plate.

Titled Hero, a muscular black colt owned by Peter Marshall of Toronto, galloped through the heat at Toronto's Woodbine Race Track to defeat 10 rivals in the 107th running of the 1¼-mile classic for Canadian-foaled three-year-olds.

The victory climaxed an uphill struggle for trainer Pat McMurchy, the 66-year-old native of Port Patrick, Scotland, who nursed the colt through a bout of virus and two hoof injuries to get him into the Queen's Plate winner's enclosure.

Jockey Avelino Gomez, told by McMurchy to ride favored Titled Hero as he saw fit, played it cool before 25,846 fans, who sweltered in temperatures in the high 90s.

ANGERED McCOMB

But jockey Sam McComb of Belfast, Ireland, who rode second-place Bye and Near, was hot under the collar. He accused Gomez, 38-year-old winner of 3,119 races in his career, of bumping.

Bye and Near, owned by Conn Smythe, former head of Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League, couldn't keep up in the stretch.

McComb said Gomez bumped Bye and Near late in the race, "but you don't claim foul when you ride for Major Smythe."

"He's a sportsman and I'm from the old country and I've got some of that, too."

He said the race stewards are in for a surprise when they review the race today on film and see Gomez's ride.

Third was Bright Monarch, owned by Mrs. Frank McMahon of Vancouver and ridden by Joe Baze of Seattle. The only western Canadian-owned horse in the race, Bright Monarch finished 10 lengths off the pace. He is trained by former jockey Johnny Longden of Tabor, Alta., winner of a record 6,052 races during his riding career.

The winter-book favorite at 2 to 5 and bet down to 1 to 4 post time, Titled Hero returned $2.50, $2.30 and $2.10. Bye and Near, a 13-to-1 bet, paid $4.70 and $3 while Bright Monarch, at 7 to 1, returned $2.70 to show.

Titled Hero claimed $52,113.75 as his share of a record purse of $80,175. Marshall also was presented with a bank draft for 50 guineas, traditional gift of the Queen, and a small gold cup worth $5,000 by Lt.-Gov. Earl Rowe of Ontario.

Bye and Near picked up $16,035 and Bright Monarch collected $8,017.50. Holarctic, part of a two-horse entry from the Hamilton stable of Frank Sherman Sr. and his son, Frank Jr., finished fourth 15 lengths behind and collected $4,006.75.

Elsewhere and otherwise, the sport of kings offered royal treatment to:

- Danseur, one of the heavy favorites who won the Grand Prix de Paris on Sunday. Hauban was second and Bon Mot finished third in the outstanding event of the French turf season. The 98th running of the classic drew a field of 20.
- Bouncy Belle, a B.C.-bred filly upset a field that included two highly-fancied Seattle invaders Saturday to win the $5,000-added B.C. Oaks feature at Vancouver's Exhibition Park. Taycalls Pride was second and Ky Funds finished third in the mile-and-70-yards run.
- Lady Pitt, finding room on the rail, won the $119,875 Coaching Club Oaks at Aqueduct. Gentle Rain was found guilty of interference in the stretch and was placed fourth, with Prides Profile moving up to the runner-up spot. Third money went to Help on Way.
- Drin, giving jockey Bill Shoemaker his 400th stakes victory, scurried in to win the $56,300 Cinema Handicap at Hollywood Park. Tragniew was second and Fleet Host was third.

Barry, Rocks Miss the Boat

COQUITLAM—Barry Forbes missed the boat Saturday. So did Victoria Shamrocks.

FRED USSELMAN
. . . four goals

The tow-headed goalkeeper, hottest in the league statistically, missed the 5 p.m. ferry to the mainland Saturday. He caught the next one but never did play.

Without Forbes, Shamrocks were no match for Coquitlam Adanacs, Intercity Lacrosse League leaders, succumbing 14-5.

Junior Doug Thompson and the Rocks were in the contest briefly in the first quarter.

But successive penalties brought on the Adanacs' powerplay for four straight goals and the ball game.

Rocks missed Ranjit Dillon, fractured toe; Bob Harris, on holidays; Reg Foster, cracked ribs, and Ron Jay, a working fireman.

USED ROOKIES

In their place, coach Bert Bertoia used rookies Charn Dillon, Vern Black, Ron Zilkie (who scored a goal) and Glen Vickers.

Tall, rangy Fred Usselman capitalized on Rocks' plight, scoring four goals and assisting in two others.

Dick Crompton was three-and-one and the old master, playing-coach Gordon Gimple, was one-and-four.

Team directors are scheduled to meet tonight to discuss some of the team's problems.

Shamrocks, who play Vancouver on the mainland Tuesday, host the second-place team at Memorial Arena Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Castaways Grab Cricket Honors

Castaway Cricket Club's first team captured top honors Sunday in the annual Albion six-a-side tournament at Beacon Hill Park.

Castaways defeated Oak Bay very handily in the final. Castaways, batting first, scored 67 for one while the Bays replied with 46 for three.

Both had tight fits to get into the final. Oak Bay defeated Incogs 63-62 in the semifinals while Castaways edged their second side, 26-25.

Because of the tournament, only one league match was played at the weekend.

Playing at Cowichan, Oak Bay held the undefeated leaders to a draw. Oak Bay ran up 161 runs for the loss of five wickets before declaring. Cowichan replied with 150 runs for eight before time ran out.

John Brazier scored 58 runs not out for Oak Bay while Tom Brownley paced Cowichan with 53 runs.

Tiger Credits Victory To New Putting Method

VANCOUVER — The Tacoma "Tiger," Al Feldman has the B.C. Open golf championship in the bag for the second time in four years, and he says he owes it all to a new croquet-type putter.

Feldman put the hammer on the 54-hole tournament at Point Grey Golf Club Saturday with a par-matching 72 for a three-day total of 209, two strokes better than a trio of Canadian challengers.

Feldman won $1,400.

Picking up second-place money of $733 each were Moe Norman, Alive Thompson and Wilf Homeniuk. But Norman picked up the important "extra dividend"—a berth in the Carling World Open at Southport, England.

The clown prince of Canadian golf, Norman went two extra holes to beat Homeniuk and Thompson in a playoff for low Canadian honors and the invitation to the $200,000 tournament.

Vancouver Island pros managed to claim a share of the $7,000 pot. Victoria Golf Club assistant Vaughan Trapp won $187 by finishing in a tie for eighth place with a 216 total. Trapp had a 74 Saturday.

Cowichan's Norm Boden earned $57 for a 222 total while former Cedar Hill professional Dick Munn scored 75-72-76—223 to just make the money circle. Munn won $45.

An arthritic condition in his hands caused Feldman to adopt the croquet-type putter.

"That putter was wonderful. Another six months, and things will be even better."

Feldman now has his sights set on the Washington State Open title next week.

ASSOCIATION BLESSES NEW PRO SOCCER LOOP

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The North American Soccer League, headed by Jack Kent Cooke, of Los Angeles, was granted a professional affiliation by the United States Soccer Football Association, Saturday.

The league will begin operation in May, 1968, and will function three months a year, May through July.

Cities which will have franchises include New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Boston, Washington, Toronto, Vancouver and Chicago. Pittsburgh and St. Louis may be included before the league starts play.

Two other proposed cities lost their bids for sanction. One is headed by Richard Millen, of Los Angeles, and the other by Robert Hermann, of St. Louis.

BEST-EVER TIME

Harry Jerome Tops Canadian 220 Mark

VANCOUVER (CP) — Harry Jerome, 25, sprinted to the best time of his career in the 220-yard dash — 20.8 seconds, a Canadian open record — in the windup meet of the Western Canada track and field championships here Saturday.

In the 100 yards, Jerome finished in 9.4 seconds, his best time this season. The 100 is Jerome's specialty.

In the women's 220-yard dash, Jerome's sister, Mrs. Valerie Parker, equalled the British Columbia native record of 24.6, but lost to Marjorie Turner of Nova Scotia by four-tenths of a second.

Jerome, Gordon Johnson, Tony Clarke and Mike Evans of Vancouver joined forces to set a B.C. native record of 3:19.5 in the mile relay.

Jerome said he will run in the halftime show of a Stampeder football game in Calgary July 9, but said he didn't know whether he would run for Canada in the British Empire Games in Jamaica in August.

Ramsey's Elite Start By Blanking Finns 2-0

HELSINKI — Manager Alf Ramsey has named his "elite 22" and England's hopes in the forthcoming World Cup soccer tournament passed its first test with flying colors Sunday.

England, which plays its first World Cup match July 11 against Uruguay at Wembley Stadium, opened a four-game exhibition schedule by easily blanking Finland 2-0.

In another warmup at Vienna, Argentina blanked F.C. Austra of the Austrian first division, 1-0.

The English got a little encouragement Saturday when Scotland, without a number of its top players who are injured or holidaying, drew, 1-1, with defending Cup champion Brazil.

Scotland went ahead, 1-0, on a first-minute goal by centre-forward Steve Chalmers of Celtic. Brazil equalized on a point-blank shot by Striker Servilio 14-minutes later. utes later.

Brazil, winner of the Jules Rimet Trophy for the world championship in 1958 and 1962, was confronted by an inspired Scottish side at Glasgow's Hampden Park, and the Brazilians were lucky to come away with a draw.

This was good news for the harassed Ramsey, for his English team beat a strong (on paper) Scottish side, 4-3, in the annual international last April in Glasgow.

Ramsey, a former England and Tottenham fullback, who managed Ipswich through its meteoric rise, was given the job of building an English championship team after the 1962 World Cup in Chile.

He has placed his World Cup hopes on a 4-3-3 style of play which has, in effect, four fullbacks, three halfbacks, and three forwards, and disposes of the conventional on-the-touch-line winger.

Ramsey's 22 players, however, combine youth and experience, and will, he says, be able to play either 4-3-3 or the now-familiar 4-2-4.

England is apparently fortunate to be in a four-team group which includes France, Uruguay and Mexico. Teams play a round-robin series, and the top two move into quarter-finals.

Ramsey's 22 players:

GOAL—Gordon Banks (Leicester); Ron Springett (Sheffield Wednesday); Peter Bonetti (Chelsea).

FULLBACK — Ray Wilson (Everton); George Cohen (Fulham); Jimmy Armfield (Blackpool); Gerry Byrne (Liverpool).

HALFBACK—Nobby Stiles (Manchester United); Jackie Charlton (Leeds); Bobby Moore (West Ham); Martin Peters (West Ham); Ron Flowers (Wolverhampton); Norman Hunter (Leeds).

FORWARD — Terry Paine (Southampton); Ian Callaghan (Liverpool); Jimmy Greaves (Tottenham); Roger Hunt (Liverpool); Geoff Hurst (West Ham); Bobby Charlton (Manchester United); Alan Ball (Blackpool); George Eastham (Arsenal); John Connelly (Manchester United).

Aussie Trio Dominates Top Bracket

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP)— Australian Lew Hoad, Ken Rosewall and Rod Laver joined Spain's Andres Gimeno in the championship bracket by winning matches Saturday in the $20,000 Peacock Gap professional tennis tournament.

They will play a round-robin schedule tonight for the $2,500 top prize in the single's competition.

Gimeno turned back England's Mike Davies 31-17. Rosewall beat Ecuador's Pancho Segura 31-28. Laver defeated Pierre Barthes of France 31-27. Hoad won two matches, 31-24 over Chile's Luis Ayala and 31-28 over Barthes.

Olympians Snap Long Win Streak

PORT ANGELES—It's been a while, but the powerful Port Angeles Swim Club finally lost a dual meet.

Victoria Olympians did the honors Saturday, 308-182, to hand Port Angeles its first defeat since February, 1965.

Victoria won 13 out of 16 relays, and three Olympian swimmers got Canadian Amateur Swimming Association time awards. A swimmer receives a time award when he betters a time set by the CASA on the basis of past national competition.

Monty Holding, swimming in the senior boys' division, picked up two silver time awards. He swam the 200-metre freestyle in 1:55.3 and the 100-metre fly in 57 seconds.

Lorrie Cosby got a silver award for a 1:00.4 time in the 13 and 14-year-old girls 100-metre freestyle. And Arleen Henderson swam the senior girls' 200-metre individual medley in 2:31.3 for a silver award.

Eight club swimmers (Grant Treloar, Monty Holding, Mary Pat Pumfrey, Arleen Henderson, Lorrie Cosby, Dave Owen, Ross Bruce and Dave Cruise) will go to the Canadian championships

MILE RECORD BROKEN . . . . . . BY BUCKPASSER

Injury to Retire Kauai King

Times News Services

Kauai King, the winner of the entucky Derby and Preakness inner who pulled up lame after aturday's Arlington Classic, ill be retired from racing.

It was reported Sunday that ike Ford has decided to retire auai King to stud after eceiving a report on the three-ear-old colt's left front ankle.

Ford, the original sole owner f Kauai King, recently sold the olt to a syndicate for $2,520,000 nd remained the largest stock-older by retaining eight shares.

O FRACTURE

Reached by telephone in Virinia, where he was touring orse farms, Ford said he had eceived a report from vetrinarian Dr. Raymond Murphy f Laurel, Md.

Ford said Murphy read x-rays hile they were still wet "but is 9 per cent sure no bones are ractured. However, he said the uspensories of the leg are ulled pretty bad and much orse than he originally beieved."

The injury and a resurging uckpasser may cost Kauai ing the three-year-old championship this year.

Buckpasser, returning brilantly after missing all of the riple-crown activity because of n injury, set a world record for he mile in winning the $108,000 Classic at Arlington.

ING FIFTH

Ogden Phipps' colt, cleverly idden by Braulio Baeza, was locked in 1:32 3-5 while beating reme Dela Creme by 1¾ engths. Kauai King, obviously roubled by his left front ankle, inished a struggling fifth. He Ir. was third and Impressive ourth.

The former world mark for ne mile was 1:33 1-5, first set y Swaps in 1952 and since qualled by Intentionally, Pia Star and Hedavar.

Buckpasser's stablemate — Impressive — who handed Buckpasser his only 1966 loss in six starts in a Jan. 14 exhibition — could be credited with helping set the record.

Impressive set a incredible early pace with the times 22¼ seconds for the quarter-mile, 43 3-5 for the half, and 1:06 4-5 for three-quarters. By comparison, listed world records are 45 seconds for the half and 1:06 1-5 for the three-quarters.

Ford was so disconsolate over Kauai King's effort, that he offered to let other members in the $2,520,000 syndication get off the financial hook.

Eyesight recovered, Dell nuzzles Jack McAdams

Something Was Wrong With Dell All Right

DEROIT (AP) — Hesitancy at the end of the leash told 23-year-old Jack McAdams something was wrong.

It turned out the blind was leading the blind.

McAdams' dog, Dell, was guiding him through downtown Detroit streets on a rainy April day when he sensed indecision on the dog's part.

A veterinarian discovered that Dell was as blind as her master and had been leading him "on instinct and guts alone." Dell had cataracts, a malady common to both humans and dogs, and could barely distinguish light from darkness.

Fortunately, dogs have a second set of lenses, though an operation to remove the defective set costs $350.

A short-wave radio operator, McAdams told other hams about his and Dell's plight. The operation money rolled in.

Two weeks ago Dr. William Magrane of Mishawaka, Ind., removed Dell's clouded lenses. Thursday the stitches inside her eyelids were removed.

Dell had trouble shaking off effects of the anesthetic, because she is a canine diabetic.

But McAdams knows Dell can see again, even without a veterinarian's assurance. He can feel a more confident tug on the leash.

Reporters Get Peek At Atom Test Site

PAPEETE, Tahiti (Reuters)—France opened its Pacific nuclear test site today for a peep by reporters at the island where a bomb tower stands jutting out of the blue lagoon.

A press party arranged to visit the forward base at Hoa, 500 miles from Tahiti, and the actual test island of Moruroa, 450 miles farther to the southeast.

The first test is expected in the first day or two of July, and a final warning to aircraft and shipping to keep clear of the test area was believed imminent.

Informed sources in Paris said today the tests would be conducted in three series between now and Sept. 15. Each of the first two series will include two atomic explosions of less than 100 kilotons.

The final series will include the explosions of an atomic bomb "boosted" with thermonuclear material.

SINGLE LANE BRIDGE SPANS FRASER RIVER

VANCOUVER (CP)—Steel sections of a temporary, one-way Bailey bridge linked Twigg and Lulu Islands Sunday for the first time since a bridge connecting Vancouver and suburban Richmond was smashed into the Fraser River by a scow Thursday.

A man and six boys were flung into the river when the empty scow, riding high on the freshet-swollen Fraser, knocked the bridge out. They suffered only minor injuries.

Officials say traffic may be moving across the bridge again by late today.

Canadian Experience 'Example for World'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Agriculture Minister John J. Grene said Sunday night that Canada's experience in 100 years of confederation is a shining example to the emerging young nations of the world.

It would be a shame if it were now to be marred by separatism.

Interviewed as he arrived for a speech today to the Men's Canadian Club here, the minister said: "It would be a great tragedy for the world if 100 years of experience should end in separatism, because the emerging nations, with their own problems of language and color and economic instability would then look at us and say 'if they can't do it after 100 years of continuing economic and social progress, how can we and the rest of world' ?"

He believed, however, that "talk of separatism is receding." It had been a recurring crisis throughout Canadian history but the country had survived.

GREAT PART

Mr. Greene said because of Canada's abundant resources and food-producing capacity, she could play a great part in the problem of feeding the world.

Funeral Service Held Today for Reeve's Widow

Private services were held in Sands Memorial Chapel of Chimes today for Mrs. Evelyn Mary Russel Brown.

She was the widow of the late H. Rupert Brown, a well-known businessman who was reeve of Central Saanich.

Born in Regina, Saskatchewan, she was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Abbey, pioneer residents of the Northwest Territories.

She came to Victoria in 1901, residing at 4640 Pipeline Road.

She is survived by her son, Peter, 180 St. Charles Street; a daughter, Mrs. Phillip G. (Marjorie) Lawrence of West Vancouver; Mrs. J. V. Clegg of Victoria, and several grandchildren and nieces.

'DE GAULLE CAN'T BE TRUSTED'

Political Circles Stunned By U.K. Minister's Remark

LONDON (AP)—An attack on President Charles de Gaulle by one of Prime Minister Wilson's cabinet ministers brought demands today for an explanation.

Defence Minister Denis Healey was quoted as telling a weekend Socialist political meeting that "no one in Europe" trusts the French leader to speak for them.

HEALEY
. . . 'a bad ally'

Healey's timing — with de Gaulle now visiting the Soviet Union and French Premier Georges Pompidou making a goodwill visit to Britain next week—stunned political circles.

Two Conservative members of Parliament who have been pressing for Britain's entry into the European Common Market, demanded that Wilson say whether Healey's views represented government policy.

Healey, speaking at a meeting organized by the Socialist Commentary, a monthly review, said de Gaulle might speak in South America and Russia but he could not negotiate for Europe.

DON'T TRUST HIM

"No one in Europe trusts him to speak for them," Healey was quoted as saying.

"He is regarded as a bad ally in NATO and a bad partner in the Common Market. A bad ally and a bad partner cannot negotiate for the rest of his partnership."

A spokesman at the defence ministry confirmed the substance of Healey's remarks but said the minister's actual words were that de Gaulle could not negotiate "because no one trusts him in Europe."

The spokesmen suggested, too, that cabinet ministers often speak at meetings as politicians rather than as government ministers.

Reginald Maudling, deputy leader of the opposition Conservative party, said Healey's "utterances are growing wilder and more stupid week by week."

"A remark of this kind made just before the visit of the French premier—a visit which could be of enormous significance—seems the height of folly."

Another Conservative, John Biggs-Davison, called Healey's remarks an insult to the head of an allied state and said he would demand an explanation from Prime Minister Wilson in the House of Commons.

Pompidou and Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville are coming to London July 6 for two days of talks with Wilson and other British government leaders. There are reports that the French may propose bilateral talks with Britain to precede any new formal negotiations on Britain joining the Common Market.

Healey is reported to be in the government faction that has raised doubts about hurrying into the Common Market.

Santa Rosa Jolted By Quake

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—A strong jolt preceded by a crackling noise much like a sonic boom rocked the Santa Rosa area at 11:04 p.m. Sunday night. The University of California seismograph recorded the earthquake at a moderate 3.5 on the Richter scale.

Epicentre of the quake was placed in northern California, about five miles west northwest of Santa Rosa. Residents in the area said the rocking lasted a few seconds.

The disastrous 1906 quake in San Francisco was 8.25 on the same scale.

Think you can talk her into it?

Yes. If she's a little self-reliant. And likes to get around and go places by herself.

Yes. If she's still a bit dependent. And relies on you for advice about mechanical things like cars.

Yes. If she's got lots of zest and energy. And doesn't mind shifting four fully-synchronized gears. Instead of just steering around town.

Yes. If she's a little bit lazy. And doesn't like pushing her way out of snowbanks in the winter.

Yes. If she's thrifty with pennies. And likes to save you money on little things like gas. And oil. And anti-freeze. And tires. And maintenance.

Yes. If she likes to be extravagant. And spend the money she saves on brocade wallpaper for the bathroom.

Yes. If she's flexible in her thoughts. And will let you lay out $800 or $900 on a used Volkswagen when she'd already had thoughts about a Hammond organ.

Yes. If she's strong willed. And insists you get the most for your money in a small car.

When you get down to it, it's really a matter of your wife talking you into it.

Burchill in Battle With U.S. Newspaper

WASHINGTON (CP) — Pro- ssor Charles S. Burchill of oyal Roads Military College at ictoria has made a lengthy ply to a Washington Post litorial calling his views on hina and the origins of the orean War a "farago of ction and nonsense."

Burchill, a professor of his- ry and economics, wrote a udy paper called "China— yth or Menace?" which has en published by the Study roup on China, Vancouver, and stributed in the United States a Seattle Quaker group.

Burchill's three main rebuttal oints in a letter published in londay's Post:

HREE POINTS

—Doubt does exist about hether the north or south arted the Korean War in June, 50, although Burchill says he ans to the general view that e north began it.

—The South Korean government of the late Syngman Rhee did suffer a major election defeat the previous month and Burchill says a United Nations commission supports him on that.

—The late John Foster Dulles as U.S. state secretary did use American aid as a lever to keep Rhee's government in power.

FOOTNOTE

In a footnote, The Post recited one sentence from Burchill's original study paper which says Dulles before the South Korean assembly in June, 1950, pledged "continued American aid but only if Syngman Rhee's minority government continued in office."

The Post repeats its contention that Dulles "did not say a word in his speech about predicting American aid on the continuation of Mr. Rhee's government."

Musmanno of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

Some 2,000 whites clustered near the Capitol, impassively watching the rally. They included 50 Ku Klux Klansmen wearing green pants and shirts, with white ties and white belts.

"We just came down here to make sure these niggers don't cause any trouble," said a leader, who declined to give his name. "If they don't, we won't."

Willie Ricks, a militant leader of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee, repeatedly called during the 22-day trek for a black power crusade and threatened that white blood would be spilled if any more Negroes were killed.

DISSENSION CONTINUES

Although Meredith, King and the other speakers emphasized unity, the squabbles and dissension that marked the march continued on the final day.

The leaders voted to exclude the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and particularly its Mississippi leader, Charles Evers, from participating in the rally on the grounds that Evers and the NAACP did not lend sufficient support to the march.

AME IN 1962

So far, no names have been uggested for replacing Mr. Verner-Mueller, who first hit e Victoria scene as guest onductor for the 1962-'63 eason.

A resident in Canada since 951, he is not yet certain where is next move will be to.

"I hope to go to eastern Canada," he said "There I will be nearer the centre of things."

Even so, he has not ruled out the possibility of moving to the U.S.

In August he travels to Wyoming where he will conduct four concerts at a special musicians' festival.

He will return in September to conduct his last series of concerts with Victoria Symphony.

commissioner, recommended a 40-cent wage increase in a two-year contract plus other benefits.

Syd Thompson, president of the Vancouver local, described the Nemetz recommendations as the best settlement coast woodworkers have ever won.

He told Sunday's meeting in Vancouver that by "June 15 next year we will be the best paid woodworkers in the world." The final 20-cent-an-hour increase recommended by Mr. Justice Nemetz takes effect June 15, 1967.

Elsewhere, striking civic workers in North Vancouver began returning to their jobs today after accepting a 13 per cent raise over two years. Civic approval is expected today.

JACKASS, CROWS

Golfer Gets Three Birdies

MELBOURNE (AP) — Stan Ely thinks golf is for the birds.

Crows took two of his golf balls after he played shots on the fifth hole Sunday at Leongatha.

As he was about to drive on the seventh he was distracted when a kookaburra (laughing jackass) bird started to laugh from a nearby tree. Ely duffed the shot. About to play his thid shot at the seventh, the kookaburra laughed again. And Ely duffed again.

Finally he got the ball onto the green. Out of the tree came the kookaburra. It picked up the ball and flew off.

Ely said after the game he has had his share of birdies but never two crows and one kookaburra in two holes.

Major Fuel Dump Hit by U.S. Pilots

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy bombers turned a large North Vietnamese fuel dump into an inferno that threw up smoke seen 150 miles away at sea, an American spokesman reported today.

Twelve hours after the strike by twin-jet A-6 Intruders from the carrier Constellation, the strategic oil stores still were engulfed in flames, reconnaissance pilots said. The target was a fuel storage area 35 miles northeast of Vinh and 160 miles south of Hanoi.

U.S. military men said the raid—one of 68 missions against the North Sunday—was a particularly successful blow at North Viet Nam's vital fuel reserves. These stores have been the target of intensified recent air attacks.

Immediately after loosing their heavy bombardment, pilots radioed they saw huge explosions accompanied by thick black smoke. One flier banked sharply to avoid a glowing orange fireball at 3,000 feet.

REPORT BLITZ

While the air blows were being dealt against the North, U.S. pilots killed an estimated 70 Viet Cong guerrillas, destroyed 460 buildings and hit 36 river sampans in South Viet Nam, a spokesman said.

On the ground, U.S. Marines and Vietnamese troops went after the remnants of a battalion of North Vietnamese regulars and hardcore guerrillas in tunnels and bunkers northwest of Hue. The marines reported 66 North Vietnamese killed and took four prisoners.

Marine officers at the battle scene estimated that the U.S. air and artillery fire may have cost the lives of 300, or about half the opposition force. U.S. 7th Fleet ships offshore joined in the barrage.

Down the coast, eight U.S. Army men were killed when two helicopters collided in the air near Tuy Hoa, 230 miles northeast of Saigon, as the bulk of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry went into action against a tough North Vietnamese battalion.

The new spearhead took place during a frontline visit Sunday by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam.

So far 395 enemy have been reported killed in the eight-day old operation.

Nuclear Reactor to Power Space Probes, Satellites

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — With confidence gained from recent ground tests, the United States hopes to launch its first nuclear rocket from Cape Kennedy in 1975 — aiming to have it ready for manned trips to the planets in the 1980s.

Technical and budgetary problems that plagued the project three years ago appear to have been overcome and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is pushing to develop a nuclear rocket as an upper stage for the huge Saturn 5 rocket. An industry contract to begin development of the rocket engine is expected to be awarded soon.

Nuclear reactors also are being built as power sources for space ships intended to survive for several years away from earth.

An important series of tests currently is under way at the nuclear rocket development station in Nevada. They involved full-power firings of an engine being tested under project NERVA, which stands for nuclear engine for rocket vehicle application.

On June 9, a NERVA engine, anchored to a test stand, poured 136,000 gallons of liquid hydrogen fuel over its nuclear reactor and produced 1,100 megawatts of thermal power for 15 minutes — equal to the peak output of nearby Hoover Dam. It produced more than 50,000 pounds of thrust.

The contract for the flight version of NERVA will call for an engine with a power level of 4,000 to 5,000 thermal megawatts and thrust of 200,000 to 250,000 pounds.

Harold B. Finger, manager of the NASA — Atomic Energy Commission space nuclear propulsion office, recently told the U.S. Senate space committee that while no mission now exists for the nuclear rocket, potential assignments are extended lunar exploration, manned and unmanned deep space flights and manned landings on Mars and Venus.

President Johnson is expected to decide later this year what the United States should aim for in space after landing men on the moon. Many experts are suggesting a national goal of landing men on Mars in the 1980s — a round trip that would take more than 400 days.

Webb said the space agency and Atomic Energy Commission have invested a total of about $800,000,000 in nuclear power research and estimated it would cost another $1,000,000,000 to develop the advanced NERVA engine.

Heat Wave Sets Record in Ontaric

TORONTO (CP) — Temperatures soared across Ontario Sunday, setting records in three Ontario cities, but the weather office predicted relief today.

Cooler air moving into southern Ontario from the northwest will bring an end to a four-day heat wave that produced temperatures in the 90s.

Skies will be sunny and the weather office predicts temperatures near the seasonal 80-degree range.

Residents of Toronto sweltered Sunday through a high of 94 degrees, breaking a previous record of 92 set in 1954. It was 87 in North Bay, one degree higher than the record set in 1963.

Sudbury registered 89, breaking a 1943 record of 88. Elsewhere in the province, Hamilton recorded 97 and Windsor had a high of 99. Ottawa was 92 degrees.

No cases of heat prostration were reported in Metropolitan Toronto but several persons were admitted to hospital wi heart conditions and other a ments aggravated by the hea

VICTORIA, B.C., MONDAY, JUNE 27, 1966—PAGE 21

THE BOY WITH A LINE on a legend is little Russell Johnson. When he dropped his hook in the Inner Harbor this morning he came up with Cadborosaurus, a legendary sea serpent. Caddy must have got an ichy fin because his usual summer haunt is Cadboro Bay, where the story began. (Times Photo).

Young Angler Spins a Line With His Daddy's Caddy

By BOB DONAHUE

When little Russell Johnson, 3077 Dysart, cast his fishing line into the Inner Harbor this morning he came up with a fugitive from Cadboro Bay.

For there, on the end of the line with teeth gleaming was "Caddy," the sea serpent of Cadboro Bay, officially known as Cadborosaurus.

He also hooked a 40-year-old local legend which was brought to life again by his father Bill in a fibreglass replica of the famed sea monster.

To the skeptics he is a myth, but even the pessimists will grudgingly concede that many credible witnesses have reported sightings.

The Provincial Museum officially credits the sightings to "bull sea lions."

Believers prefer the ancient Indian legend which tells a poignant tale of a beautiful Indian maiden, Cadboro, and her lover Saurus.

Old Indians relate how Cadboro was the sole inhabitant of Vancouver Island when it first emerged from the sea.

She was so lovely the gods decided to preserve her from "the touch of men."

●

But years later the reckless, brave Saurus came and wooed and won her and they eloped by canoe for the Olympic Mountains.

The angered god of air and water turned himself into an eagle and swooped down and carried off Cadboro.

For punishment she was turned into a stone, Gonzales Hill, and for Saurus, love's reward was being turned into a sea serpent.

●

A former Times managing editor coined the name Cadborosaurus and the newspaper still has a $300 reward for an authentic photograph.

Among witnesses who swear to Caddy's reality are a seaman, a clerk of the B.C. legislature, a telegraph lineman and about 600 other persons.

There is one other. His name is Russell Johnson and he is four years old. He knows there is a Caddy because his daddy said so.

ROAD DEATHS OUTNUMBER WORK FATALITIES

You Can Have Deadly Job ... and Live Longer

It's safer to drive than it is to work.

But you're more likely to be killed on the road than on the job.

This is shown by figures for the last two years from the Workmen's Compensation Board and the motor vehicles branch.

Highway accidents caused 500 deaths and 17,574 injuries last year.

Industrial accidents resulted in 253 deaths and 94,379 injuries reported to the WCB.

In 1964, 393 were killed on the roads and 16,911 were injured.

At work, 215 died and 87,827 were hurt.

Time-loss work injury cases (more than three days off) amounted to 27,362 last year. A total of 1.1 million working days were lost.

Compensation costs during 1965 reached $25.2 million, up $1.5 million on the record cost year of 1964.

Of the compensation costs, $10.4 million was paid in time-loss compensation to workers, $8.9 million for permanent disability and death awards and $5.8 million on medical aid payments.

CITY VET REVIVES BIG CATS

Blamed for Sickness Drug in Horse Meat

A Victoria veterinarian, who brought relief to jungle cats felled by tainted meat Friday, said today city vets couldn't be expected to treat circus animals.

"How often do we see panthers and tigers here?" said Dr. R. E. Cranston.

He was referring to animal trainer Bill Horne's comment Saturday that Victoria veterinarians had offered him "no consolation" in the treatment of his sick cats.

"All you can do is treat them symptomatically. Luckily what we did for them was the right thing."

Dr. Cranston said he phoned a veterinary hospital experienced in the treatment of circus animals in Los Angeles which confirmed his diagnosis and treatment.

"There wasn't, as Capt. Horne said there was, anyone in Seattle who knew what to do for them."

Dr. Cranston said analysis of the horse meat fed the cats showed it had been contaminated with barbiturate. The horse apparently had been killed with the drug.

"For the cats eating that meat was like a light anesthesia," said Dr. Cranston.

ANTIDOTE

"We gave them a little antidote for it. It seemed to do the trick."

He said the cats were nearly recovered by Saturday night.

Capt. Horne, whose act Friday night was cut short by dopy animals and who cancelled two shows Saturday, staged an abbreviated performance in the circus' steel pen Saturday night.

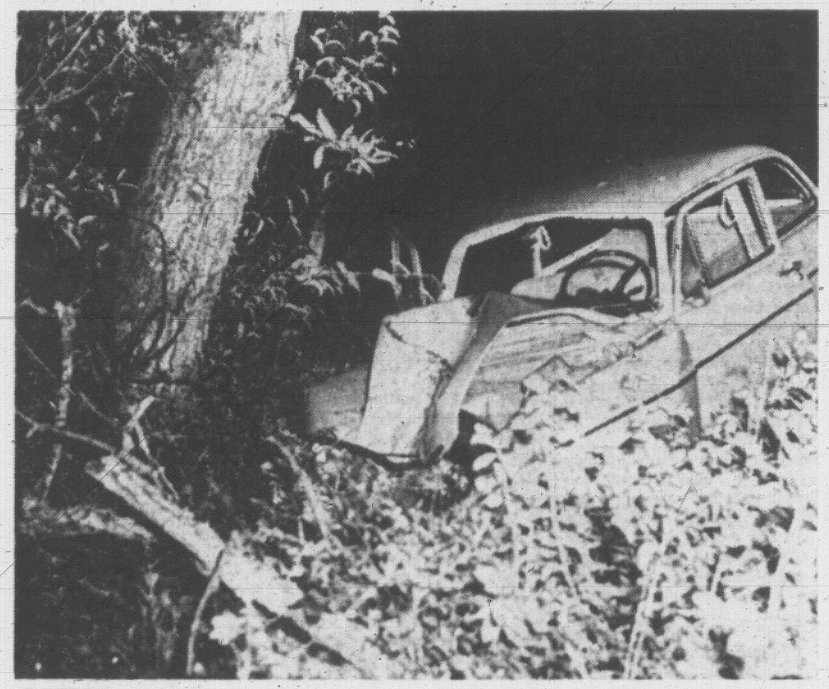
Saturday afternoon he told an interviewer Dr. Cranston had helped his cats "a great deal" after earlier saying city veterinarians couldn't help him.

Capt. Horne had been especially worried about Zombie, a black panther, who seemed to be paralyzed.

"The panther," said Dr. Cranston, "had either eaten more of the meat or else his tolerance wasn't so high."

Capt. Horne's act, along with the rest of the circus left for Penticton Sunday morning.

Woman Badly Injured In Royal Oak Crash



DRIVER of this late model compact car which rammed tree off Royal Oak Sunday night is in critical condition. Mrs. Muriel Bourque, of 216 Wildwood, suffered multiple fractures and internal injuries. Damage was $1,500. (Saanich Police Ident Photo.)

Eight Hurt In Weekend Collisions

One woman is in critical condition and seven other people required hospital treatment following five auto accidents in Greater Victoria over the weekend.

Mrs. Muriel Bourque, 62, of 216 Wildwood is being treated in the intensive care unit at Royal Jubilee Hospital after her car ran off Royal Oak Avenue near Lochside Sunday night and slammed into a tree.

Police said she suffered multiple fractures and undetermined internal injuries. Damage to her car was estimated at $1,500.

Two visiting couples were treated at St. Joseph's Hospital emergency ward and released after a two-car crash at Russell and Craigflower shortly after noon Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Duda of Sudbury, Ont., and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Podkulski of Garson, Ont., received minor injuries when their car, driven by Mr. Podkulski, was in collision with an anto driven by Dennis Eberts, 562 Selkirk.

Damage was estimated at $1,000 in a two-car crash at Gorge and Admirals about 7 a.m. today. One of the drivers, Mrs. Phyllis Stenson, 545 Baker, was treated for face cuts at St. Joseph's Hospital. Driver of the other car was Calvin Radomsko, 2830 Prior.

Victor Mazac of Duncan was treated for abrasions to his forehead and arm Saturday night after his car was in collision with another auto at the intersection of the Trans-Canada Highway with Douglas.

$1,000 DAMAGE

Driver of the other car was William Andrews of Aldergrove, B.C. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

Mrs. Ella Anderson of the Beverley Hotel was treated for back pains at Royal Jubilee Hospital early Sunday after the car in which she was a passenger was hit from behind at Government and Fisgard.

Police said Roderique Lavoie, 1974 Oak Bay, was the driver of the auto which rammed the first car, driven by Mrs. Virginia Could of Thetis Lake trailer park.

$200 MONTHLY RESTITUTION

Grandmother Released After Fraud Conviction

A Victoria grandmother, convicted of obtaining $12,214 from various local residents by deceit and falsehood, was released from custody today on condition she make restitution.

"I cannot see that putting you in prison would serve any purpose," Judge Montague Drake hold Mrs. Gladys Naylor, 914 Sioux Place, in Victoria County Court.

Mrs. Naylor was found guilty on four counts of fraud. She was said to have borrowed thousands of dollars from various people on the ground she was expecting an inheritance of $750,000 from her uncle's estate.

DIED DESTITUTE

But the uncle, Wallace Ricketts, died destitute in a northern B.C. camp.

Judge Drake said Mrs. Naylor would be released from custody on a recognizance of $10,000 and two other sureties on condition she (1) keep the peace for two years, (2) make restitution by monthly payments, (3) borrow no money except from a chartered bank, (4) report monthly to a probation officer.

"If there is any breach of these conditions during the next two years, you will undergo the judgment of this court," Judge Drake said.

He passed sentence after Mrs. Naylor's defence counsel, Dermod Owen-Flood, said Mrs. Naylor was prepared to work "night and day" to make restituiton to her victims at the rate of $200 a month.

Quoting indirectly from Shakespeare, Mr. Owen-Flood sid:

"The 'quality of mercy' would not be strained if Your Honor could give her an opportunity to fulfil her debt to society."

He pointed out that Mrs. Naylor had no previous convictions and had been described by a psychiatrist as suffering from pathological mendacity, which meant that she came to believe her own stories.

"MENTALLY SICK"

"I submit that the accused is a mentally sick woman who originally believed in her own delusions. She was unable to face the tightening web of robbing Peter to pay Paul — a web which became ever tighter as the hope of extrication became more remote."

Judge Drake said he was willing to believe Mrs. Naylor was suffering from "some aberration of the mind" when she told of her uncle's estate.

"But I cannot disregard the heartless way in which you took advantage of your charitable victims. Your behavior has been absolutely shameful," he told Mrs. Naylor.

Crown prosecutor Louis Lindholm pointed out that Mrs. Naylor continued borrowing on the myth of her uncle's estate long after she knew he had died destitute.

Victoria psychiatrist Dr. Douglas Alcorn said he had examined Mrs. Naylor several times since her arrest on Nov. 2.

BELIEVED STORIES

He said she was sane within the meaning of the Mental Hospitals Act, but exhibited signs of a phenomenon known as pathological mendacity.

"I am quite convinced she came to believe her own stories. She was driven by the necessity to raise money and, in all probability, there was a relative who once told her she would be his heir when he died."

Dr. Alcorn said Mrs. Naylor kept no record of her transactions; she did not know how far she was involved in debt or what she had actually written in the way of cheques."

Mrs. Naylor was said to have written cheques far in excess of the amounts she borrowed.

"She did not have the capacity to face reality," Dr. Alcorn said. "When forced to face facts, she still found it difficult to give any details. She assured me she had no funds at all, nor could she account for what had happened to the funds she obtained."

Dr. Alcorn said one individual, now dead, had forced her to make a repayment under circumstances which amounted "almost to blackmail."

"Gamblers often believe they can win in spite of knowing the odds are against them."

Crown Prosecutor Lindholm asked the doctor if he would expect Mrs. Naylor to change her conduct after she knew her uncle had died destitute.

"It is hard to say in these cases," Dr. Alcorn replied.

Mr. Lindholm: "Would you call her an intelligent woman?"

Dr. Alcorn: "Not particularly."

Mr. Lindholm: "Persuasive?"

Dr. Alcorn: "Not to me."

The trial of Mrs. Naylor took place in County Court last Monday and Tuesday. She pleaded not guilty but the crown said she had obtained loans totalling $12,214—some from total strangers—and to have repaid $178.

Mrs. Naylor stated that her husband was not aware of any of her transactions.

Woman Pays Fine For Shoplifting

A woman was fined $200 in central court today on a charge of stealing two sets of wall plaques and an ashtray, worth a total of $65.71 from a Victoria store.

Mrs. Gudrun Pilchak of Nanaimo was apparently under medical care at the time, and gave no reason for the theft.

"It is just inexplicable the way people in these circumstances disgrace themselves and get a criminal record for something like this," Magistrate Ostler remarked.

Speedup Expected Shortly On Museum-Archives Work

Public Works Minister W. N. Chant today indicated work will return to high gear soon in the Centennial Museum - Archives project.

He has issued the first tender call since work was suspended this spring during a re-examination of costs in a number of provincial construction projects.

Tenders are returnable July 22 on a contract including excavation for the carillion tower to house the bells that will be donated by the Dutch community.

The contract also involves retaining walls, foundation work, installation of floor slabs, drains, waterproofing and backfilling.

"We also will be calling bids for a large contract shortly which will bring the whole project much closer to completion," Mr. Chant said.

Driver's Flight Ends in Ditch, Fine of $400

The policeman turned on the patrol car's pursuit light when he couldn't catch up to a speeding car on Malahat Drive.

Then the speedster really took off.

The 100-mile-an-hour chase that followed was highlighted by the fugitive's attempt to evade capture by turning on to a side road and switching off his headlights. When the police spotted him, he sped away.

His wild flight ended in a ditch at the foot of a deadend street.

The driver of the car, Thomas Timms, 180 Atkins Road, was fined $400 in central court today for dangerous driving. His licence was also suspended.

In passing sentence, Magistrate Ostler noted the plight of "the police officer whose duty calls him to take this dreadful risk."

'FEELING NO PAIN' IN STOLEN VEHICLE

A police search for a stolen car ended Saturday when the auto was involved in a crash at Douglas and the Trans-Canada Highway.

The driver, William Andrews of Aldergrove, B.C., admitted in court today he was "feeling no pain" at the time of the mishap.

He was jailed three months for stealing the car, another month for driving while impaired and an extra five days for driving without a licence.

Andrews claimed that a friend had given him the keys to the car and asked him to pick up a relative at Swartz Bay.

But when the friend was questioned, he said he hadn't seen Andrews for 15 years.

SON ANDREW, seven, and favorite mount of W. Jack Robertson, who died in Tokyo air crash last March, took part in memorial service Sunday at Vancouver Polo Club grounds off Island View Road. In ceremony, pony, nine-year-old bay gelding, was led past flag-decked enclosure. Mr. Robertson, co-pilot on ill-fated CPA plane and Saanich Peninsula resident, was polo club member. (Times photo by Irving Strickland).

MOTORCYCLIST 'ONLY FAIR'

An Edmonton man, severely injured when his motorcycle went out of control Friday, is in "only fair" condition today.

Randy MacDonald, 21, is in St. Joseph's Hospital with chest and leg injuries received when his machine ran into a hedge on St. Lawrence.

Cabbie Fined For Delivery Of 'Groceries'

A part-time cabbie who pleaded guilty to delivering liquor to a 16-year-old boy was fined $100 in central court today.

Edward Gray of HMCS Antigonish, who works as a part-time taxi driver, described his offence as "a service a number of companies provide—just like delivering groceries."

"These juveniles get in enough trouble without assistance from you." Magistrate Ostler told him in finding him guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The offence occured May 14.

SUN'S TRYING BUT CLOUDS GET IN WAY

More of the same.

That's the word from weather seer William Macki.

"The sun is shining," he said, "somewhere up there."

It's just that the clouds keep getting in the way. Otherwise it would be fine.

Expect a few showers tonight and a temperature near 50 degrees.

There might be a break in the clouds sometime Tuesday —but there will also be an occasional shower. The temperature will be around 60 degrees, below normal for this time of year.

Five Minors Fined For Having Liquor

Five minors each were fined $35 in central court Monday for having liquor.

Sentenced were: Robert Washington, 20, of Kilmulu Road; Frank Morton, 20, of 660 Admirals Road; James Carrie, 18, of 1378 Hillside; John Clark, 20, of 4042 Fred Street; and John Darryl Wildin, 20, of 600 Fort Street.

Man Fined $60 Over Tax Delay

A delay in making his sales tax returns cost B. F. Reagan, 1132 Colwood, $15 on each of four counts in central court Monday.

He explained that difficulty in obtaining a good accountant had caused the hold-up in his returns for four consecutive months.

Explosives Discovered In Saanich

It could have been an explosive weekend in Saanich.

Police were called on to deal with three reports of explosive material being found.

Officers turned a 12-inch "shell" over to authorities at the Canadian Forces Base, Esquimalt, after it was discovered in the foundation of a building being demolished Saturday afternoon at 4520 Hughes.

Later Saturday four sticks of dynamite were found near the ground for a new subdivision.

Sunday evening a man reported to police finding a blasting cap near new construction at Arbutus and Queenswood.

Ask The Times

Q. Can experienced gamblers control dice that aren't "loaded"?

A. United States authority on gambling John Scarfe gives a qualified "yes". He says in a recent magazine article that an expert hand can control the dice on certain kinds of surfaces or against a certain kind of backboard. Mr. Scarfe says the most common means of dice manipulation is called the blanket roll, whereby the dice are thrown in such a way that they roll end over end like wheels. The numbers on the outer sides of the dice do not come up and certain combinations therefore cannot be made. The shot works best on a blanket or soft carpet.

Boy Injured As Car Rolls Over Embankment

LADYSMITH—Andrew Sampson, 3, received head cuts Sunday in a freak car accident.

Andrew and an unidentified older boy were playing around a parked car on the Indian Reserve. Somehow the emergency brake of the car was released.

The car rolled backwards and over an embankment.

Ladysmith RCMP said today it is not known exactly how the boy was injured but he suffered head cuts and was taken to Ladysmith Hospital.

Andrew is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Sampson who live on Ladysmith Indian Reserve.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Trend Is for More Women To Take Jobs Outside Home

Lowman

The old saying, "A woman's work is never done," is truer today than ever before, in spite of all the modern conveniences. The general trend is for more and more women to take jobs outside their homes. This thing of running a house, caring for a family and holding an outside job leads to a complex life.

According to the United States department of labor the number of women workers is increasing faster than the number of women in the population. In 1940 there were 14.2 million women workers in the United States. In 1965 there were 27.4 million feminine workers. Between 1940 and 1965 the number almost doubled!

Almost three out of five (57 per cent) women workers are married. Twenty-three per cent are single. Twenty per cent are widowed, divorced or separated. There are 9½ million working mothers who have children under 18 and 3.6 million have children under six years of age.

In order to be successful with home, family and a job, a woman must have excellent health and a keen sense of values. She absolutely must guard her health as her first line of defence. Otherwise she will not be able to carry it off. If she is successful, she will be an excellent organizer and practically live by lists.

More than anything else, she must have a certain temperament or deliberately discipline her mind into certain attitudes. She cannot affort to waste energy on non-essentials. She must be able to slough them off with a shrug of her shoulder to spend her energy on the really important things. She must be flexible so that she can adjust quickly to unexpected crises and upset plans. Believe me, with this sort of life she will soon become expert in adjusting, that is, if she is to survive.

There have always been great controversies as to whether a wife or a mother should take a job outside the home. There are certainly two sides to the question and advantages and disadvantages both ways.

SHOPPING GUIDE

You Don't Need Rope—Hang Washing on This

By Penny Saver

When our family travels, it is almost impossible to ever get any washing done. The washing procedure itself is no problem, but while our sportsman is in search of a better fishing spot, it means travelling to a new location, moving tent, food, children, fishing gear, and wet, soggy clothing that didn't quite have a chance to dry at the last place. Take it from me, the modern housewife is not conditioned to the nomadic way of life. Once you do have the opportunity to hang out your washing, between two healthy trees, you will probably find that fish-happy hubby has found a better use for your rope.

There is one item that I've found that /can be tucked away in the trunk of your car, consuming so little space that you won't know it is even there. It will prove the perfect answer to your drying problem. It's a folding dryer that is constructed along the same lines as an umbrella. Spokes extend from a centre pole, and each has a clothes peg attached on a wire loop.

This device has a hook at the end of the centre pole so that it can be suspended from a clothes line or from a substantial branch, as the case may be.

Each spoke is coated with protective plastic tubing which prevents rust as well as making the hanger very colorful. It sells for 69 cents.

A boon to bottle washers is a wedge mop that sells for 29 cents in this shop. This item is a triangular shaped sponge with a handle that makes washing dishes, bottles and glassware a snap. Because of the unusual shape, it can be used to clean counter tops and Venetian blinds as well.

If you are "up to the elbows" in hot water, give Penny a call at 382-3131. She'll tell you where she found these wash-day helpers.

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes

"It's sort of sad—they're just two little mice caught up in a rat race."

Wed In Quiet Service

Pink peonies and honeysuckle blossoms formed the attractive floral setting in St. Peter's Church for the recent wedding of Beverley Ann Jones and David Wright.

Rev. E. Gilbert officiated at the quiet ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Jones, 3915 Cumberland Road, and the son of Mrs. P. E. Hornby, 2385 McNeill Street. Mr. Jones gave his daughter in marriage and Mrs. Hilda Ashby provided music during the ceremony.

The bride wore a sheath dress of soft pink brocade, topped with a matching three-quarter-length coat with wedding-ring collar. Her corded pink hat was trimmed with grosgrain ribbon in deeper pink and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley.

Her only attendant was matron of honor Mrs. H. Petrie, who wore a dress of wedgwood blue silk, with matching coat. She accented the outfit with white accessories and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Dougal MacDonald was best man and Robert Rebitt ushered the guests.

Doves topped the two-tier wedding cake which centred the lace-covered head table at the reception following in the home of the bride's parents. C. Love proposed the toast to the bride.

A white raw silk dressmaker suit was worn by the new Mrs. Wright for travelling on a honeymoon trip to the provincial interior. Completing the outfit were white accessories, white cashmere coat and corsage of pink carnations, roses and iris.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCallum Forrester, 3260 Harriet Road, have announced the forthcoming marriage of their eldest daughter, Sandra Elaine, to Mr. Marian Henry Sieradzan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Sieradzan, 1236 Bay Street. The wedding will take place on Saturday, July 2, at 7 p.m., in St. Joseph's Parish Church. Msgr. M. O'Connell will officiate. (Jus-Rite Portrait Studio).

FOR OAK BAY UCW

Strawberry Tea Gains $205

A total of $205 was realized recently when the Oak Bay United Church Women held a strawberry and rose tea in the church's George Gardner Hall. One of the entertainment highlights of the event was an address on home decorating by interior designer E. G. Stevens.

UCW president Mrs. P. A. Gibbs opened the event and she and Mrs. A. Calder greeted the guests. General convener was Mrs. P. Bugslag.

Home-baked treats starred at the booth supervised by Mrs. F. Jewkes and guests found a number of clothing delights in the French Room, convened by Mrs. C. Burnip. Mrs. R. Chapman was in charge of the decorations.

Never lacking for customers in search of refreshment and relaxation after a busy afternoon of bargain-hunting was the tea area convened by Mrs. I. Dawson and Mrs. E. Showers.

CLUB CALENDAR

Luncheon, Woman's Auxiliary to Royal Jubilee Hospital, Wednesday at 1 p.m., home of Mrs. J. L. Hobbs, 3880 Hobbs Road. Meeting to follow at 2:30 p.m. Members to bring lunches.

Strawberry social, Canadian Daughters' League Assembly No. 5, tonight at 8, Elks Hall, Cormorant Street.

GANGES CHAPTER HOLDS DINNER MEET

Hosts Head of Provincial IODE

Mrs. C. W. Smith travelled from Vancouver to attend a dinner, given by HMS Ganges Chapter IODE, Salt Spring Island. Mrs. Smith is provincial president.

Bowls of red, white and blue flowers, and crests of the Order decorated tables, laid in the Shamrock Room of Harbor House Hotel. Mrs. Laurie Mouat made the corsages which were presented to Mrs. Smith and chapter regent, Mrs. F. K. Parker. These were presented by Mrs. E. A. Richardson.

A meeting followed in the hotel lounge. Mrs. Smith gave a resume of the national annual IODE meeting, held in Montreal, and answered questions on IODE work. She also showed samples of sewn and knitted items, made by IODE members, to be sent to needy areas in Canada and abroad.

Donations of clothing and jewelry for the women's thrift shop at Riverside Hospital were received by services secretary, Mrs. Colin King.

WAR ON HATE

HALIFAX (CP)—A resolution urging the federal government to enact legislation recommended in the report of the special committee on hate propaganda was passed at the closing session of the annual meeting of the Canadian Federation of University Women.

Mrs. M. W. Menzies of Winnipeg told delegates "individual citizens within minority groups have a right to protection of the law for their security.

"Expensive investigations concerning hate propaganda show that "Canadian law is inadequate."

Five hundred women from all across the United States and Canada are in Victoria this week to attend the convention of the Alpha Gamma Delta International Women's Fraternity. The mammoth get-together will be held all week at the Empress Hotel. Among those attending are, left to right, Miss Jana Howard, Huntsville, Ala.; Miss Pat Mullan, Vancouver, B.C.; Miss Nancy Dailey, Jackson, Mich., and Miss Sally Kuehl, Spokane, Wash.

Getting together before the formal opening and processional that started today's proceedings are these four visitors from the United States. Left to right, they are Mrs. Ernest J. Stroud, Jonesboro, Ark.; Mrs. James D. Colfer, Denver, Colo.; Mrs. Harold L. Manthei, Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Walter Schroeder, Milwaukee, Wis. The convention ends Friday evening. RAISES MONEY FOR ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

Picture Gallery Forms Highlight of Party

Hundreds of Victorians were "shot," Saturday afternoon, but no one minded a bit. The "shooting" was one of the best methods of keeping a memory of an exciting afternoon alive.

One of the main attractions at the annual garden party and sale of work of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was the picture gallery, where S. Marling took comic pictures of guests standing behind a board painted with pictures of a man and woman in old-fashioned dress, leaving only the person's head showing.

There were all manner of different and exciting items to please the hearts of young and old alike at the affair which was held on the grounds of Glenlyon School. The theme was centennial and even the stalls wore a distinctively old-fashioned air with their various signs.

FEMININE FRIPPERIES

What woman could fail to bypass a stall labelled "For Milady's Toilette"? Here were articles to delight any feminine heart. Small vials of perfume, containers of bath salts and huge bottles, decorated with shells and odds and ends all sprayed gold, were featured with more practical items such as gay hosiery hampers. Mrs. W. Laing convened this stall.

A stall which piqued the curiosity and tickled the tastebuds of most of the guests was one which offered real "gold-rush" sourdough. Not only was there pounds and pounds of the premixed dough with instructions on how to make it "grow," but there were recipes and samples of biscuits and loaves made from the prospectors' main dish. Other highlights at this stall, supervised by Mrs. G. R. Elliott, were centennial plates.

Everywhere about the grounds guests wandered with stars in their eyes and balloons in their hands . . . small wonder with a sailor straight from a clipper ship selling the balloons. He was P. S. Watt, who donned bell-bottomed white pants, sailor jacket and brimmed hat to add a salty note of 100 years ago to the occasion.

Other intriguingly labelled stalls were pinafores, convened by Mrs. V. Robertson; Petticoat Lane, Mrs. W. R. Howard; ye olde book shoppe, Miss Marie McPherson; posy shoppe, Miss Susan Watson; lighting emporium, John Jackson and St. Andrew's Cub and Boy Scouts, and tots and toddlers, Mrs. R. H. R. Green.

Mrs. P. S. Watt was in charge of the ever-popular home-cooking booth.

SIP 'SASPARILLA'

Root beer never tasted as good as it did Saturday when it went under the name "sasparilla." Lemonade and ice cream and other treats adored by youngsters seemed to have just a little extra "something" when bought from the booth convened by Iain Thomson.

Refreshments for the older generation were served in the tea area, supervised by Mrs. P. A. Boldt, and acting as serviteurs were members of the church's Canadian Girls in Training and other young members of the congregation who entered into the old-world mood by wearing Granny gowns.

Entertainment, too, fitted the theme of the afternoon, the melodies of yesteryear taking a new lift when sung by the Four Belles, a barber-shop quartet of women. The young Will Deacon dancers provided a lively program of square dancing throughout the afternoon. Heather Zinck performed a number of old Scottish ballads and songs on the bagpipes.

Reeve Allan Cox opened the gala event which realized $1,056.75, and Mrs. J. McArthur was general convener. Bert Weatherdon was master of ceremonies.

Of Personal Interest

ON THE MAINLAND

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. George R. Pearkes will cross to Vancouver on Tuesday where they will attend a luncheon in the Georgia Hotel. The affair is being arranged by the Vancouver Central Lions Club. Wing Cmdr. J. MacKinnon will be the aide-de-camp in attendance. That evening, His Honor and Mrs. Pearkes will attend the harness racing night at Paterson Park, Ladner.

Holidaying Here

Visiting in the Derby Road home of her parents, Lt.-Cmdr. H. J. Stuart and Mrs. Stuart, is Mrs. Errol McKenzie and her daughter Robin of Pickering, Ont. Saturday morning, Mrs. Stuart entertained at a coffee party for the visitors and presiding at the refreshment table was Mrs. K. M. Whittle, Mrs. McKenzie's godmother. There were 15 guests attending. The two visitors will return home next week.

Luncheon

A corsage of Talisman roses, centred with an Opti-Mrs. pin, was presented to Mrs. A. Mowatt when she was entertained, recently, at a luncheon in the Red Lion Motor Inn by members of the Victoria Opti-Mrs. Club. Rev. and Mrs. Mowatt will be leaving the city shortly to make their home in Ontario. Club president Mrs. B. Smith also presented the honor guest with a silver dogwood brooch. Attending the luncheon were Mrs. H. H. Youson, Mrs. Grace Robertson, Mrs. J. Brice, Mrs. C. Hyland, Mrs. J. Watson, Mrs. J. Anderson, Mrs. P. Callin and Mrs. J. Davidson.

Off to Europe

Mr. Stanley Shale left by air recently for London, England. He will spend the summer in the British Isles conducting examinations for the Associated Board of the Royal Academy and Royal College of Music and vacationing there and in the south of France. He expects to return to Victoria at the beginning of September.

Married 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. James Underwood of Calgary celebrated their golden wedding anniversary recently with a reception in the Dominion Hotel Terra Cotta Room, arranged by the couple's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Clark. Mr. and Mrs. Underwood were married on June 10, 1016, in North Battleford, Sask. The head table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake and the room was decorated in a golden color theme. Mr. J. G. Olding proposed the toast to the couple. Among the 50 guests attending were the couple's five grandchildren; Mr. and Mrs. William Mackenzie, Vancouver, who were best man and matron of honor at the wedding, and Mr. and Mrs. Olding, who were wedding guests. Also attending the reception from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Glyn Jones, Mrs. J. Macey, Mrs. E. B. Page and Miss Diane Moncur, all of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. William Moncur and Mr. James Moncur of Port Alberni, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clark and Mrs. Anne Ellis of New Westminster, and Mrs. C. Graham, Winnipeg.

Returns Home

Mrs. A. Sinclair has returned to her home on Fairfield Road after spending several weeks in England where she visited friends and relatives.

Prairie Visit

Mrs. P. J. Philpott left Victoria recently for a two-month trip visiting relatives and friends in Saskatoon and Edmonton. While in Saskatoon, Mrs. Philpott will attend a reunion of the Overseas Nursing Sisters. Formerly of Esson Road, Victoria, Mrs. Philpott will live in Vancouver when she returns.

Travels Overseas

Mrs. P. J. Fairbanks returned to her Donald Street home Friday morning from a holiday overseas. Travelling by jet plane, Mrs. Fairbanks stayed with relatives in France and also visited in England, Scotland, the Scandinavian countries and Italy.

Club's First Party

The recently-formed Glen Meadows Golf and Country Club will hold its first social gathering on Friday, July 8 at the clubhouse. It will take the form of a cocktail party for the members and their guests, and will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. Formed early this spring, the club membership has already risen to 190.

Milady Wears a Tent To Be 'In' This Year

WASHINGTON—It's a big year for coats. In fact, you might say it's a year for big coats. Fashion gets away from the straight and narrow and plumps for coats with bulk and character in vivid colors and unusual fabrics.

This fall, coat silhouettes by top American designers range from skimpy to voluminious, but the big favorite is the tent, a throwback to the pyramid of 20 years ago. Missing for nearly a decade, the tent is revived in many handsome versions from raincoats to evening coats. It's free swinging and graceful, and what else can you wear over the new tent dresses?

With great efficiency, George Carmel organizes fall coats into three categories: Rhomboids (their word for tents), greatcoats (double breasted, straight lined but bulky) and reefers that follow or mold the figure. That's a pretty clear picture of the whole coat situation.

Most tents are double breasted, though a few wrap, like capes. For that matter, most of the new coats are double breasted, too, with two rows of brass or black or rhinestone (for evening) buttons giving emphasis to the shape.

Spadea Designer Pattern

Sew Speedy

Y-3121

The young internationals in Elle magazine favor this new kind of bareness showing a lot of shoulder and a hint of side bosom. Fitted under the bust it then falls into an A-shaped dress, with long seams that can be stitched as welt seams if desired. The small neckband ties into a saucy little bow. Make it now in pique, linen, cotton wildly printed, or silk. Later repeat it in velvet for an elegant party dress. We also like the loosely woven woolens with bonded lining. They are easy to work with and give the skirt body. Then band the neck in satin. Definitely a young, kicky look. This dress is shorter than regulation length. Spadea's exclusive ready-to-wear sizes produce a better fit. See chart for size best for you.

SIZES	BUST	WAIST	HIPS	*LENGTH

DEAR ABBY . . .

'Stymied' Reader Causes Controversy

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You have had the good grace to admit that there is a problem which even you can't solve. I refer to the letter from "Stymied," who asks how provident parents can guard against orphaning their children and leaving them to the care of strangers. No, I have not solved the problem, but I have considered it.

May I suggest an organization to be known as "Parents Synonymous!" Here's the idea: Through you, or an organization you inspire, parents of similar backgrounds and means are teamed up. Each agrees to adopt the children of the other family in the event of the death of both parents of that other family. For example; your organization (using computers?) would possibly match the "Stymied" family with my family. My three children, too, have had their educations provided for through the age of The same system as some adoption agencies use in matching color, race, and religion could be applied here.

Death of parents is a traumatic experience, and the orphaned children will be most likely to "recover" in an environment to which they are accustomed — one which disrupts their lives the least. Sincerely,

"VISIONARY" IN MPLS.

DEAR ABBY: Why should anybody be stymied about making provisions for their children in case of death? There are church and fraternal organizations galore that specialize in caring for orphaned children. The Loyal Order of Moose, Masons, The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Independent Order of Foresters, and Odd Fellows to name a few. Even insurance companies have fine protective programs to cover such eventualities. I thought everyone knew that.

NOT STYMIED.

DEAR ABBY: "Stymied" states that her only living blood relative is incapable of rearing healthy, normal, well-adjusted children. Yet she herself goes on to say that she is afraid to even get into an automobile with her husband for fear they will both be killed and their children orphaned. I wonder if she thinks she's "normal and is well-adjusted?"

CONFUSED

DEAR ABBY: We were a family of nine when our parents died and do you think for one minute that when death took our mother, father, a sister and a brother all within three months we disbanded? We did not! We stayed together and took care of each other and we made out just fine.

And so will other families who are taught to love and look after one another. That's what our parents instilled in us when we were kids, and even after they died, they "lived" in all of us. Trust in God. His eye is on the sparrow.

FULL OF FAITH

DEAR ABBY: It is a good idea for parents to make a will and make their desires known with regard to whom should assume the guardianship of their minor children in case both parents should suddenly go. This of course is a job for a competent lawyer.

The main thing is to get it down in black and white and place it in the hands of a trustee, attorney, or someone who can put the provisions into effect immediately. A will which has been hidden in a coffee can and buried out in the back-yard seldom does anybody any good.

CHOPPY SEAS AND GUSTS TEST SAILORS' METTLE

Small and large craft alike braved choppy seas and gusty winds Sunday in a series of distance races from the Royal Victoria Yacht Club.

Winner of the Hein Bank race for cruising classes was Peter Coombs, followed by Richard V. James and Theo De La Mare.

In the Cal 20 distance race, Norman Marcus reigned supreme, with George Dufour second and Neville Life third.

Honors in the Thunderbird distance race were taken by David Anstey, with Ned Ashe in second place and Peter Moore third.

Strike Vote Coming For 65 Bricklayers

A government-supervised strike vote will be held shortly among 65 bricklayers on southern Vancouver Island.

"This move by the union has become necessary because efforts to co-operatively negotiate a new contract since the last one ran out at the end of March have proved unsuccessful," said a statement by Local 2 of the Bricklayers International Union.

The union is seeking an increase of 50 cents an hour over two years on the present rate of $3.51.

"Even if this demand was met, said the union, bricklayers will get eight cents an hour less than their Vancouver counterparts.

"We are still open for talks," added a union spokesman.

About 300 laborers on southern Vancouver Island are awaiting a move by the contractors after a conciliation officer recommended no conciliation board be appointed. The laborers want parity with members of the same union elsewhere in B.C.

Paralyzed Mother Nurses Baby in Snow-Blown Wreck

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—"Her courage and initiative saved our baby's life," says the husband of a young mother who managed to keep her two-month-old baby and herself alive for two days in the wreckage of a plane on a cold, snowy mountain.

Loren Little, 24-year-old University of Washington medical student, spoke with pride as he told of the ordeal his wife, Karla, 25, underwent to save herself and their daughter, Laurie.

Mrs. Little's father and stepmother died in the crash on the snow-covered side of 9,671-foot Mount St. Helens.

Mrs. Little suffered a broken back, broken ribbs, a collapsed lung and frostbitten feet. Doctors reported she was resting comfortably in a hospital today. Her daughter has only a bruised forehead.

Baby Laurie Little Alive and Well After Ordeal

RECALLS ORDEAL

Little said his wife, who was rescued Saturday, was alert and recalled the ordeal clearly.

It began when Mrs. Little and her daughter were picked up in a rented plane by her father, Grant Erickson, 49, an executive of a Radio Supply Co. in Sioux Falls, S.D., and his wife.

They planned to fly to Norwalk, Calif., for the golden wedding anniversary of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Erickson.

Flying south Thursday the four ran into heavy weather. Mrs. Little thinks a wingtip struck the rocky side of the mountain.

LANDED ON LEDGE

Erickson crash-landed on a ledge at the 5,500-foot level. He and his wife were killed.

Inside the broken plane, Little's wife, paralysed below the waist, cuddled and nursed her baby, thankful she could breast-feed Laurie, but worried the child would not receive enough.

She did manage to reach two baby blankets, wraped Laurie in one and stuff the other in a broken window to keep out wind-blown snow.

Thursday she could hear the search planes. Friday she saw them but had no way or strength to signal. Finally, Saturday afternoon, a helicopter spotted the broken plane.

Girl Jumps Off Bridge, Survives

NEW YORK (AP)—A 20-year-old girl remained in critical condition today with multiple injuries she told police she suffered after jumping off the George Washington bridge.

Police said they believe the girl's mother and brother are visiting in Canada.

The girl, semi-conscious and clad only in a blouse, was spotted by a police helicopter Sunday lying on a Hudson River bank about 81 blocks from the bridge at 100th Street.

Saturday night someone walking across the bridge found a pair of women's shoes and a purse containing a small sum of money. He turned them over to police, who said the contents tentatively identified the girl as Roslyn Hirsch of Manhattan.

If the girl did leap from the 248-foot high bridge, a police spokesman said, she would be the first person to survive.

Bellevue Hospital said the girl was suffering from multiple bruises and a possible spine fracture.

Married 20 Years

A divorce was granted in Victoria Law Courts last week to Lisa Hollick, 1406 Chambers Street, Victoria, from William Hollick, 2150 Cadboro Bay Road. They were married at Port Angeles, Wash., in 1946, not 1960, as reported in Friday's Times.

Negro Plight Worse In Northern Cities

NEW YORK (AP) — James Farmer, a prominent American Negro, said Sunday the plight of Negroes in northern U.S. cities is worse in some ways than it was five years ago.

Farmer said in a taped radio interview the problems "are becoming worse in our cities."

The former head of the Congress of Racial Equality now is director of a new civil rights group, Community Action Education.

In New York, he said, the board of education has admitted there is in fact more school segration now than previously and there is more residential segration, because whites have moved to the suburbs.

In the Watts area of Los Angeles, he said, "there have been no changes since the riots of last summer."

Farmer said the civil rights movement is facing a crisis because it has reached the stage where it must shift from dramatic demonstrations to the less spectacular and more complicated tasks of community organizing.

Labor Aristocracy?

MONTREAL (CP) — Gerard Rancourt, secretary-general of the Quebec Federation of Labor, said today the trade union movement in North America is in danger of creating a labor aristocracy.

Such an aristocracy would be a new class of workers just as egotistic and as indifferent to human misery as are the employers with whom they fight for power, he said.

Rotary Officers Installed Tonight

DUNCAN—A new slate of officers of Duncan Rotary Club will be installed tonight.

Incoming president is chiropractor Edward Cornhill.

The other officers are: Phil LeMare, vice-president; Harold Whitfield, secretary; Neil Gray, treasurer; and Tom McKenzie, Bucky Kennett, Don Baker and Len Hearsey, directors.

Installing officer will be Allan Spooner, Sidney, personal representative of district governor John Baikie, Courtenay.

New Sooke R. Bridge Soon

A new bridge over the Sooke River will become a reality in the near future, a highways department spokesman said today.

He said tenders were called earlier this year "and I imagine it won't be long now before the contract is awarded."

On Saturday the president of the Sooke Chamber of Commerce charged that pleas for a new bridge were only met with promises.

John Slemko said: "The bridge is one of those things we have been promised for so long that we have given up hope."

The present bridge is a narrow, one-lane structure which forms a bottleneck on the Victoria to Sooke Road.

Plans for the new bridge call for a wider span adjacent to the present bridge.

Sitter Attacked In Duncan House

DUNCAN — A 10-year-old baby-sitter was beaten up here Saturday night.

The girl told RCMP a man came into the Allenby Road home where she was baby-sitting and attacked her.

The girl said the man beat her and tore off all her clothes.

Police were called to the house but by this ward of King's Daughters' Hospital.
time the girl had been taken to the emergency

She received multiple bruises and a possible concussion.

A man is to appear in court today on an assault charge.

WOMAN SURVIVES TUMBLE

A Sooke woman escaped with only minor injuries early today when she tumbled down a 100-foot embankment alongside Phillips Road in Sooke.

Mrs. Daniel MacIntyre, 2119 Townsend Rd., was treated by a doctor at the scene and taken to her home.

RCMP officers said she fell down the near vertical embankment after stepping from a car about 1 a.m. today.

It took two policemen, two volunteer firemen and four others to handle the rescue operation. They hauled the injured woman on a stretcher up the embankment on ropes.

SAWMILL READY BY EARLY '67

Clearing Work Completed

LADYSMITH—Clearing and dredging work has been completed at the site of the new sawmill to be erected at Ladysmith Harbor.

The $1,000,000 operation of Ladysmith Forest Products Ltd. will be owned 70 per cent by Doman Industries of Duncan and 30 per cent by Pacific Logging and T. W. McKenzie Logging.

The latter are subsidiaries of Canadian Pacific.

Herb Doman said at the weekend: "Our plans are all ready and we will be calling tenders soon.

"We confidently hope to have the mill in operation by the start of 1967."

FIRST PHASE

He said the mill will be large enough to handle up to 50,000,000 board feet a year.

Mr. Doman said: "This is only the first phase of the Ladysmith Forest Product Ltd. development."

The mill site is at the northwest of the government breakwater at Ladysmith Harbor.

HEALTH BOARD PRESSES FOR MORE B.C. GRANTS

COURTENAY—The Upper Island Union Board of Health will ask councils and school boards to take more advantage of provincial grants for health education purposes.

They will also be asked to pay annual assessment dues for the associated boards of health of the province.

The board announced a dental health education program will begin in September conducted by Dr. H. G. Bennett.

BRENTWOOD COLLEGE

MILL BAY—Mrs. John Peter presented the prizes, including one to her son, at the awards day of Brentwood College at the weekend.

She had the thrill of presenting the Butchart Trophy for top scholarship to her son, Christopher.

Christopher's father, Dr. John Peter of the University of Victoria, was guest speaker.

ALL-ROUND

Richard Rollins, who plans to study medicine at the University of Alberta, was awarded the Yarrow Shield for all-round achievement.

The Appleton trophy for outstanding leadership went to head boy, John Fiegl, Vancouver.

Good Citizen awards were won by James O'Donnell and Michael Richmond.

NES OFFICE WON'T CLOSE SAYS MANAGER

DUNCAN—Robert Robinson, manager of the National Employment Service office here, said today his department is not being closed down.

He was commenting on newspaper reports about UIC closures at Vernon, Port Alberni and Duncan.

"Only the Unemployment Insurance Commission section is being centralized at Nanaimo," he explained.

This means the transfer of four men from Duncan.

Mr. Robinson said: "Not only will the NES continue to operate in Duncan but will expand as time goes on due to the economic and industrial growth of the area."

He illustrated this growth by stating the population of North Cowichan has increased 50 per cent in the past ten years.

ON TOP OF OLD NAMU, Seattle Public Aquarium owner Edward Griffin goes for wet ride. (AP Wirephoto).

Namu's Money in the Water For Enterprising Seattle Man

By DALE NELSON

SEATTLE (AP) — A year has passed since Ted Griffin's whale swam into a salmon net near the cannery town from which the whale would take his name — Namu, B.C.

In that year, Namu has become the main attraction of Griffin's Seattle Public Aquarium, starred in a movie, been the focus of a civic controversy, undergone an electorcardiogram, put on weight and made money for Griffin.

●

Griffin would not say how much money. But an aide said attendance on an average Sunday in June was 1,590, compared with 743 last June, before Namu's arrival.

Namu is a killer whale, the first specimen of Orcinus Orca ever to be taken captive and live. Griffin bought him for $8,000 from his fisherman captors and had him towed here in a pen.

At the aquarium on Elliott Bay, Namu puts on five shows a day, alternating with a trained seal act. His biggest crowd-pleaser is a turn in which he leaps from the water for a salmon which Griffin dangles from a tower. The whale's owner, wearing a plastic wet suit, also goes bareback riding on his whale.

●

Namu spent the winter behind a submarine net in Rich Cove, across Puget Sound, where scenes were shot for the movie, Namu the Killer Whale.

While his pet was in Rich Cove, Griffin came up with a plan to install him in a two-acre marine park to be built at the Seattle center, site of the 1962 world's fair. City council endorsed the plan. But it drew opposition, especially from youth organizations which urged that the site be set aside for a teen-age center instead. Griffin withdrew his proposal, but says he hopes to submit it again.

Griffin figures Namu is about eight or 10 years old. The whale is 25 feet long, three feet longer than when he was captured. His weight was estimated at four tons a year ago. When he got up to six tons a few months ago, his diet was cut to 325 pounds of salmon a day from 400 pounds.

●

Killer whales enter Puget Sound when the salmon are running and anyone seeing one is asked to telephone the aquarium collect. Griffin wants a mate for Namu. He has used boats, helicopters, and tranquilizer-injecting harpoons in the search, but abandoned the latter for nets after two harpooned cow whales died. He did catch one, which he named Shamu, but said she was too small for Namy. Shamu was sold to a San Diego aquarium.

CHARRINGTON TOBY BEER...

NOTED FOR ITS BRITISH GOOD TASTE

The British are noted for good taste. And so is British beer. Does this mean that Charrington Toby has MORE good taste than Canadian brews? No. It simply means that British brewers like Charrington omit a great deal of the fizz inherent in Canadian beer. And when interfering fizz is removed, you get full flavour. THIS is how Charrington Toby achieves good taste: less gas... fuller flavour. Have a Toby!

Wives Should Have Strike Ballot Say

By ELIZABETH FORBES

Reports of strikes and rumors of strikes across our country keep average persons, like myself, somewhat confused and more than a little concerned, especially about the far-reaching effects.

Personally I wonder what would happen if the wives of the strikers were given the privilege of a secret ballot to determine whether they wanted their husbands to "go out" or not.

Forbes

Would they think of the unpaid bills that mount up as the weeks go on. Would they envision the dwindling food supplies in refrigerators and deep freezers. Would they look squarely at the need for making do on a pittance and feeding hungry children on half rations.

Would they look ahead and count the months needed to catch up and balance the budget even with stepped-up wages and a certain amount of retroactive pay once a strike is settled?

* * *

If they did I'm almost certain they would say — through their vote—that they would sooner have a man working steadily, day in, day out — or year in, year out for that matter — than one who downs tools at the drop of a hat.

After all, it is the wives of the strikers who take the brunt of the layoffs. They are the ones who must meet the bill collectors, pacify the children, and keep the household on an even keel.

That's why I cannot help wondering what would happen if we let these wives take the strike votes instead of the men.

I also keep wondering if the Canadian worker really has any concept of what constitutes a good day's work.

This is something every man and woman in the labor market should think about seriously.

Indeed, if Canada is going to compete successfully in future world markets, these same men and women will need to assume some responsibility on an individual basis for the welfare of the country.

This would have to translate itself in terms of more value for pay received.

* * *

During the first 20 years after the Second World War, Canadian industry, undamaged by that war, enjoyed what is glibly called a seller's market among world consumers. This favorable situation was responsible in good measure for the pattern of the annual wage increase.

Today, this wage increase seems to be expected by workers regardless of the changes that have taken place in our trading position because countries once ravaged by war have regained their industrial feet.

Many workers still persist in making unrealistic wage demands especially where the wage increase is not matched by a corresponding increase in production.

* * *

All that such increases effect is a boost in consumer prices. They could even force some firms to shut down or economize by laying off staff or eliminating some jobs altogether.

Which sets me wondering again whether some workers, by continually demanding more pay, are helping to create unemployment. In effect, are some workers pricing themselves out of a job and, at the same time, pricing Canadian products out of a competitive position in world markets?

Economically, it is time we learned to cut our coat according to our cloth.

Therefore, it should be emphasized in firm language — by governments at all levels — that Canadians must not expect to get something for nothing.

The full effect of costly strikes in industry should be made known to the public in terms of lost wages and buying power, production losses, lost markets and lost jobs.

It might not be popular to tell the public the hard economic facts of life but unless we are prepared to do this we can expect further wage demands from various groups which are simply not justified.

ONE OF FIVE judges named for the centennial idea competition "Canada—2,000 A.D." is Earle Birney, professor of creative writing at UBC and now writer-in-residence at University of Toronto. Contest is sponsored by Imperial Tobacco Co. Dr. John Deutsch, head of the Economic Council of Canada, is chairman of the judges' panel.

Saanich Parks Program Gets Under Way July 4

Playground registration starts July 4 at 19 parks in Saanich.

The park program is for a six-week period and ends Aug. 12. Inter-park sports will be expanded and swimming will be part of the program with each park having one session a week.

An inter-municipal swimming competition is being held at the end of the six-week program.

Ceramics, copper tooling, stonette pictures, braiding and other crafts will be taught at the parks and an exhibition of the children's work will be shown at the Town and Country Shopping Centre in the first week in August.

Supervisors for each park, plus sports equipment and craft material, will be supplied by the municipal parks department.

Registration commences at 10 a.m. July 4 at these parks: Allenby, Braefoot, Broadmead, Cordova Bay, Hampton, Majestic, Marigold, Maynard, Meadow, Playfair, Prospect, Qu'Appelle, Rainbow, Reynolds, Rosedale, Royal Oak, Rudd, Tolmie and Copley.

BYLAWS DISCUSSED

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell will meet Prince Rupert city officials this week to discuss two city tax bylaws declared invalid Thursday by a British Columbia supreme court judge.

The decision, by Mr. Justice J. W. McInnes, left the city treasury without $250,000 in taxes which were assessed Celgar Ltd. and Skeena Kraft Ltd., after the city extended its boundaries to include company property.

PEARL HARBOR NEXT FOR ESQUIMALT D-E'S

The Esquimalt-based destroyer-escorts HMCS Yukon and Qu'Appelle sailed today for Pearl Harbor, where they will take part in anti-submarine exercises with the U.S. Navy.

Their Pacific trip came only 20 hours after returning from a busy week in Vancouver, where they took part in the annual sea festival.

Aboard the ships when they arrived in Esquimalt Sunday were members of Vancouver Naval Veterans' Association and Navy League Wrennettes, who made the trip at the navy's invitation.

During the ships' stay in Vancouver, thousands boarded them for tours above and below decks.

HOME GARDEN

Indoor Geraniums Can Be Started Now

By HILDA BEASTALL

Geraniums used to be standard equipment on window-sills for winter decoration but as homes become warmer and drier, geraniums are not so easy to grow indoors.

Hilda

Homes still equipped with sunroom having just enough winter heating to keep out frost at night may indulge in these gay plants, for nothing quite equals them for ease of culture and long production of flowers.

Small greenhouses, too, which can be supplied with enough heat and ventilation in winter, may succeed in blooming a half dozen good geraniums in pots for color during the darker months, and the same plants will produce quantities of cutting which will root readily from the end of March.

PLACED OUTSIDE

Preparation of the plants begins now, with a few sturdy, busny geraniums in about six-inch pots. If in smaller pots now, repotting should be done at once to get them growing during July.

If desired, the pots can be placed outside for July and August, and this will harden the new shoots as they are produced. The plants will then settle down for blooming almost continuously from October.

Until about the middle of August, it is a good plan to remove the clusters of flower buds as soon as they are seen.

This treatment encourages continued growth, and by mid-September each six-inch pot plant should have two or three trusses of bloom about to open and several more coming along in various stages of development.

A little weak fertilizer is quite in order once the pots are almost full of roots.

Watering, after the plants are brought indoors in September, will need care. Too much will cause dropping of the buds and too little will result in yellowing and shrivelling of the foliage.

NINTH YEAR

Painting in Park Resumes

The ninth year of painting in the parks will begin on July 4.

Started in 1957, by Gil Williams, the six-week course will attempt to relieve the summer "don't-know-what-to-do" atmosphere with a worthwhile creative outlet for children.

But is this the only purpose of the program?

Says Mrs. F. Jackson, assistant director: "It depends on the maturity of the child. We give him as much genuine art instruction as he can take. If he is ready to learn, we'll teach him."

Each student will have two two-hour sessions a week in Beacon Hill Park. There are either morning or afternoon classes from Monday to Thursday.

Students in the Saanichton-Sidney area will take their classes at the Dominion Experimental Station, 8801 East Saanich Road, Mondays and Wednesdays from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

MAN KILLED WHEN TRAPPED UNDER BOXCAR

OSHAWA, Ont. (CP) — One man was killed and four others injured Saturday when two trains collided near Oshawa.

The two trains were backing up when the accident happened. One was getting ready to move into Oshawa and the other was manoeuvring to climb a steep grade.

The dead man was trapped under one of the four boxcars that were derailed. A crane had to be used to free his body from beneath the car.

He is 38-year-old Gerald Mosher of Belleville, Ont.

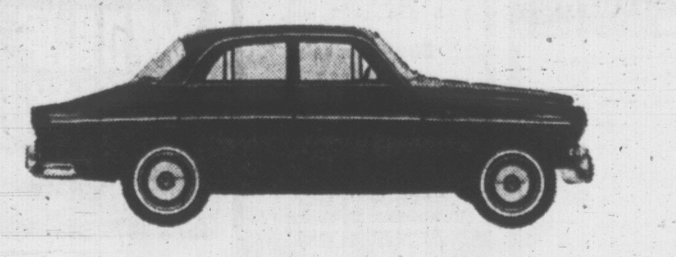
It'll last longer than the payment book



It takes about three years to go through a payment book.

It takes about eleven years to go through a Volvo.

That eleven years, incidentally, is based on the average life of a Volvo in Sweden, where there are no speed limits on the highways, where there are over 70,000 miles of unpaved roads, where driving is virtually a national pastime.

You may not want to keep your Volvo eleven years, but if you do, nobody will be the wiser. We don't follow the wasteful practice of making new models look different just to make old models look obsolete.

But no matter how long you keep your Volvo, you won't tire of it. A Volvo will run away from every other compact in its class, yet deliver over 30 miles to the gallon, even with automatic transmission.

Drive a Volvo Canadian at David Motors Ltd. And don't look at it merely as a superb automobile.

Look at it more as a way to get out from under car payments into swimming pool, boat, or cottage payments. After all, there's more to life than owning the newest car on the block. Even for us.

THE NAKED PREY
Not for the Squeamish
Capitol Theatre

This unusual tale of a hunter turned hunted was filmed entirely in South Africa and is rich both in dramatic impact and documentary realism.

It tells of a white man's struggle for survival under relentless pursuit by savage tribesmen, but the locations are as fascinating as the story, with rare animal studies in the vast game sanctuary of Kruger national park, the Kalhari Desert of Bechuanaland and the mountainous areas of Mozambique.

Weird native dances are depicted (without the help of a thundering studio orchestra) and there is virtually no dialogue.

The uncompromising story embodies fear, suspense, nobility, sorrow, friendship and hate with a minimum of artificial effect. There are no villains in the usual sense — only savage native warriors whose animal-spirited codes create violence and conflict.

White hunter Cornel Wilde is leading a safari for ivory hunter Gert Van Der Berg. A natural antagonism between the two comes to a head when Van Der Berg refuses to give the customary gifts to a warrior tribe before crossing their traditional hunting grounds.

The safari is amubshed by the warriors and all save Wilde are killed or tortured in a way that repels the sensitive viewer. Wilde is stripped naked and turned loose. The warriors give him a good head start and then, at intervals, each sets out in pursuit.

Whether or not the true savage would give him any start at all, it's a good story. Wilde must fight his trackers or die and, when the spear of the first misses him by inches, he seized it and wheels in time to impale the second.

* * *

The relentless chase continues through several reels as Wilde — a fine figure of masculinity — outwits his pursuers by strategy and cunning. At one point he starts a forest fire in order to raise a protective wall of flame behind him.

The film assaults the senses with audio-visual scenes of exhaustion under intense heat, repelling brutality and starvation. But it avoids the usual gimmicks of the bush country pot-boiler and there are no phoney heroics.

Relieving the suspense of the hunt are some breathtaking natural scenes and a few light moments, as when Wilde befriends a native girl whose tribe has fallen to slavery.

Naked Prey was produced and directed by Cornel Wilde with camerawork by H. A. R. Thompson and Ray Sturgess.

Sir Winston Doubted His Brickwork Skill

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill took pride in holding a card in the bricklayers' union, but he had doubts about his skill.

This came to light Sunday with disclosure of an exchange of letters in 1928 between Churchill and the union, which invited him to join after learning that he had built a brick wall at his Chartwell home.

"I do not feel that I am sufficiently qualified," Churchill wrote the late J. F. Lane, secretary of the Amalgamated Union of Building Trade Workers.

Lane replied: "I was aware that you would not be sufficiently competent to carry on the work of a fully qualified bricklayer but at the same time I think that as time passes, you will improve your craft."

Churchill, who at the time was chancellor of the exchequer, was curious about the union rules and asked in a light vein:

"Would you mind, however, letting me know whether, for instance, there is a rule regulating the number of bricks which a man may lay in a day? . . . and what are the restrictions on overtime?"

He was assured that his was a special case.

The letters will be auctioned at Sotheby's July 13. They are being put up for sale by Lane's son.

Let's Go Canadian All the Way—Judy

WINNIPEG (CP) — Secretary of State Judy LaMarsh called Sunday night for a national flag day as one of several symbols which might be used to promote national identity.

In an address to opening sessions of the annual convention of B'nai B'rith, Miss LaMarsh said the Canadian flag has become a "strong national symbol" and a national flag day would "emphasize our pride and allegiance to this special expression of Canada."

It could be introduced during centennial celebrations and she proposed that a regular flag ceremony like the one used in the United States be brought into Canadian schools.

Miss LaMarsh stressed the need to repatriate the Canadian constitution before it "can play a full part in our national identification."

"Until we do this I cannot see but how a constitution which rests in a legislative sense outside our own country can be anything but a negative factor in the strengthening of Canadianism."

She also called for the proclamation of O Canada as the national anthem before the end of the year and advocated a citizenship process for native Canadians.

Native Canadians should witness the "emotion and pride" that naturalized Canadians feel when they are made citizens.

Dance Studios Give Entertaining Program

A program of classical and modern dancing by the Wynne Shaw Studio, Victoria, and the Pat Cairns Studio, Tacoma, provided an entertaining evening at Oak Bay Junior High School Saturday.

Two hit numbers from the show were a solo hornpipe by Victoria's Danny Costain and a number titled A Moment of Jazz.

Another intriguing number was The Artist, with choreography by Pat Cairns. Bruce Wells as the artist, and Linda Christianson as the little girl, got the maximum effect from mime and dance.

Other rousing numbers were The Girl Friends, featuring Melanie Kirk and Penny Kinser, The Fiance by Barbara Dorgan, and The Cupids, Renee Bostic and Deborah Bluse.

Not to be outdone, the Tacoma group staged an excellent sequence from Lionel Bart's Oliver, using the numbers Oliver, Where Is Love? and Oompah-pah.

Outstanding classical soloist was Jane Bellis, accompanied by Maureen Lawson. Also displaying great promise was young Gail Brandon.

Riot Set Off By Beatle Fans In W. Germany

HAMBURG (Reuters) — Thousands of rioting West German fans of the Beatles turned the heart of Hamburg into a battlefield Sunday night, as they broke windows, threw teargas bombs and caused traffic chaos.

Police reinforcements with dogs and loudspeakers barricaded streets around the hall where the British pop group was performing while ticketless fans roamed the centre of West German's largest city.

Appeals for the teen-agers to clear the streets were met with a chorus of yells, and police began drenching them with fire-hoses.

Fans replied with tear gas bombs, and police eventually moved in with dogs and night sticks to disperse the crowds.

During the riot, teen-agers smashed store windows in an elegant shopping centre, broke streetcar windows and tore down trolley-wire contacts. An official said 40 youths were arrested.

By late evening, the city was quiet again, as police vans patrolled the streets.

The Beatles are at the end of a four-day tour of West Germany.

'(Censored) Beatles Go Home'

TOKYO (Reuters). — A 67-year-old Japanese ultra-conservative Saturday began a public-speaking campaign against the forthcoming visit of the Beatles with the cry: "Damned Beatles go home."

Bin Akao, leader of the tiny Japan Patriotic party, harangued an apparently unimpressed group of 300 bystanders for an hour in a Tokyo park about the Beatles, due here Tuesday for a five-day visit.

Police estimate that the Beatles have 3,000,000 Japanese supporters, of whom 300,000 are classified as steady admirers and 50,000 as rabid fans.

Akao said it is a disgrace to allow a rock 'n' roll group to appear at the "sacred" Budokan Sports Auditorium, built in 1964 to promote judo and karate, the traditional Japanese arts of self-defence.

"We must protect our traditions and culture from the Beatles," he said. "Damned Beatles go home."

Skateboard Gift

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Edward G. Robinson, 72, says his get-well present—a skateboard—came from singer Frank Sinatra. Robinson left hospital Sunday and joked that Sinatra sent the present thinking "it would be an improvement over my driving." Robinson was in hospital several weeks after a traffic accident.

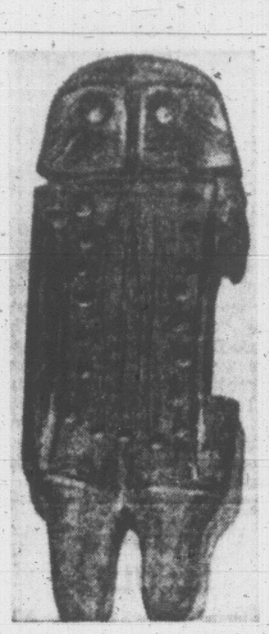
"MOST COLORFUL SHOW ON THE ROAD"

IN CHURCH HALL

Overflow Audience For Colorful Show



STONE relic, believed to be 1,700 years old, was found on the farm of L. G. Salyer of Independence, Oregon. The relic is a nine-inch stone carving.

The audience overflowed into the aisles for the weekend dance revue presented by the Marge Lindley School of Dance.

There wasn't even standing room by the time the show, "Another Openin': Another Show," got under way in the church hall of St. Martin's-in-the-Field.

The program was as varied as it was colorful.

One number called "No Matter What Shape Your Stomach's In," featured a go-go girl, a ballet girl, and a bevy of hula girls, all performing their own specialty to the same music.

Two winning performances from the 1966 Music Festival—an Hawaiian Canoe Dance and an Irish slip jig—were also presented.

INGENIOUS

Most ingenious presentation was a program of space-age dances with such titles as Destination Moon, We Come from Mars, The Moon Maidens and the March of the Martians.

Guest artists were a ladies' group from Sooke PTA and a three-piece band, The Rogues.

Solo performances were by Pat Monkhouse, Betty-Jean Lindley and Willow Planes, with Marg Evans providing solo accordion selections.

Pianists were Marjorie Evans and Paddy Parlby.

Examination For Young Ballerinas

Pirouettes and pliees, arabesques rondes-de-jambe.

These exotic names are the titles of examination subjects for 125 area students.

Two examiners from England's Royal Academy of Dancing are putting the novice ballerinas through their paces for the Ballet in Education children's examinations.

The rigorous tests began last week and will continue till Wednesday.

Miss Irene Ayers, a member of the Academy's Board of Children's examiners, has already tested some 1,100 candidates in 25 towns in the province. Miss Pauline Dibb, a Licentiate of the Academy, has been examining students in eastern Canada.

Their trained eyes will survey the accomplishments of aspiring prima ballerinas from the Vivian Briggs and Bebe Eversfield studios in Victoria and Rae Burns' studio in Sidney.

The youngsters, ranging in age from six to 18, seek to qualify in primary to grade five exams. They are tested for their knowledge of ballet theory and history and music, as well as their performing skills.

Three Thugs Routed By Parrot

LONDON (Reuters) — Seven words from Bill the parrot routed three thugs who forced their way into the South London home of two sisters aged 74 and 56.

The thugs fought back and as the thugs were beginning to get the upper hand in the living room, Bill squawked from the kitchen in a masculine voice: "What's up, what's up, don't be long."

The "man's voice" threw the three raiders into confusion and the younger woman, Florence Bickerton, escaped through a street door in the panelling.

The raiders fled, but two were caught and jailed Friday for 10 years.

The judge said Miss Bickerton and her sister, Mrs. Jessie Wood, had behaved magnificently. The sisters, however, were full of praise for Bill — who is really a lady bird.

BRIDGE LESSON

By JACOBY AND SON

Every bridge book makes a point of saying that a good five-card suit is rebiddable. Most of them fail to go one step further and point out that "rebiddable" does not mean that you must rebid it, but merely that you may when advisable. Do not rebid it just because it is right there in your hand.

Opening lead—♠ Q

Specifically, when you hold 5-3-3-2 distribution and your partner bids any number of no-trump there is usually no reason at all to rebid your five-card suit. If your five-card suit will run as a trump, it will probably run at no-trump. You have no singleton. Hence you have no glaring weakness that the enemy will attack.

Today's South had never learned these principles. Hence, he rebid three clubs to show that he held a five-card club suit. North might well have persisted in no-trump but North had only one stopper in each suit and felt that he should support clubs rather than fight his partner.

South had a play for five clubs. He won the spade lead in his own hand, played ace and another heart and finessed dummy's jack. The finesse lost and he was down one trick.

North would have had a lead pipe cinch at three no-trump. As a matter of interest he probably would have wound up with 11 tricks because East might well have opened a heart away from his queen-ten. This would give North three hearts, two spades, two diamonds and four clubs.

Unquestionably the finest location in Victoria for apartment dwelling, with Goodacre Lake in beautiful Beacon Hill Park right at your front door. Just a few short minutes walk from the heart of the business area.

Due to the response of people of discriminating taste our choice of 1- and 2-Bedroom Suites is rapidly diminishing. We are sorry to say that our Studio Suites have met with such approval that at the present time we have none available for occupancy.

If you are contemplating a change to this most modern form of living see Goodacre Towers, compare your dollar value. Join the many happy residents who have found that we make every effort to provide you with accommodation you are pleased to call "Home."

RENT MONEY

Do what you want to do
Go where you want to go
THIS SUMMER

When summer sizzles — cool it with cash. Call Crescent and tell us how much you'd like to rent. $50.00 for a week only costs 25c. And in the time it takes to finish a glass of lemonade your money will probably be ready for you . . . ready in time to take that needed vacation, ready for you to do all the things you want to do this summer.

Some of the ways Crescent makes it pleasant for you to rent money:

WHAT DO THEY MEAN I'M GETTING BIGGER

Houses don't grow. Everybody knows that, but there I was just sitting as pretty as could be on my ½ acre of landscaped garden when I heard my owners say that I was getting too big for them. What with my four big bedrooms and my den and living room and separate dining room, honest, I haven't grown an inch in 30 years. I am starting to look pretty good though, with all those peach trees growing over my stately veranda with the big granite pillars. Seeing as how they don't want me why don't you call the swell realtor who's going to find me a new owner and come and see me.

Andy Stephen Looks at TV

Such famous show business names as Sinatra, Lewis, Carradine, Thomas, Jones and Harrison will continue through the years in a host of second-generation talent. Many of them will be seen on television in the upcoming season.

Stephen

For instance, David Carradine, son of the famous character actor John Carradine, will star in the new ABC-TV series, Shane, based on the motion picture of the same name.

Marlo Thomas, daughter of comedian Danny Thomas, will have her own ABC-TV series, That Girl, a situation comedy about an aspiring actress.

* * *

Noel Harrison, son of Rex Harrison, will join NBC-TV's new series, The Girl From U.N.C.L.E., as a regular.

Dean Martin's daughter Gail, a singer, is reported to be ready to make her television debut on her father's NBC-TV variety show in the fall.

By the same token, Nancy Sinatra has teamed with her father, Frank Sinatra, in a musical television special which will show next season.

Gary, son of sometime funnyman Jerry Lewis, has appeared with his own musical group on such shows as The Ed Sullivan Show.

The sometime funnyman Jerry Lewis line meant just that. His recent stint on the Johnny Carson Tonight show was a tragedy. The continual plugs for his new movie turned any turn at comedy sour.

While on the musical group kick, other well-known names have sprung up.

* * *

A son of Danny Thomas has formed his own group which made a recent appearance on The Ed Sullivan Show. Danny even turned up to help sell the outfit.

Dean Martin's son, Dino, is teamed up with the son of Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz and others and doing great.

Mickey Rooney's son Teddy has been seen on various television shows, as have the sons of such stars as Robert Walker, Joel McCrae, Henry Fonda and Allan Jones. In the latter case, Jack Jones is one of the greatest singing finds in many a moon.

Sure, the youngsters have a built-in springboard to success through the names they carry, but without that magic ingredient called talent to help them they would be just ordinary run-of-the-mill performers.

I'VE NEVER SEEN ANOTHER LIKE IT

The owners had an architect design it — to give them privacy on a city lot, to provide a 3-BR home that would be ideal for a small family and that would be easy to maintain. For five years they have enjoyed it and now they must leave. Having been built to rigid specifications this is not an ordinary home at an ordinary price but for $24,900 you couldn't replace it today. If you are really interested in something different, give me a call to see for yourself. WILF DAVIS, 388-4271, or Res. 658-5276.

"PIERS"
A JEWEL OF THE GULF ISLANDS

A different world of natural beauty awaits you on Piers Island just five minutes away from Swartz Bay and the Saanich Peninsula. Careful planning has resulted in only a limited number of lots being offered for sale each year. Lots average approx. 100x200, all with waterfront and priced from $2,500 to $4,900. In addition, at $8,500, we have a spacious family cottage offering magnificent views of the San Juan and Gulf Islands. From your property you can step onto the 120 feet of beach. As a member of the Piers Island Association you can enjoy the added amenity of 150 acres of wooded parkland donated to the property owners in perpetuity. Many of the one hundred and ten lot owners are from Victoria and Vancouver and interior points. While others are from as far afield as Alberta, Toronto, California and India. It is later than you think to get your share of the beautiful Gulf Islands—considered the finest cruising and recreation areas on the Pacific Coast. With most of this unique summer community already sold you may never have a better opportunity to own a choice waterfront near VICTORIA at only one third of the price of waterfront on the Saanich Peninsula. All aboard! Leave your problems behind—cast off this weekend and set your course for Piers Island. For transportation call R. Car Bomb Explosion Wounds 2

CHICAGO (UPI) — Two aides of a taxi union leader embroiled in a running battle with the Teamsters Union were wounded today when a bomb exploded in a car on the edge of Chicago's loop.

Both men were wounded, one of them seriously when he was blown into the street.

Police said the bombing appeared to be a misdirected attack on Dominic Abata, who has wrested representation of Chicago's taxi drivers from Joey Glimco, a Teamsters Union leader long reputed to be an associate of gangsters.

The car which exploded belonged to Abata, police said. They said it was believed that the two occupants, Joseph F. Longmeyer, 28, and Charles Moses, 62, had been sent by Abata to pick up the car.

The bomb apparently exploded under the car's hood when Longmeyer turned the ignition key, police said. He was hurled into the street, his legs shattered. Doctors at Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital said he was in fair condition.

P.E.I. Vote Playoff Drive Starts

SOURIS, P.E.I. (CP) — The Progressive Conservatives and the Liberals fired their opening shots last week by the campaign for two legislature seats that could decide which party will form the next Prince Edward Island government.

Premier Walter R. Shaw's Conservatives and Alex B. Campbell's Liberals emerged from the May 30 provincial election with 15 seats each. Victories by either party in two-member Kings 1st riding July 11 would give the winning side 17 seats in the 32-seat house. A split would leave the parties tied with 16 seats each.

Voting was deferred to July 11 because of the death May 26 of Liberal candidate William A. Acorn.

The Liberal candidate now is Bruce Stewart, a former Souris mayor. His running mate is Daniel J. MacDonald, a member of the last legislature.

Conservative candidates are Highways Minister Keith MacKenzie and Peter McAulay.

Premier Shaw said the Island's old-age pensioners will receive an extra $75 in their cheques this month. He said a $25 monthly increase in the $75 pensions has been implemented and is retroactive to April 1.

Mr. Campbell said the Liberals would not "engage in a public auction to bribe the people with money for their votes."

He Paid His Board By Worthless Cheque

A young man who had cashed a worthless cheque so he could pay his board was given a suspended sentence and placed on a $350 bond for one year Friday in central court.

Ian Tateham, 123 South Turner, was also fined $25 on each of two counts of false pretences involving worthless cheques at Woolco.

Research Centre, Car Safety Code Proposed

OTTAWA (CP) — Establishment of a national automobile accident research centre by the federal government has been unanimously recommended by a two-day conference of federal and provincial government representatives, automobile manufacturers and highway safety authorities.

The conference also tentatively approved a 27-point first draft of an automobile safety code for federal government purchases which will be reviewed in detail in October and may be put in force by the end of the year, an industry department spokesman said Wednesday.

The research centre would undertake studies of fatal auto accidents similar to the detailed examination conducted in the case of airline crashes.

The draft auto safety code will be made public and reviewed at a further conference in October.

COVERS LICENSING

In addition to safety features in the automobiles themselves, the draft code deals with standards for licensing drivers. It suggests amendment of the Criminal Code to make admissible in court the results of breath analysis tests.

A participant in the meeting said the 27-point code for automobile construction includes all the safety features auto manufacturers are planning for their 1967 models, plus some additions.

Among the features specified are padded dashboards, recessed instruments and control knobs, collapsible steering wheels, safety door latches and hinges, seat belts and improved seat anchorage, four-way flasher lights, dual brakes, safety glass, standard bumper heights, standard gearshift arrangements, glare reduction for instrument panels and wiper blades, and backup lights.

Also recommended are standards for tires and safety rims, outside rear-view mirrors, rear window defrosters, recessed window and door controls, recessed ash trays and break-away arm rests, head rests to guard against whiplash, padded front seat-backs for back-seat passengers, side marker lamps, roll bars, self-sealing and spill-proof fuel tank, blunted ornaments, and anchorage for luggage carried in car trunks.

Commonwealth Meet Set for September

LONDON (CP) — The Commonwealth prime ministers' conference will take place in London Sept. 6-15, an informant disclosed today.

Rhodesia will be the main topic but other issues will be discussed, he said. Prime Minister Wilson probably will be elected chairman.

The prime ministers had agreed last January at Lagos that another meeting would be called in July if the Ian Smith Rhodesian regime was not eliminated by then. However, Wilson had asked for postponement on the grounds that Anglo-Rhodesian exploratory talks were continuing and that no conclusions could be reached in time for a July conference.

GOD-IS-DEAD

City Dwellers Out of Touch

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

The God-is-dead movement is of "real value" to Christianity and has much to teach the Christian church, Dean Brian Whitlow of Christ Church Cathedral said here Sunday.

In the second of two sermons on the God-is-dead theology, he told a large congregation in the cathedral:

"It is by no means the first time in her long history that the church has been faced with this kind of re-examination of the faith. After the first three centuries, some off-beat conceptions about the person and work of Christ were becoming popular in some quarters.

"Points were raised about Him which the very first Christians had never even thought about at all. But, as each new idea came forward, the church met it, considered it and knew what to do about it."

Dean Whitlow said the God-is-dead theologians have reminded the church that many of its traditional Christian phrases are meaningless to the secular world. But they themselves have used phrases which are equally incomprehensible to the ordinary man.

NEED CLUE

"Unless the reader has the clue, he cannot understand what is meant by such phrases as Christian atheist, non-religious religion, and the death of God.

"Such esoteric use of words only makes more difficult the necessary work of discussion and decision."

Dean Whitlow said there is widespread evidence that people are not finding God today in places where they have traditionally expected to find him.

"Traditionally, men have seen Him at work in the marvellous and the supernatural. Any catastrophic natural phenomenon like an earthquake, the fall of a meteor, a tidal wave, a drought used to be interpreted as the result of His direct intervention.

"As men have come to understand that such phenomena are governed by natural laws, the immediate presence of God has seemed to recede from them.

ACCELERATED

"This tendency has been accelerated by the increasing proportion of people in our Western civilization who now live in cities. The countryman is exposed daily, at first hand, to the basic processes of germination and the life-cycle of all natural things.

"The city dweller is out of touch with these realities. His milk comes in cartons, his meat in cellophane; he never sees a field of wheat growing, or a clutch of eggs hatching out. Neither human birth nor human death take place any longer within the walls of his home.

"The advances of science and the increasing urbanization of the population have made God seem less real and immediate to many people."

MANY PAGANS

Dean Whitlow said society as a whole has discovered that it can apparently operate successfully without any reference to God and the good-living pagan, totally divorced from all thought of God, is a familiar figure of the times.

"For many successful and respectable citizens, the concept of God has become almost totally irrelevant to their everyday lives.

"In this sense, therefore, it is perfectly correct to say that, for many people, God is truly dead. He just is no longer there."

Dean Whitlow said the church must come to terms with this situation and the God-is-Dead theology is a reminder to the church that it must meet the modern world on terms it can understand.

NOT THE END

"It reminds us that it is not enough just to shout the Creed at people. It reminds us that much of our traditional imagery is misleading to modern man and that, if we persist in forcing it on him, we are driving him away from essential Christianity. It reminds us that churchgoing is not an end in itself.

"Too often the church has appeared to be concerned primarily with filling her buildings on Sunday. This is empty and worthless unless it issues out into the personally crucified life of a totally committed follower of Christ Jesus."

Dean Whtilow said the God-is-Dead theology is forcing the church to decide what is meant by the word 'God.'

CONTEMPORARY

"The word means something much more living and contemporary than many of our church formularies make it appear.

"The Christian faith came to birth in a pastoral and unscientific age. Can our present industrialized civilization find ways to approach and understand Him?

"I am certain the answer is Yes. The fundamental needs of mankind remain unaltered. Saint Augustine once said 'Thou hast made us for thyself and our hearts are restless until they find their rest in thee.'

"I believe that modern, industrialized, secularized man inarticulately demands that same fulfilment."

SOLUTION WEDNESDAY

ask Andy
HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Melvin Lawrence, age 10, of Shreveport, La., for his question:

What happens to the tail of a tadpole?

The greatest miracle of nature is a living cell. The small body of a tadpole is made of millions of living cells and each one performs many miraculous duties. Teams of busy cells work together to carry out the orders that change the young tadpole into a smiling old frog.

Metamorphosis is one of those fine sounding words that young persons like to learn. It means transform or change from one form to another. Our bodies cannot transform themselves into dogs or even monkeys, and metamorphosis seems like a miracle to us. But to a frog it is not a miracle. His body transformed itself from a tadpole and a tadpole is an entirely different animal from a frog.

The miracle of metamorphosis happens quite naturally in the life of every frog. His life begins as a round black egg inside a ball of glassy jelly — and it begins in water. The black egg hatches into a black tadpole that must live in water. The helpless infant sticks to a water weed with a small sucker under the spot where his chin should be. In a few days the living cells of the body grow a pair of eyes and a small round mouth. Now he can nibble on weeds and floating scraps of food.

Soon he sprouts gills where his ears should be. The edges of his little black tail begin to disappear. His tail becomes strong and solid and he wriggles it to swim through the water, gulping as he goes. Each gulp goes back through the gills and the gills take out the oxygen he needs, for the tadpole breathes water instead of air.

Gills Change Into Lungs

He lives this life for several weeks. Then his body gets ready to change into that of a land-dwelling animal. Orders are sent to the living cells and a pair of back legs begin to sprout under his tail. Then a pair of front legs begin to sprout from his shoulders. Meantime a still greater miracle is happening. The gills that take dissolved oxygen from the water are changing into lungs. And lungs take oxygen from the air.

These changes use up a lot of energy and the tadpole has a huge appetite. He now has the legs and lungs he will need for a life on the land. Gradually his tail becomes smaller, for it will not be needed. The tail material is taken into his body and reused to help the little frog to grow into a bigger frog.

An ordinary tadpole takes about eight weeks to change into a frog. As he grows from an infant into an adult he becomes bigger as we do. But his body also goes through the miraculous change called metamorphosis. It transforms its feathery gills into a pair of lungs and exchanges its fishy tail for four frog legs.

Andy sends a World Book Atlas to Mary Broadrick, age 12, of Charlotte, N.C., for her question:

What Makes Flowers Smell?

There is no end to the miracles that go on inside a living plant. Throughout the day its green foliage uses sunlight to make sugar from air and water. This simple sugar is the basic plant food. Other chemical miracles transform it into complex substances and use them to build growing buds and leaves, roots and shoots, flowers and fruit.

The list of complex chemicals that a plant creates with its basic sugar is very long. Some of them may be sweet-smelling oils. Most of these find their way to the flowers. The leaves and wood and all other plant tissues are built from boxy little cells. In the petal tissues there are pockets between some of the cells. The perfumed oils fill these miniature pockets and because they tend to evaporate, they carry away their sweet fragrance into the surrounding air.

Sharp Head Pain Comes and Goes

By WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Alvarez

In a recent article, Dr. Robert E. Ryan, of St. Louis University School of Medicine, speaks of the severe head pain that Dr. Horton, of Rochester, Minnesota, studied for so many years.

It is often called a histaminic headache, because an injection of histamine will bring on the severe pain. It may be an intense burning or boring feeling. The always unilateral (on one side) pain usually keeps coming on the same side, but occasionally it will change over to the other side. Other types of headache seldom do this. It may last from a few minutes to an hour or two, and then it may go away suddenly.

This behavior helps to make the diagnosis. For a few months the pain may come almost every morning and then there may be months of relief.

There is a tendency for the eye on the affected side to water and the nose on the affected side to get stuffy. There may be some flushing of the face on the affected side. Unlike migraine, there is neither nausea, nor a fuzzy-eyed spell, and unlike migraine, the disease bothers men more than it bothers women.

The doctor feels that usually one can abort the attack by giving an intravenous injection of a drug called dihydroergotamine methanesulfonate (1 cc.). Ergotamine tartrate also may be helpful as it is in migraine. Unfortunately, not all patients respond to the same treatment and a treatment that helps in one spell of a few months may not help in the next spell. The doctor has found Dr. Horton's favorite treatment of desensitization to histamine helpful; also, the doctor gives by mouth 100 or 200 mgs. of nicotinic acid three times a day.

HELP FOR GAS

To the scores of people who write asking me what is good for intestinal gas, I'd like to suggest a trial of ordinary creme de menthe; many a flatulent person has found that a wine-glass full of creme de menthe gives relief within a few minutes.

Someone has asked me about Kaposi's sarcoma. This is a cancer-like disease which involves blood vessels and makes nodules under the skin of the hands and feet. It commonly affects people past 40 years of age, and is particularly likely to attack Italians and Jews. Ninety-five per cent of the patients are men.

It is hard to say what the outlook for a patient is, because when the lumps occur on the hands, already the disease has scattered through the body. In some lucky persons the disease grows very slowly, and so the person can live 25 years or more. X-ray treatment may help.

Beauty Queen Gives Away Crown

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP)—Donna Coleen Danzer, the reluctant winner of the Miss California title, has passed the crown along to the first runner-up.

"The life of a beauty queen just isn't for me," said the 20-year-old Pomona College co-ed.

The crown was given to Charlene Diane Dallas, 19.

Miss Danzer, who entered the contest as Miss El Monte, her southern California home, bowed out after winning the title Sunday, despite the pleas of previous winners and judges.

She said her wish that she would not win was caused by her desire to complete her senior year at Pomona and to be near her boyfriend.

With the title, she passed along $10,000 for personal appearances, a $1,000 college scholarship, a complete wardrobe and jewelry and a new car for a year, as well as the chance to represent California at the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City, N.J.

Anti-Matter Research Takes Big Step Ahead

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP) — Law-abiding physicists happily believe they have broken another law—one that deals with basic behavior of the particles that make up the nuclei, or hearts, of atoms.

The finding offers for the first time a way of telling absolutely whether a particle or body anywhere in the universe is positively or negatively charged, physicists from Columbia University and the State University of New York said Sunday.

Therein lies a means of detecting anti-matter, they said. And, in broad speculation, that might save the lives of future space travellers.

The point is that all the matter in our world, from atoms to people and machines, is composed of basic particles such as protons, neutrons and electrons.

Anti-matter is the reverse, consisting of anti-protons (with a negative charge rather than a positive charge), anti-neutrons, and positrons, or positively charged electrons.

PRODUCES ENERGY

When matter meets anti-matter, they annihilate each other in a flash of energy.

There is good reason to think that planets made of anti-matter exist somewhere in the universe. Astronauts from earth touching down on such a planet would be annihilated.

Previous theory maintained that particles and anti-particles were mirror images of one another acting in exactly the same way.

This is known as "charge conjugations invariance."

Recently, Princeton University researchers discovered a violation of a related law and and theorists since have predicted that the invariance principle also might fall under certain conditions.

The new experimental findings bearing this out are reported by a team including Dr. Paolo Franzini, 33, of Columbia; his wife, Dr. Juliet Lee-Franzini of New York State; and Drs. Charles Baltay and Lawrence Kirsch of Columbia.

They found that the positive particle emerging from a nuclear particle—The Eta Meson—frequently is more energetic and travels away from the decay site faster than the negative particle.

This wouldn't happen if the invariance law held true—unless something yet unknown about particles is involved.

Some 435,000 photographs were taken depicting various decay patterns of the Eta Meson. From detailed measurements the physicists pinpointed 1,441 examples of the decay process on which their findings are based.

Guyana Exploited By U.S.—Jagan

BANFF (CP)—Cheddi Jagan, former prime minister of Guyana, charged Sunday that Canadian and American capitalists are exploiting the national resources of his country, formerly British Guiana.

Addressing about 150 persons at the third summer seminar on democracy, Dr. Jagan said the North American businessmen are extracting huge profits from investments in Guyana.

He urged western countries to "unify nationalistic interests into a new independent political force to stamp out capitalist and colonialist policies" in individual countries.

"We must call for and engage in a simultaneous, determined and united struggle by people in the western countries to end colonialism."

In the last 17 years, Dr. Jagan said, foreign capitalists have invested $30,000,000 in Guayan while extracting $400,000,000 in profits and compiling $200,000,000 in fixed assets.

Dr. Jagan claimed North American investors have realized $3.17 profit from every dollar invested in Latin American countries since the war.

He saved his strongest criticism for United States foreign aid policy. The U.S. was loaning $5,500,000 for construction of a road from a military base to a bauxite plant in Guyana, "but only provided Guyana spends $4,500,000 to buy road-building equipment from the U.S."

The United States also will realize about $2,500,000 in interest on the loan, Dr. Jagan said.

BLIND Negro, Henry Winston, was elected national chairman of the U.S. Communist Party Sunday at the group's national convention in New York Sunday. Party spokesman, Gus Hall, was re-elected general secretary.

Police Clubs Stop March By 1,000 Polish Catholics

By GENE KRAMER

WARSAW (AP)—About 1,000 hymn-singing Polish Roman Catholics clashed with club-swinging police Sunday night in two attempts to march on Communist party headquarters in Warsaw.

At the height of the outbreak, helmeted police charged into a chanting crowd of youthful supporters of Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, the Polish primate, and swung their truncheons. Several persons were arrested.

The violence erupted 10 years to the month after the bloody 1956 riot of Polish workers in Poznan, which set off a shock wave felt throughout the Communist world. The trouble in Poznan was a forerunner of the Hungarian revolution.

The Catholic hierarchy and Poland's Communist regime have been at odds for months over a proposal by Polish bishops for Polish-German reconciliation.

As a result the government rejected a proposed visit to Poland by Pope Paul, barred Cardinal Wyszynski from travelling abroad and closed Polish borders to foreign pilgrims during the celebration this year of the millennium of Christianity in Poland.

Sunday night's demonstrations started after more than 50,000 Catholics jammed St. John's Cathedral and nearby streets for services concluding a week-long celebration of the millennium in Warsaw.

Hundreds of Communist party workers blocked street intersections to try to keep Catholic crowds from surging into the centre of the city.

One group of more than 5,000 Catholics massed outside the palace of Cardinal Wyszynski. When traffic police attempted to clear the streets, angry demonstrators lashed out with umbrellas.

A truck carrying eight riot police tried to stop the marchers. The demonstrators shifted to the other side of the street, shouted "Gestapo! Gestapo!" and continued on.

Two dozen policemen charged with clubs flying and tear gas capsules at the ready. The crowd turned back and eventually dispersed as police trucks converged on the area.

By midnight the city was quiet.

40 KILLED, 30 HURT AS INDIA BUS BURNS

NEW DELHI (UPI)—A bus jammed with 120 passengers burst into flames today when a passenger's cigarette ignited gasoline which had leaked into the vehicle. First reports said 40 persons died in the inferno which followed and 30 others were injured.

Authorities said the gasoline apparently leaked into the bus from cans which had been placed in luggage racks on the roof.

IWA Strike Threat Dispelled As Vote Favors Nemetz Plan

Workers Return To Jobs

First results in voting by 26,000 coastal woodworkers show overwhelming acceptance of the Nemetz report, dispelling the chances of an industry strike.

There was still no comment on the report by Forest Industrial Relations, representing the companies, but a spokesman indicated the industry stand will not be made known until the full union vote is counted later this week. Acceptance is expected.

Turnouts at mass meetings Sunday in Victoria, Vancouver and Duncan drew less than one-half of the members of these locals of the International Woodworkers of America.

In Vancouver, which has 7,000 members, 2,746 voted yes and 326 no for 89 per cent approval.

At Duncan, just over 2,000 of the 4,300 members voted nearly 90 per cent in favor.

About 800 Victoria IWA members, half the total membership here, voted Sunday but the meeting passed a resolution that balloting be continued on the job for those who didn't go to the meeting.

The 4,000-member New Westminster local also is balloting on the job.

About 1,700 members voted in Port Alberni but no ballots were counted until remote camps along the coast can also vote.

Complete results are expected to be made public Thursday.

BACK AT WORK

At the same time, IWA members on strike for the past 10 days in Vancouver and Duncan voted to go back to work immediately.

As many as 14,000 members were on strike at one time but this dwindled to about 7,000. The union had requested no strike action until the Nemetz report was made public.

Duncan president Weldon Jubenville said: "By and large it is a pretty good report.

"It's by far the best report the union has ever got from a mediator. I'm convinced the action of the membership of Local 1-80 and others in stopping work speeded up and sweetened the report."

NO EXTENSION

He also said no extension of the ballot is planned. Letters were sent to each local member pointing out the ballot would be taken at the Sunday meeting.

The report of Mr. Justice Nathan Nemetz, government-appointed industrial inquiry.

LOCKHEED ENTRY IN SUPERSONIC RACE

1,800-m.p.h. Transport Unveiled

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Lockheed Aircraft Corporation unveiled today a plywood dummy of its proposed supersonic transport.

The mock-up of the 1,800-mile-an-hour plane, called the Lockheed 2000, is 273 feet long, about 100 feet longer than present transports.

The four-jet plane would carry the 266 passengers seated five abreast in the coach section and four abreast in first class. A Lockheed spokesman said it could take off and land at present jet-transport airports.

The Lockheed 2000 is the firm's entry in a design competition with Boeing under a study ordered in August, 1963, by the late president John F. Kennedy toward development of a U.S. supersonic transport.

General Electric and Pratt & Whitney are designing jet engines. The Federal Aviation Agency will select an airframe and an engine company to build two prototype supersonic transports.

Designs are to be submitted Sept. 6.

The U.S. transport will compete for world air traffic supremacy in the 1970s with the British-French Concorde.

Lockheed said the U.S. craft, made largely of titanium and due for first flight by 1970, will be nearly 400 miles an hour faster than the Concorde. But the Concorde is scheduled to enter airline service two to three years ahead of the U.S. competitor.

NEW TRIAL ORDERED IN JONES VS. BENNETT

G. E. P. JONES
. . . sued premier

The B.C. Court of Appeal today allowed a new trial in a slander suit launched against Premier W. A. C. Bennett by the former head of the B.C. Purchasing Commission, George E. P. Jones.

The unanimous decision of the three-judge appeal bench also noted:

"The effect of the proposed legislation (to fire Jones) appears to be tantamount to an acknowledgement by the government that the appellant's compulsory retirement was for some cause other than misconduct in office."

"In the absence of explanation of the actions taken by the government it was for the jury to determine what inference was to be drawn from the two apparent courses of action taken by the government."

The judgment stated that the government was pursuing two opposite courses:

One, the prosecution of the appeal of Jones' acquittal on criminal charges, the purpose of which "could only have been to cause the aquittal to be set aside and a finding of guilt substituted";

Two, was the introduction of Bill 34 which made "most generous" provisions for Jones' compulsory retirement.

The 19-page judgment said that it was up to a jury to determine exactly what words were used in the alleged slander.

"Until that has been determined the question as to whether they were related to the appellant and whether they were capable of conveying a defamtory meaning, and were in fact defamatory of the appellant, cannot be answered."

BILL EXPECTED THURSDAY

Sharp Rallies Support For Bank Act Changes

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—Plans for the introduction of the controversial bank act amendments are going ahead with the likelihood that it will be placed before the Commons Thursday, just ahead of the summer recess, Government House Leader George McIlraith said here today.

The bill will go before the house after a debate on the resolution. It will be given first reading. Origainlly there had been hope on the government side that it might be able to get second reading and be referred to the finance committee of the Commons.

Now the aim It to get first reading only. It will ome up for second reading and referral to the committee after the summer recess, according to the House leader.

GETS SUPPORT

The decision indicates that Finance Minister Sharp has rallied support in the cabinet for the amendments.

Several members of the cabinet were reported to be disturbed by the provision in the amending bill that allows the bank interest rate to go up.

Mr. Sharp was said to be unhappy with the delay but now appears to have the solid support of the majority of the cabinet.

Mr. McIlraith declined to comment on reports that Finance Minister Sharp had considered resigning over the issue. The newspaper headlines to that effect were just "hot-weather gossip," Mr. McIlraith said.

The official explanation for the delay in introducing the bill was that one clause had to be altered after the bill was in print.

MEET TODAY

Mr. McIlraith said it might be possible to get the bill before the house for first reading Tuesday. But he thought it would more likely go before the Commons Thursday.

The finance minister was at a cabinet committee meeting today. He was to see Prime Minister Pearson later and the bank bill in its final printed form will be before the cabinet again Tuesday for discussion.

Mr. Sharp was annoyed at the delay in bringing the bill forward.

Former finance minister Walter Gordon and former provincial secretary Maurice Lamontagne have been fighting hard to prevent any changes in the existing bank rate on loans.

ONTARIO JUDGE JAILS FIVE UNION LEADERS

TORONTO (CP)—Jail sentences of two months each were imposed today on five Peterborough union leaders convicted June 6 of contempt of court.

Another 21 men each received 15-day sentences.

Chief Justice G. A. Gale imposed the two-month sentences on Charles Clark, William Mulders, Stanley Rouse, George Rutherford and Victor Skurjat.

All had been convicted of contempt for violating an injunction restricting picketing at the strikebound Tilco Plastics Co. plant in Peterborough.

Chief Justice Gale said in his judgment June 6 that mass demonstrations outside the Tilco plant Feb. 23-24 were illegal in the face of a court injunction limiting pickets to 12.

He said the illegal picketing was well planned and deliberate and was an open challenge to the authority of the court.

MISSISSIPPI MARCH OVER

No Longer Will Fear Reign, Says Meredith

JACKSON, MISS. (AP)—The long and turbulent Mississippi march has ended with James H. Meredith—who started it as a "journey against fear"—saying the "governor and every other person is going to pay attention to the Negro."

"The system of white supremacy will reign no longer" in the U.S., Meredith told a heavily-guarded rally behind the imposing state capitol building Sunday.

Some 16,000 persons, most of them Negroes, flowed through Jackson streets to jam into a portion of the grounds and adjacent areas.

The final leg of the march—from Tougaloo College on the outskirts of Jackson to the capitol—and the rally were marked by a subdued atmosphere.

Meredith, 33, led the procession along with a number of national civil rights leaders, including Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

RESPONSE GREATEST

Meredith drew the greatest response from the crowd, which couldn't hear half of what was said from the flatbed truck that served as a speaker's platform.

Meredith said his father, now dead, told him most white persons "are pretty decent."

"It's true that we got some mean white folks in Mississippi . . . but these people can be decent.

"There is only one thing that is holding them back. And that thing is the system of white supremacy.

"The purpose of the march that I started three weeks ago . . . was to point up and to challenge that thing at the base of the system of white supremacy. That thing is fear. . . ."

STARTED JUNE 5

Meredith began the trek June 5 at Memphis, Tenn., 225 miles north of Jackson. He was wounded by a blast of birdshot from a shotgun the next day near Hernando, Miss., after covering 27 miles. A white man, Aubrey Norvell, of Memphis, was charged with attempted murder and is free on a $25,000 bond in the case.

King and other national civil rights figures rushed in to take up the marathon mission, turning it into a Negro voter registration crusade. They led the marchers off U.S. 51—the route planned by Meredith — and meandered through the heavily Negro-populated delta area.

A sidetrip by auto to Philadelphia, Miss., for a rally unleashed violence and a task force from the march returned to the east central Mississippi town last Friday for a two-mile walk to the courthouse under heavy police guard.

Meredith recuperated from his wounds in New York, where he is a law student at Columbia University. He walked at the front of Sunday's final procession for a while but he had to drop out and ride ahead in an auto because his leg, still not healed from the birdshot wounds, began swelling.

HAILS MEREDITH

At the Capitol, King, who heads the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, hailed Meredith, saying, "it was his bravery, his majestic scorn of crippling fear that originated this march."

Among the whites joining the final day's procession were AFL-CIO Vice-President Walter Reuther and Justice Michael

Peace Efforts Continue—Rusk

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) U.S. State Secretary Dean Rusk told the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization today that the United States will continue its "persistent efforts" to move the war in Viet Nam from the battlefield to the conference table.

Speaking at the opening of the annual meeting of SEATO's council of ministers, Rusk said the United States deeply regretted "that the Soviet Union has seen fit to give both moral and material support to aggression against South Viet Nam."

"What we should like to see them do is to take up their duties as co-chairman (with Britain of the Geneva conference on Indochina) and help the Geneva machinery establish peace in Southeast Asia," he said.

He said that in due time the Chinese mainland will have a government more compatible with the abilities and great traditions of the Chinese people.

At a closed session in the afternoon, Foreign Minister Tran Van Do of South Viet Nam told the foreign ministers 36,000 Viet Cong had switched to the Vietnamese government side in the last year, informants said.

They added that Rusk thought the report important enough that he deferred until Tuesday his own speech to permit Do to speak.

Gangster Aide Held

MONTREAL (UPI) — Joseph V. Asaro, former lieutenant for Cosa Nostra chieftain Joseph (Joe Bananas) Bonanno, was being held in Montreal's Bordeaux Jail today following his arrest by the RCMP on immigration violations.

Interior IWA Eyes Coast Pay

SMITHERS (CP) — The big Interior membership of the International Woodworkers of America (CLC) is expected to seek parity with coastal woodworkers when they open negotiations for a contract renewal in 1967. Thir present contract runs until September next year.

Spokesmen for the Interior group have indicated that a major point will be parity with Coast lumber workers, now voting on acceptance of a recommended increase of 40 cents an hour across the board over two years plus numerous fringe benefits.

The 120 coastal timber operators have not indicated whether they will accept or reject the rcommendations made by industrial inquiry commissioner Mr. Justice Nathan Nemetz of the supreme court. They apparently will await the outcome of the IWA coastal membership vote.

Interior IWA spokesmen say the parity demand would include a single bargaining agency plus an equal wage scale. The current Interior basic wage in the Williams Lake area is $2.17 an hour with an increase to $2.26 due in January.

Present basic rate for coastal IWA workers is $2.17 an hour.

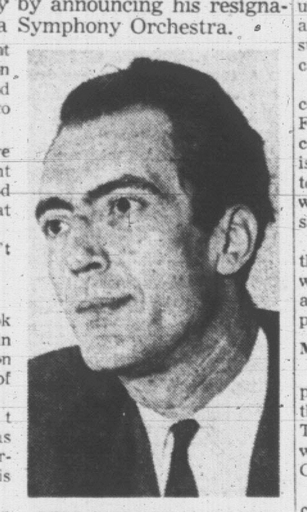
FROM SYMPHONY

Werner-Mueller Resigns Suddenly

BY TERRY IZZARD

Conductor Otto Werner-Mueller dropped a bombshell in music circles today by announcing his resignation as director of Victoria Symphony Orchestra.



OTTO WERNER-MUELLER
. . . 'a stifling situation'

The sudden announcement took even his closest friends on the symphony by surprise and left a big question mark as to the orchestra's future.

First to learn of the move was symphony society president Jack Barraclough who said today: "It's going to be a great loss.

"The public of Victoria won't appreciate it until he's gone."

FINISHING YEAR

Mr. Werner-Mueller, who took on the job of musical director in 1963, will end his association with the symphony at the end of this year.

Unquestionably the most talented conductor Victoria has ever had, the 40-year-old German-born musician, said of his resignation today:

"The symphony is working on a shoestring. There's no room for improvement. It needs more money."

Not the sort of person to criticize for criticism's sake, he went on to say in an interview at his home:

"It's absolutely ridiculous the amount of money they're working on now. It's so unsure."

BEGGAR

Of himself he said: "I feel much more like a beggar than an artistic asset to the city.

"This is a stifling situation."

Mr. Werner-Mueller, whose contract runs until the end of the season next April, but who took the optional six months notice, said the symphony is sadly in need of more professional musicians.

At present, many of its 70 members are drawn from the tri-services college of music at Naden.

COLLEGE VITAL

"If the college were taken away there would be no symphony," he remarked.

For his services for a season—which last year consisted of 27 concerts in Victoria and surrounding areas — the former CBC conductor receives $11,000.

In addition, he annually conducts a number of concerts up-Island, in eastern Canada and the U.S.

A professional conductor since the age of 19, he believes the symphony cannot improve any more unless the city chips in a larger annual grant.

FIVE CENTS

Last year, Victoria's share of the cost was five cents per capita, with other Greater Victoria municipalities chipping in slightly less.

Other grants from government and individuals, and ticket sales gave the symphony a total working budget of $100,000, scarcely enough to pay musicians' wages. It left them $16,000 in the red at the end of last season.

Cheered Everywhere

LENINGRAD (UPI)—French president Charles de Gaulle moved into the home stretch today of his 5,000-mile swing through the Soviet Union, cheered nearly everywhere by large crowds that seemd to indicate his popularity with the Russians.

De Gaulle attended mass Sunday in Leningrad's only Roman Catholic Church.

U.S. Car Sales Continue Slide

NEW YORK (AP)—Two of the weaker spots in the U.S. economy, automobile sales and housing starts, have continued to slide.

Though automobiles are selling at their second highest level, they aren't keeping pace with last year.

Housing starts fell in May to their lowest in 3½ years.

Otherwise, the economy kept on an even keel, spurred by demands of the Viet Nam war.

General Motors reported selling 107,232 new passenger cars in the middle 10 days of June, off 14.1 per cent from 124,845 in June 1965.

Performances by the other automakers:

Ford, 58,451 sold in mid-June against 62,738 a year earlier, a decline of 7 per cent; Chrysler, 38,976 against 34,428, an advance of 14 per cent, and American Motors, 8,143 against 7,776, a gain of 12 per cent.

Passenger car production last week totalled an estimated 189,100 units compared with 186,291 the previous week and 201,779 a year ago.

Housing starts in May fell 13 per cent to an annual rate of 1,306,000 units from 1,499,000 in April. A year earlier the pace was 1,516,000.

Some economists term housing starts a leading indicator, foreshadowing changes of direction in business activity. But a government official said, "this is simply a manifestation of the credit squeeze that housing is in."

Freight traffic on U.S. railroads last week was the highest in 22 years, showing an increase of 8.6 per cent over a year earlier.

The advance of the cost of living — which has been in its steepest climb in 15 years—was kept to a minimal one-tenth of one per cent in May by a drop in food prices.

FREE TRADE IN TIRES DISCUSSED

TORONTO (CP) — Canadian tire manufacturers and officials of the federal industry department are discussing the possibility of free trade in tires and tubes between Canada and the United States, an official of the Rubber Association of Canada said.

Greig B. Smith, association manager, said in an interview the agreement hinges greatly on whether Canadian tire companies would be able to buy raw materials and machinery at prices now paid by U.S. firms.

If they were not, he said, Canadian manufacturers would be at a serious disadvantage.

Mr. Smith said Canadian companies must pay a 5 per cent tariff when they import natural rubber while the product enters the U.S. duty-free.

Pulp Mill Work Starts This Fall

CRANBROOK (CP) — Construction is expected to start this fall on the Skookumchuk pulp mill of Crestbrook Timber Ltd., V. C. Brown, president, said here.

Crestbrook is building the $60,000,000 mill with Honshu Paper Manufacturing Co. Ltd. and Mitsubishi Shoji Ltd.

Mr. Brown, who has just returned from Japan, said: "We had two weeks of intensive work on the project and have worked out a plan to present to the three companies concerned."

He said Crestbrook directors will meet within two weeks to consider arrangements, and if satisfactory, they will be presented to shareholders for approval.

Crestbrook has been gathering information on wood supply, Honshu on engineering costs and Mitsubishi on financing.

'BOOZE PUSHERS?'

TORONTO (CP)—William H. Temple, treasurer of the Ontario Temperance Federation, says Air Canada is converting its hostesses into barmaids.

"It is sad to see one of the finest airlines in the world throwing moral standards overboard in order to promote the sale of booze," Mr. Temple said Sunday in a speech at Donlands United Church.

More Funds Coming For Mines

VANCOUVER (CP) — Tom Elliott, manager of the B.C. and Yukon Chamber of Mines, said Friday he has received assurances the B.C. mines department is seeking more treasury funds to cope with the exploration boom in B.C.

Mr. Elliott said he received assurance from Mines Minister Brothers that he is attempting to "keep up with the flood."

Mr. Elliott also said the mines minister told him in an exchange of letters the mines department is expanding staff.

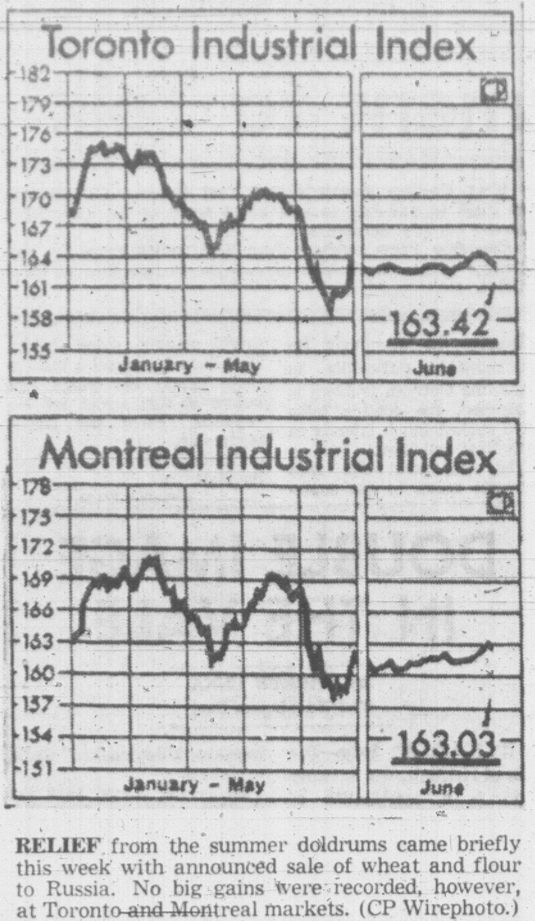
Claim staking is surging ahead of 1965, Mr. Elliott said. Last year 41,882 claims were recorded compared to 40,000 in the first five months of 1966.

Mr. Elliott said a great number of mining companies from all over the world are moving into B.C. and 250 new companies have been formed in B.C. during the first five months of 1966.

He said 75 large exploration companies now are in the field in B.C. along with 400 smaller groups. The work involves about 2,000 prospectors and geologists, which is double the figures of the early 1960s, he said.

Mr. Elliott said the Smithers area is a continuing prospect of great potential.

He said the mineral potential of Tweedsmuir Park in the same general area is enormous, and the molybdenum and copper potential alone is estimated at $1,000,000,000.



RELIEF from the summer doldrums came briefly this week with announced sale of wheat and flour to Russia. No big gains were recorded, however, at Toronto and Montreal markets. (CP Wirephoto.)

Wheat Gives Spurt To Slumping Prices

By SEAN FINLAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Particular issues rather than the general market held the attention of investors last week, as all sections of the Toronto and Montreal markets gained.

Volume was down from 14,373,302 shares the previous week to 13,525,654 last week, but dollar value of shares rose from $48,040,710 to $51,93260,6.

The announcement in the Commons by Trade Minister Sharp that Canada had signed a three-year, $800,000,000 wheat and flour deal with the Soviet Union sparked investor interest in transportation, farm machinery and wheat and grains.

The pact calls for 112,000,000 bushels of wheat to be shipped to the Soviet Union in the first crop year of the agreement, July 31, 1966, to Aug. 1, 1967.

Canada Steamship Lines gained 2 over the week to 35½, to lead transportation issues. Canadian Pacific rose 1½ to 65.

In grain issues, Federal Grain advanced ⅛ to 7⅞, Maple Leaf Mills ⅜ to 15⅞ and Ogilvie Flour ¾ to 14⅝.

Versatile Manufacturing rose 2 to 22 in farm machinery issues, while Massey-Ferguson dipped ⅛ to 34⅜.

Bank of Montreal was unchanged on the week's trading at 59. Bank of Nova Scotia climbed ⅞ to 70⅛, Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce ⅜ to 63⅝, Royal ½ to 73½ and Toronto-Dominion ¾ to 63¼.

Uranium issues were pushed higher after it was announced that the United States government-owned Tennessee Valley Authority had awarded General Electric Co. two contracts to build two nuclear generators. The award of the contract, plus the possibility of others, brought highs to two major uranium issues during last week.

Denison climbed 4⅞ to 54¾, and touched a high of 55¾ Friday. Its subsidiary Roman Crop. gained 1½ to 11⅞, after touching its high of 12⅛, also on Friday. Rio Algom was ahead 2¼ to 26½.

Other base metals didn't fare as well. Cominco lost 1⅛ to 41⅛ and Inco 1 to 96. Their losses were balanced by Hudson Bay, which moved up ¾ to 78½ and Noranda, which climbed 1 to 52¾.

Atlantic Sugar gained ¾ to 30. Tuesday the company announced a three-for-one stock split, and a 30-cent increase in common share dividends from $1.20 a year to $1.50.

GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP) — An upturn in prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today reflected broad advances in some commodities on the Chicago market.

Winnipeg oilseeds, especially rapeseed, followed gains posted in Chicago soybeans which advanced to the daily limit. There were no reports of export business in oilseeds.

Trading in oats and barley was moderate, with fair buying in barley by shippers but no concrete reports of export sales.

Rye responded to Chicago rye advances stemming from favorable crop reports and general optimism on U.S. markets.

Export loadings of Canadian wheat included 2,135,000 bushels to the Soviet Union and 40,000 to Japan.

CHICAGO (AP) — Five of the seven soybean futures contracts were up the limit of 10 cents a bushel allowed for a single trading day but offerings still were scant in the early afternoon.

Brokers said the active trading included both speculative and commercial support. It was the second time within a week that the 10-cent limit had been hit in the pit but it was the first time for the new crop months.

Potash Search Begins

WALLACE, N.S. (CP) — The Atlantic Development Board and the Nova Scotia government are starting drilling in their search for potash.

Crews spent the weekend here unloading 470 tons of drilling equipment from the 1,961-ton freighter Chesley A. Brosbie of St. John's, Nfld.

The rig is bound for an abandoned farm five miles east of this Northumberland Strait fishing village of 300.

Gordon Gillis, drilling foreman for Petrolia Drilling Contractors Ltd. of Calgary, said Sunday he expects to start the drill in four or five days.

Dr. R. A. Cameron of the mineral engineering department of Nova Scotia Technical College said the drilling is getting underway in this area because "it appears the most favorable from present knowledge."

ENCOUNTER POTASH

Some potash has been encountered in the Canadian Rock Salt Co.'s salt mine at Pugwash, 10 miles west of here, and in an abandoned salt mine at Malagash, about seven miles east of here.

Dr. Cameron, an Edmonton native who grew up in Halifax, is employed by the joint ADB-mines department project and is preparing geological maps of the area. He said the joint project started more than a year ago. Geophysical and geological surveys were conducted and shallow test drilling was done to about 1,000 feet early this year in the Wallace area and at nearby River Philip.

This shallow drilling was to test the ground structure.

Saskatchewan, leader in Canadian potash production, has mines at less than 3,000 feet.

Potash is the major ingredient used in the production of agricultural fertilizer.

Dr. Cameron said construction of a fertilizer plant would not necessarily follow development of a potash mine, but he felt such a plant would be a natural consequence.

With the company, besides Mr. Gillis, are an engineer and a crew of seven, and seven men hired in this area. The plan is to work the drill around the clock in three shifts.

There was no firm estimate on how long the drilling will take.

Dr. Cameron said there are plans to drill again in East Wallace whether or not potash is found at the site now being tried.

Prices Move Lower

Prices continued to move lower near the close of business on both the Toronto and New York stock exchanges.

Vancouver reported mixed trading with volume staying up.

IN TORONTO Alcan and Consolidated Paper dropped 1 each to 39¾ and 38⅜ in the main list. Bank of Montreal, Royal Bank and Salada Foods eased ⅜ each to 58¼, 73¼ and 10⅝ respectively.

Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce fell ⅜ to 63½.

Falconbridge and Inco advanced ¼ each to 90½ and 96¼ among senior base metals. Cominco climbed ⅝ to 40⅝.

AT NEW YORK volume to 2:30 p.m. was estimated at 5,600,000 shares, compared with 7,140,000 Friday.

Prices advanced moderately during the morning but gradually fell.

The aircrafts, electronics and airlines led the downturn.

Douglas slumped more than 5 points. Zenith fell more than 2 points.

Losses of better than 2 points were taken by Pan American World Airways, American Airlines and Eastern Air Lines.

U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic and Jones and Laughlin held onto their gains of half a point.

AT MONTREAL utilities were up but most other sections moved fractionally lower in light trading. Industrial volume to 2 a.m. was 65,800 and mines and oils 580,400. Banks were off. Montreal dropped two points to 58 and Nova Scotia one point to 70.

Papers moved to lower levels. Consolidated slid 1¼ to 38¾.

Industrials were down with Du Pont and Imperial Tobacco each easing ⅛ to 43 and 19 respectively.

IN LONDON the stock market was quiet today.

Leading industrials sagged a little but selective buying brought some gains elsewhere in equities. Gilt-edge securities were lower.

Dollar stocks were lower. Canadian Pacific was steady and other Canadians to firm up were Algoma, BA Oil, Canadian Husky and Brazilian Traction. On the dull side were Consolidated Paper, Consolidated Mining, International Nickel, Noranda and Trans-Canada Pipe Line.

IN VANCOUVER Sileurian Chieftain led mining trade, and was up six cents to .70. It had gone as high as .78 earlier in the day.

Native was up to a new high of .55, a climb of a nickel.

Dynasty was among the losers. It dropped .50 to $10.75 and had gone as low as $10.62. Croydon was off three to a new low of .57, and Nadina was off two to a new low of $1.79. Pacific Silver hit a new low of 16 cents, off three.

Brenda was up .60 to $7.80 and Chataway added .10 to $1.15.

Negotiations For Gas Progressing

TOKYO (AP) — Negotiations are progressing satisfactorily on the purchase of natural gas from Alaska, a spokesman for Tokyo Gas Co., said Monday.

Details as to the amount and terms of a contract to be signed with a group of American oil companies will be released about the middle of July, the spokesman said.

He said under present plans Tokyo Gas Co., will buy about 960,000 tons of liquefied gas annually but the amount will depend on how much Tokyo Electricity Co., will be able to consume for power generation. He said the two firms will divide the purchase. Tokyo Electricity will take the greater part, he said.

The spokesman said the first shipment is expected to arrive in Japan about two years hence when facilities and ships are expected to be completed.

"I can't say when the contract will be signed but negotiations are progressing smoothly," he said, adding further details must await announcement in July.

THE BOY WITH A LINE on a legend is little Russell Johnson. When he dropped his hook in the Inner Harbor this morning he came up with Cadborosaurus, a legendary sea serpent. Caddy must have got an ichy fin because his usual summer haunt is Cadboro Bay, where the story began. (Times Photo).

Young Angler Spins a Line With His Daddy's Caddy

By BOB DONAHUE

When little Russell Johnson, 3077 Dysart, cast his fishing line with teeth gleaming was morning he came up with a fugitive from Cadboro Bay.

For there, on the end of the line with teeth bleaming was "Cady," the sea serpent of Cadboro Bay, officially known as Cadborosaurus.

●

He also hooked a 40-year-old local legend which was brought to life again by his father Bill in a fibreglass replica of the famed sea monster.

To the skeptics he is a myth, but even the pessimists will grudingly concede that many credible witnesses have reported sightings.

The Provincial Museum officially credits the sightings to "bull sea lions."

Believers prefer the ancient Indian legend which tells a poignant tale of a beautiful Indian maiden, Cadboro, and her lover Saurus.

Old Indians relate how Cadboro was the sole inhabitant of Vancouver Island when it first emerged from the sea.

She was so lovely the gods decided to preserve her from "the touch of men."

●

But years later the reckless, brave Saurus came and wooed and won her and they eloped by canoe for the Olympic Mountains.

The angered god of air and water turned himself into an eagle and swooped down and carried off Cadboro.

For punishment she was turned into a stone, Gonzales Hill, and for Saurus, love's reward was being turned into a sea serpent.

●

A former Times managing editor coined the name Cadborosaurus and the newspaper still has a $300 reward for an authentic photograph.

Among witnesses who swear to Caddy's reality are a seaman, a clerk of the B.C. legislature, a telegraph lineman and about 600 other persons.

There is one other. His name is Russell Johnson and he is four years old. He knows there is a Caddy because his daddy said so.

ROAD DEATHS OUTNUMBER WORK FATALITIES

You Can Have Deadly Job...and Live Longer

It's safer to drive than it is to work.

But you're more likely to be killed on the road than on the job.

This is shown by figures for the last two years from the Workmen's Compensation Board and the motor vehicles branch.

Highway accidebts caused 500 deaths and 17,574 injuries last year.

Industrial accidents resulted in 253 deaths and 94,379 injuries reported to the WCB.

In 1964, 393 were killed on the roads and 16,911 were injured.

At work, 215 died and 87,827 were hurt.

Time-loss work injury cases (more than three days off) amounted to 27,362 last year. A total of 1.1 million working days were lost.

Compensation costs during 1065 reached $25.2 million, up $1.5 million on the record cost year of 1964.

Of the compensation costs, $10.4 million was paid in time-loss compensation to workers, $8.9 million for permanent disability and death awards and $5.8 million on medical aid payments.

CITY VET REVIVES BIG CATS

Blamed for Sickness Drug in Horse Meat

A Victoria veterinarian, who brought relief to jungle cats felled by tainted meat Friday, said today city vets couldn't be expected to treat circus animals.

"How often do we see panthers and tigers here?" said Dr. R. E. Cranston.

He was referring to animal trainer Bill Horne's comment Saturday that Victoria veterinarians had offered him "no consolation" in the treatment of his sick cats.

"All you can do is treat them symptomatically. Luckily what we did for them was the right thing."

Dr. Cranston said he phoned a veterinary hospital experienced in the treatment of circus animals in Los Angeles which confirmed his diagnosis and treatment.

"There wasn't, as Capt. Horne said there was, anyone in Seattle who knew what to do for them."

Dr. Cranston said analysis of the horse meat fed the cats showed it had been contaminated with barbiturate. The horse apparently had been killed with the drug.

"For the cats eating that meat was like a light anesthesia," said Dr. Cranston.

ANTIDOTE

"We gave them a little antidote for it. It seemed to do the trick."

He said the cats were nearly recovered by Saturday night.

Capt. Horne, whose act Friday night was cut short by dopy animals and who cancelled two shows Saturday, staged an abbreviated performance in the circus' steel pen Saturday night.

Saturday afternoon he told an interviewer Dr. Cranston had helped his cats "a great deal" after earlier saying city veterinarians couldn't help him.

Capt. Horne had been especially worried about Zombie, a black panther, who seemed to be paralyzed.

"The panther," said Dr. Cranston, "had either eaten more of the meat or else his tolerance wasn't so high."

Capt. Horne's act, along with the rest of the circus left for Penticton Sunday morning.

Woman Badly Injured In Royal Oak Crash

DRIVER of this late model compact car which rammed tree off Royal Oak Sunday night is in critical condition. Mrs. Muriel Bourque, of 216 Wildwood, suffered multiple fractures and internal injuries. Damage was $1,500. (Saanich Police Ident Photo.)

Eight Hurt In Weekend Collisions

One woman is in critical condition and seven other people required hospital treatment following five auto accidents in Greater Victoria over the weekend.

Mrs. Muriel Bourque, 62, of 216 Wildwood is being treated in the intensive care unit at Royal Jubilee Hospital after her car ran off Royal Oak Avenue near Lochside Sunday night and slammed into a tree.

Police said she suffered multiple fractures and undetermined internal injuries. Damage to her car was estimated at $1,500.

Two visiting couples were treated at St. Joseph's Hospital emergency ward and released after a two-car crash at Russell and Craigflower shortly after noon Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Duda of Sudbury, Ont., and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Podkulski of Garson, Ont., received minor injuries when their car, driven by Mr. Podkulski, was in collision with an anto driven by Dennis Eberts, 562 Selkirk.

Damage was estimated at $1,000 in a two-car crash at Gorge and Admirals about 7 a.m. today. One of the drivers, Mrs. Phyllis Stenson, 545 Baker, was treated for face cuts at St. Joseph's Hospital. Driver of the other car was Calvin Radomisko, 2830 Prior.

Victor Mazac of Duncan was treated for abrasions to his forehead and arm Saturday night after his car was in collision with another auto at the intersection of the Trans-Canada Highway with Douglas.

$1,000 DAMAGE

Driver of the other car was William Andrews of Aldergrov B.C. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

Mrs. Ella Anderson of the Beverley Hotel was treated for back pains at Royal Jubilee Hospital early Sunday after the car in which she was a passenger was hit from behind at Government and Fisgard.

Police said Roderique Lavoi 1974 Oak Bay, was the driver of the auto which rammed the first car, driven by Mr Virginia Could of Thetis Lak trailer park.

Driver's Flight Ends in Ditch, Fine of $400

The policeman turned on the patrol car's pursuit light when he couldn't catch up to a speeding car on Malahat Drive.

Then the speedster really took off.

The 100-mile-an-hour chase that followed was highlighted by the fugitive's attempt to evade capture by turning on to a side road and switching off his headlights. When the police spotted him, he sped away.

His wild flight ended in a ditch at the foot of a deadend street.

The driver of the car, Thomas Timmis, 180 Atkins Road, was fined $400 in central court today for dangerous driving. His licence was also suspended.

In passing sentence, Magistrate Ostler noted the plight of "the police officer whose duty calls him to take this dreadful risk."

MOTORCYCLIST 'ONLY FAIR'

An Edmonton man, severely injured when his motorcycle went out of control Friday, is in "only fair" condition today.

Randy MacDonald, 21, is in St. Joseph's Hospital with chest and leg injuries received when his machine ran into a hedge on St. Lawrence.

Cabbie Fined For Delivery Of 'Groceries'

A part-time cabbie who pleaded guilty to delivering liquor to a 16-year-old boy was fined $100 in central court today.

Edward Gray of HMCS Antigonish, who works as a part-time taxi driver, described his offence as "a service a number of companies provide—just like delivering groceries."

"These juveniles get in enough trouble without assistance from you." Magistrate Ostler told him, in finding him guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The offence occured May 14.

Explosives Discovered In Saanich

It could have been an explosive weekend in Saanich.

Police were called on to deal with three reports of explosive material being found.

Officers turned a 12-inch "shell" over to authorities at the Canadian Forces Base, Esquimalt, after it was discovered in the foundation of a building being demolished Saturday afternoon at 4520 Hughes.

Later Saturday four sticks of dynamite were found near the ground for a new subdivision.

Sunday evening a man reported to police finding a blasting cap near new construction at Arbutus and Queenswood.

Ask The Times

Q. Can experienced gamblers control dice that aren't "loaded"?

A. United States authority on gambling John Scarfe gives a qualified "yes". He says in a recent magazine article that an expert hand can control the dice on certain kinds of surfaces or against a certain kind of backboard. Mr. Scarfe says the most common means of dice manipulation is called the blanket roll, whereby the dice are thrown in such a way that they roll end over end like wheels. The numbers on the outer sides of the dice do not come up and certain combinations therefore cannot be made. The shot works best on a blanket or soft carpet.

$200 MONTHLY RESTITUTION

Grandmother Released After Fraud Conviction

A Victoria grandmother, convicted of obtaining $12,214 from various local residents by deceit and falsehood, was released from custody today on condition she make restitution.

"I cannot see that putting you in prison would serve any purpose," Judge Montague Drake hold Mrs. Gladys Naylor, 914 Sioux Place, in Victoria County Court.

Mrs. Naylor was found guilty on four counts of fraud. She was said to have borrowed thousands of dollars from various people on the ground she was expecting an inheritance of $750,000 from her uncle's estate.

DIED DESTITUTE

But the uncle, Wallace Ricketts, died destitute in a northern B.C. camp.

Judge Drake said Mrs. Naylor would be released from custody on a recognizance of $10,000 and two other sureties on condition she (1) keep the peace for two years, (2) make restitution by monthly payments, (3) borrow no money except from a chartered bank, (4) report monthly to a probation officer.

"If there is any breath of these conditions during the next two years, you will undergo the judgment of this court," Judge Drake said.

He passed sentence after Mrs. Naylor's defenee counsel, Dermod Owen-Flood, said Mrs. Naylor was prepared to work "night and day" to make restituiton to her victims at the rate of $200 a month.

Quoting indirectly from Shakespeare, Mr. Owen-Flood sid:

"The 'quality of mercy' would not be strained if Your Honor could give her an opportunity to fulfil her debt to society."

He pointed out that Mrs. Naylor had no previous convictions and had been described by a psychiatrist as a suffering from pathological mendacity, which meant that she came to believe her own stories.

"MENTALLY SICK"

"I submit that the accused is a mentally sick woman who originally believed in her own delusions. She was unable to face the tightening web of robbing Peter to pay Paul — a web which became ever tighter as the hope of extrication became more remote."

Judge Drake said he was willing to believe Mrs. Naylor was suffering from "some aberration of the mind" when she told of her uncle's estate.

"But I cannot disregard the heartless way in which you took advantage of your charitable victims. Your behavior has been absolutely shameful," he told Mrs. Naylor.

Crown prosecutor Louis Lindholm pointed out that Mrs. Naylor continued borrowing on the myth of her uncle's estate long after she knew he had died destitute.

Victoria psychiatrist Dr. Douglas Alcorn said he had examined Mrs. Naylor several times since her arrest on Nov. 2.

BELIEVED STORIES

He said she was sane within the meaning of the Mental Hospitals Act, but exhibited signs of a phenomenon known as pathological mendacity.

"I am quite convinced she came to believe her own stories. She was driven by the necessity to raise money and, in all probability, there was a relative who once told her she would be his heir when he died."

Dr. Alcorn said Mrs. Naylor kept no record of her transactions; she did not know how far she was involved in debt or what she had actually written in the way of cheques."

Mrs. Naylor was said to have written cheques far in excess of the amounts she borrowed.

"She did not have the capacity to face reality," Dr. Alcorn said. "When forced to face facts, she still found it difficult to give any details. She assured me she had no funds at all, nor could she account for what had happened to the funds she obtained."

Dr. Alcorn said one individual, now dead, had forced her to make a repayment under circumstances which amounted "almost to blackmail."

"Gamblers often believe they can win in spite of knowing the odds are against them."

Crown Prosecutor Lindholm asked the doctor if he would expect Mrs. Naylor to change her conduct after she knew her uncle had died destitute.

"It is hard to say in these cases," Dr. Alcorn replied.

Mr. Lindholm: "Would you call her an intelligent woman?"

Dr. Alcorn: "Not particularly."

Mr. Lindholm: "Persuasive?"

Dr. Alcorn: "Not to me."

The trial of Mrs. Naylor took place in County Court last Monday and Tuesday. She pleaded not guilty but the crown said she had obtained loans, totalling $12,214—some from total strangers—and to have repaid $178.

Mrs. Naylor stated that her husband was not aware of any of her transactions.

'FEELING NO PAIN' IN STOLEN VEHICLE

A police search for a stolen car ended Saturday when the auto was involved in a crash at Douglas and the Trans-Canada Highway.

The driver, William Andrews of Aldergrove, B.C., admitted in court today he was "feeling no pain" at the time of the mishap.

He was jailed three months for stealing the car, another month for driving while impaired and an extra five days for driving without a licence.

Andrews claimed that a friend had given him the keys to the car and asked him to pick up a relative at Swartz Bay.

But when the friend was questioned, he said he hadn't seen Andrews for 15 years.

SUN'S TRYING BUT CLOUDS GET IN WAY

More of the same.

That's the word from weather seer William Macki.

"The sun is shining," he said, "somewhere up there."

It's just that the clouds keep getting in the way. Otherwise it would be fine.

Expect a few showers tonight and a temperature near 50 degrees.

There might be a break in the clouds sometime Tuesday—but there will also be an occasional shower. The temperature will be around 60 degrees, below normal for this time of year.

Five Minors Fined For Having Liquor

Five minors each were fined $35 in central court Monday for having liquor.

Sentenced were: Robert Washington, 20, of Kilmulu Road; Frank Morton, 20, of 660 Admirals Road; James Carrie, 18, of 1378 Hillside; John Clark, 20, of 4042 Fred Street; and John Darryl Wildin, 20, of 600 Fort Street.

Man Fined $60 Over Tax Delay

A delay in making his sales tax returns cost B. F. Reagan, 1132 Colwood, $15 on each of four counts in central court Monday.

He explained that difficulty in obtaining a good accountant had caused the hold-up in his returns for four consecutive months.

Boy Injured As Car Rolls Over Embankment

LADYSMITH—Andrew Sampson, 3, received head cuts Sunday in a freak car accident.

Andrew and an unidentified older boy were playing around a parked car on the Indian Reserve. Somehow the emergency brake of the car was released.

The car rolled backwards and over an embankment.

Ladysmith RCMP said today it is not known exactly how the boy was injured but he suffered head cuts and was taken to Ladysmith Hospital.

Andrew is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Sampson who live on Ladysmith Indian Reserve.

Woman Pays Fine For Shoplifting

A woman was fined $200 in central court today on a charge of stealing two sets of wall plaques and an ashtray, worth a total of $65.71 from a Victoria store.

Mrs. Gudrun Pilchak of Nanaimo was apparently under medical care at the time, and gave no reason for the theft.

"It is just inexplicable the way people in these circumstances disgrace themselves and get a criminal record for something like this," Magistrate Ostler remarked.

Speedup Expected Shortly On Museum-Archives Work

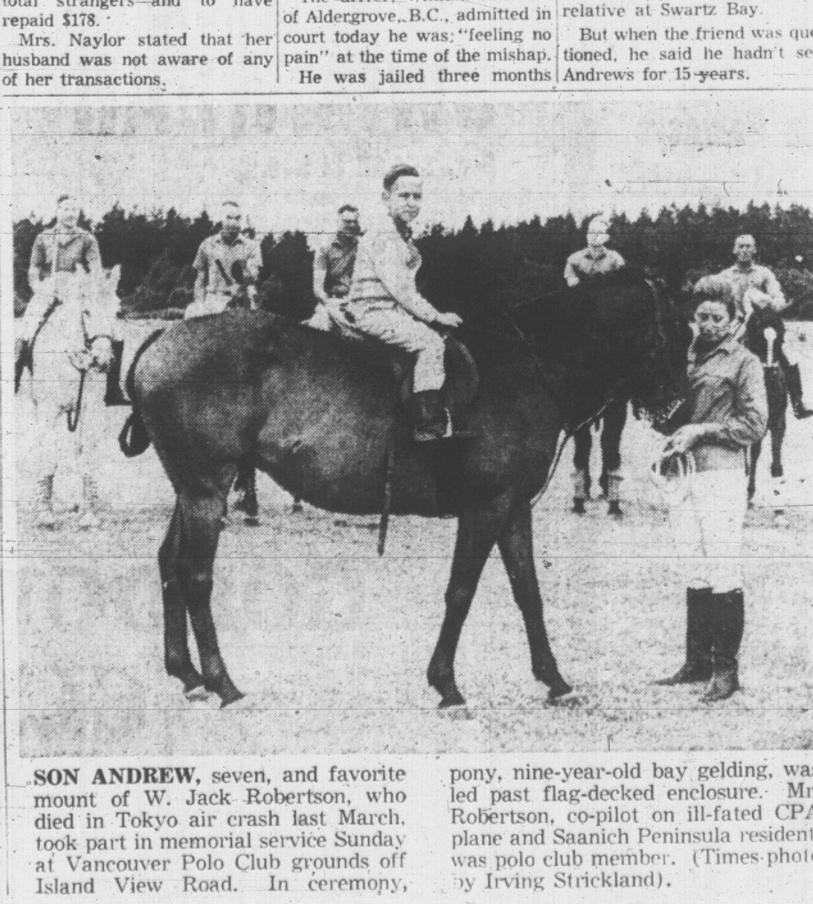
Public Works Minister W. N. Chant today indicated work will return to high gear soon in the Centennial Museum - Archives project.

He has issued the first tender call since work was suspended this spring during a re-examination of costs in a number of provincial construction projects.

Tenders are returnable July 22 on a contract including excavation for the carillion tower to house the bells that will be donated by the Dutch community.

The contract also involves retaining walls, foundation work, installation of floor slabs, drains, waterproofing and backfilling.

"We also will be calling bids for a large contract shortly which will bring the whole project much closer to completion," Mr. Chant said.



SON ANDREW, seven, and favorite mount of W. Jack Robertson, who died in Tokyo air crash last March, took part in memorial service Sunday at Vancouver Polo Club grounds off Island View Road. In ceremony, pony, nine-year-old bay gelding, was led past flag-decked enclosure. Mr. Robertson, co-pilot on ill-fated CPA plane and Saanich Peninsula resident, was polo club member. 40 KILLED, 30 HURT AS INDIA BUS BURNS

NEW DELHI (UPI)—A bus jammed with 120 passengers burst into flames today when a passenger's cigarette ignited gasoline which had leaked into the vehicle. First reports said 40 persons died in the inferno which followed and 30 others were injured.

Authorities said the gasoline apparently leaked into the bus from cans which had been placed in luggage racks on the roof.

IWA Strike Threat Dispelled As Vote Favors Nemetz Plan

Workers Return To Jobs

First results in voting by 26,000 coastal woodworkers show overwhelming acceptance of the Nemetz report, dispelling the chances of an industry strike.

There was still no comment on the report by Forest Industrial Relations, representing the companies, but a spokesman indicated the industry stand will not be made known until the full union vote is counted later this week. Acceptance is expected.

Turnouts at mass meetings Sunday in Victoria, Vancouver and Duncan drew less than one-half of the members of these locals of the International Woodworkers of America.

In Vancouver, which has 7,000 members, 2,746 voted yes and 326 no for 89 per cent approval.

At Duncan, just over 2,000 of the 4,300 members voted nearly 90 per cent in favor.

About 800 Victoria IWA members, half the total membership here, voted Sunday but the meeting passed a resolution that balloting be continued on the job for those who didn't go to the meeting.

The 4,000-member New Westminster local also is balloting on the job.

About 1,700 members voted in Port Alberni but no ballots were counted until remote camps along the coast can also vote.

Complete results are expected to be made public Thursday.

BACK AT WORK

At the same time, IWA members on strike for the past 10 days in Vancouver and Duncan voted to go back to work immediately.

As many as 14,000 members were on strike at one time but this dwindled to about 7,000. The union had requested no strike action until the Nemetz report was made public.

Duncan president Weldon Jubenville said: "By and large it is a pretty good report.

"It's by far the best report the union has ever got from a mediator. I'm convinced the action of the membership of Local 1-80 and others in stopping work speeded up and sweetened the report."

NO EXTENSION

He also said no extension of the ballot is planned. Letters were sent to each local member pointing out the ballot would be taken at the Sunday meeting.

The report of Mr. Justice Nathan Nemetz, government-appointed industrial inquiry

LOCKHEED ENTRY IN SUPERSONIC RACE

1,800-m.p.h. Transport Unveiled

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Lockheed Aircraft Corporation unveiled today a plywood dummy of its proposed supersonic transport.

The mock-up of the 1,800-mile-an-hour plane, called the Lockheed 2000, is 273 feet long, about 100 feet longer than present transports.

The four-jet plane would carry the 266 passengers seated five abreast in the coach section and four abreast in first class. A Lockheed spokesman said it could take off and land at present jet-transport airports.

The Lockheed 2000 is the firm's entry in a design competition with Boeing under a study ordered in August, 1963, by the late president John F. Kennedy toward development of a U.S. supersonic transport.

General Electric and Pratt & Whitney are designing jet engines. The Federal Aviation Agency will select an airframe and an engine company to build two prototype supersonic transports.

Designs are to be submitted Sept. 6.

The U.S. transport will compete for world air traffic supremacy in the 1970s with the British-French Concorde.

Lockheed said the U.S. craft, made largely of titanium and due for first flight by 1970, will be nearly 400 miles an hour faster than the Concorde. But the Concorde is scheduled to enter airline service two to three years ahead of the U.S. competitor.

MISSISSIPPI MARCH OVER

No Longer Will Fear Reign, Says Meredith

JACKSON, MISS. (AP)—The long and turbulent Mississippi march has ended with James H. Meredith—who started it as a "journey against fear"—saying the "governor and every other person is going to pay attention to the Negro."

"The system of white supremacy will reign no longer" in the U.S., Meredith told a heavily-guarded rally behind the imposing state capitol building Sunday.

Some 16,000 persons, most of them Negroes, flowed through Jackson streets to jam into a portion of the grounds and adjacent areas.

The final leg of the march—from Tougaloo College on the outskirts of Jackson to the capitol—and the rally were marked by a subdued atmosphere.

Meredith, 33, led the procession along with a number of national civil rights leaders, including Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

RESPONSE GREATEST

Meredith drew the greatest response from the crowd, which couldn't hear half of what was said from the flatbed truck that served as a speaker's platform.

Meredith said his father, now dead, told him most white persons "are pretty decent."

"It's true that we got some mean white folks in Mississippi . . . but these people can be decent.

"There is only one thing that is holding them back. And that thing is the system of white supremacy.

"The purpose of the march that I started three weeks ago . . . was to point up and to challenge that thing at the base of the system of white supremacy. That thing is fear. . . ."

STARTED JUNE 5

Meredith began the trek June 5 at Memphis, Tenn., 225 miles north of Jackson. He was wounded by a blast of birdshot from a shotgun the next day near Hernando, Miss., after covering 27 miles. A white man, Aubrey Norvell, of Memphis, was charged with attempted murder and is free on a $25,000 bond in the case.

King and other national civil rights figures rushed in to take up the marathon mission, turning it into a Negro voter registration crusade. They led the marchers off U.S. 51—the route planned by Meredith — and meandered through the heavily Negro-populated delta area.

A sidetrip by auto to Philadelphia, Miss., for a rally unleashed violence and a task force from the march returned to the east central Mississippi town last Friday for a two-mile walk to the courthouse under heavy police guard.

Meredith recuperated from his wounds in New York, where he is a law student at Columbia University. He walked at the front of Sunday's final procession for a while but he had to drop out and ride ahead in an auto because his leg, still not healed from the birdshot wounds, began swelling.

HAILS MEREDITH

At the Capitol, King, who heads the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, hailed Meredith, saying, "it was his bravery, his majestic scorn of crippling fear that originated this march."

Among the whites joining the final day's procession were AFL-CIO Vice-President Walter Reuther and Justice Michael

Peace Efforts Continue—Rusk

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) U.S. State Secretary Dean Rusk told the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization today that the United States will continue its "persistent efforts" to move the war in Viet Nam from the battlefield to the conference table.

Speaking at the opening of the annual meeting of SEATO's council of ministers, Rusk said the United States deeply regretted "that the Soviet Union has seen fit to give both moral and material support to aggression against South Viet Nam."

"What we should like to see them do is to take up their duties as co-chairman (with Britain of the Geneva conference on Indochina) and help the Geneva machinery establish peace in Southeast Asia," he said.

He said that in due time the Chinese mainland will have a government more compatible with the abilities and great traditions of the Chinese people.

At a closed session in the afternoon, Foreign Minister Tran Van Do of South Viet Nam told the foreign ministers 36,000 Viet Cong had switched to the Vietnamese government side in the last year, informants said.

They added that Rusk thought the report important enough that he deferred until Tuesday his own speech to permit Do to speak.

WIRE BRIEFS

Apology by Healey

(See story Page 18)

LONDON (UPI)—British Defence Minister Denis Healey today formally apologized for his personal remarks about French President Charles de Gaulle in a weekend speech. Healey told the House of Commons, "I did not intend any personal discourtesy."

Dockers Still Out

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto dockworkers who walked out Friday protesting a liquor charge against a checker voted unanimously against going back to work for the first shift today.

Continue Fight

SAIGON (Reuters) — The moderate Buddhist leader, Thich Venerable Tam Chau said today that Buddhists would continue their struggle against South Viet Nam's ruling generals, using non-violent means.

Theological Beatniks

MILTON, Ont. (CP) — A Roman Catholic priest says those who support the theory that God is dead are "theological beatniks." Rev. J. P. Lardie of Hamilton made the statement while preaching the first sermon in the new Holy Rosary Catholic Church here.

Gangster Aide Held

MONTREAL (UPI) — Joseph V. Asaro, former lieutenant for Cosa Nostra chieftain Joseph (Joe Bananas) Bonanno, was being held in Montreal's Bordeaux Jail today following his arrest by the RCMP on immigration violations.

Interior IWA Eyes Coast Pay

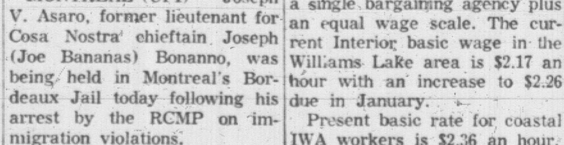
SMITHERS (CP) — The big Interior membership of the International Woodworkers of America (CLC) is expected to seek parity with coastal woodworkers when they open negotiations for a contract renewal in 1967. Thir present contract runs until September next year.

Spokesmen for the Interior group have indicated that a major point will be parity with Coast lumber workers, now voting on acceptance of a recommended increase of 40 cents an hour across the board over two years plus numerous fringe benefits.

The 120 coastal timber operators have not indicated whether they will accept or reject the recommendations made by industrial inquiry commissioner Mr. Justice Nathan Nemetz of the supreme court. They apparently will await the outcome of the IWA coastal membership vote.

Interior IWA spokesmen say the parity demand would include a single bargaining agency plus an equal wage scale. The current Interior basic wage in the Williams Lake area is $2.17 an hour with an increase to $2.26 due in January.

Present basic rate for coastal IWA workers is $2.36 an hour.



Strike votes seem t' be one of our biggest industries.

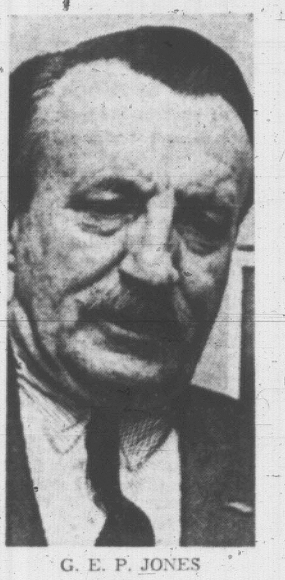
NEW TRIAL ORDERED IN JONES VS. BENNETT



G. E. P. JONES
. . . sued premier

The B.C. Court of Appeal today allowed a new trial in a slander suit launched against Premier W. A. C. Bennett by the former head of the B.C. Purchasing Commission, George E. P. Jones.

The unanimous decision of the three-judge appeal bench also noted:

"The effect of the proposed legislation (to fire Jones) appears to be tantamount to an acknowledgement by the government that the appellant's compulsory retirement was for some cause other than misconduct in office.

"In the absence of explanation of the actions taken by the government it was for the jury to determine what inference was to be drawn from the two apparent courses of action taken by the government."

The judgment stated that the government was pursuing two opposite courses:

One, the prosecution of the appeal of Jones' acquittal on criminal charges, the purpose of which "could only have been to cause the aquittal to be set aside and a finding of guilt substituted";

Two, was the introduction of Bill 34 which made "most generous" provisions for Jones' compulsory retirement.

The 19-page judgment said that it was up to a jury to determine exactly what words were used in the alleged slander.

"Until that has been determined the question as to whether they were related to the appellant and whether they were capable of conveying a damatory meaning, and were in fact defamatory of the appellant, cannot be answered."

BILL EXPECTED THURSDAY

Sharp Rallies Support For Bank Act Changes

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—Plans for the introduction of the controversial bank act amendments are going ahead with the likelihood that it will be placed before the Commons Thursday, just ahead of the summer recess, Government House Leader George McIlraith said here today.

The bill will go before the house after a debate on the resolution. It will be given first reading. Originally there had been hope on the government side that it might be able to get second reading and be referred to the finance committee of the Commons.

Now the aim is to get first reading only. It will come up for second reading and referral to the committee after the summer recess, according to the House leader.

GETS SUPPORT

The decision indicates that Finance Minister Sharp has rallied support in the cabinet for the amendments.

Several members of the cabinet were reported to be disturbed by the provision in the amending bill that allows the bank interest rate to go up.

Mr. Sharp was said to be unhappy with the delay but now appears to have the solid support of the majority of the cabinet.

Mr. McIlraith declined to comment on reports that Finance Minister Sharp had considered resigning over the issue. The newspaper headlines to that effect were just "hot-weather gossip," Mr. McIlraith said.

The official explanation for the delay in introducing the bill was that one clause had to be altered after the bill was in print.

MEET TODAY

Mr. McIlraith said it might be possible to get the bill before the house for first reading Tuesday. But he thought it would more likely go before the Commons Thursday.

The finance minister was at a cabinet committee meeting today. He was to see Prime Minister Pearson later and the bank bill in its final, printed form will be before the cabinet again Tuesday for discussion.

Mr. Sharp was annoyed at the delay in bringing the bill forward.

Former finance minister Walter Gordon and former provincial secretary Maurice Lamontagne have been fighting hard to prevent any changes in the existing bank rate on loans.

ONTARIO JUDGE JAILS FIVE UNION LEADERS

TORONTO (CP)—Jail sentences of two months each were imposed today on five Peterborough union leaders convicted June 6 of contempt of court.

Another 21 men each received 15-day sentences.

Chief Justice G. A. Gale imposed the two-month sentences on Charles Clark, William Mulders, Stanley Rouse, George Rutherford and Victor Skurjat.

All had been convicted of contempt for violating an injunction restricting picketing at the strikebound Tilco Plastics Co. plant in Peterborough.

Chief Justice Gale said in his judgment June 6 that mass demonstrations outside the Tilco plant Feb. 23-24 were illegal in the face of a court injunction limiting pickets to 12.

He said the illegal picketing was well planned and deliberate and was an open challenge to the authority of the court.

FROM SYMPHONY

Werner Mueller Resigns Suddenly

BY TERRY IZZARD

Conductor Otto Werner Mueller dropped a bombshell in music circles today by announcing his resignation as director of Victoria Symphony Orchestra.

The sudden announcement took even his closest friends on the symphony by surprise and left a big question mark as to the orchestra's future.

First to learn of the move was symphony society president Jack Barraclough who said today: "It's going to be a great loss.

"The public of Victoria won't appreciate it until he's gone."

FINISHING YEAR

Mr. Werner Mueller, who took on the job of musical director in 1963, will end his association with the symphony at the end of this year.

Unquestionably the most talented conductor Victoria has ever had, the 40-year-old German-born musician, said of his resignation today:

"The symphony is working on a shoestring. There's no room for improvement. It needs more money."

Not the sort of person to criticize for criticism's sake, he went on to say in an interview at his home:

"It's absolutely ridiculous the amount of money they're working on now. It's so unsure."

BEGGAR

Of himself he said: "I feel much more like a beggar than an artistic asset to the city.

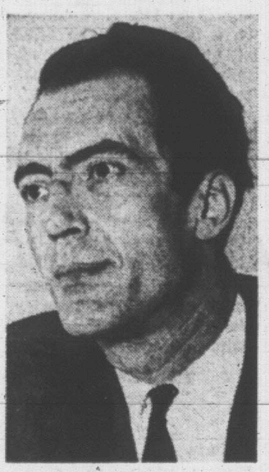
"This is a stifling situation."

Mr. Werner Mueller, whose contract runs until the end of the season next April, but who took the optional six months notice; said the symphony is sadly in need of more professional musicians.

At present, many of its 70 members are drawn from the tri-services college of music at Naden.

COLLEGE VITAL

"If the college were taken away there would be no symphony," he remarked.



OTTO WERNER MUELLER
. . . 'a stifling situation'

For his services for a season — which last year consisted of 27 concerts in Victoria and surrounding areas — the former CBC conductor receives $11,000.

In addition, he annually conducts a number of concerts up-Island, in eastern Canada and the U.S.

A professional conductor since the age of 19, he believes the symphony cannot improve any more unless the city chips in a larger annual grant.

FIVE CENTS

Last year, Victoria's share of the cost was five cents per capita, with other Greater Victoria municipalities chipping in slightly less.

Other grants from government and individuals, and ticket sales gave the symphony a total working budget of $100,000, scarcely enough to pay musicians' wages. It left them $16,000 in the red at the end of last season.

Cheered Everywhere

LENINGRAD (UPI)—French president Charles de Gaulle moved into the home stretch today of his 5,000-mile swing through the Soviet Union, cheered nearly everywhere by large crowds that seemed to indicate his popularity with the Russians.

De Gaulle attended mass Sunday in Leningrad's only Roman Catholic Church.

DIGGING IN for strawberries and ice cream are some of the crowd of more than 1,000 who turned out for the Strawberry Festival Sunday at Beaver Lake Park, organized by the Saanich Diamond Jubilee Committee. Between 800 and 900 dishes of strawberries were served, plus 1,200 cups of ice cream.

commissioner, recommended a 40-cent wage increase in a two-year contract plus other benefits.

Syd Thompson, president of the Vancouver local, described the Nemetz recommendations as the best settlement coast woodworkers have ever won.

He told Sunday's meeting in Vancouver that by "June 15 next year we will be the best paid woodworkers in the world." The final 20-cent-an-hour increase reommended by Mr. Justice Nemetz takes effect June 15, 1967.

Elsewhere, striking civic workers in North Vancouver began returning to their jobs today after accepting a 13 per cent raise over two years. Civic approval is expected today.

IN NORTH VIET NAM

Major Fuel Dump Hit by U.S. Pilots

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy bombers turned a large North Vietnamese fuel dump into an inferno that threw up smoke seen 150 miles away at sea, an American spokesman reported today.

Twelve hours after the strike by twin-jet A-6 Intruders from the carrier Constellation, the strategic oil stores still were engulfed in flames, reconnaissance pilots said. The target was a fuel storage area 35 miles northeast of Vinh and 160 miles south of Hanoi.

U.S. military men said the raid—one of 68 missions against the North Sunday—was a particularly successful blow at North Viet Nam's vital fuel reserves. These stores have been the target of intensified recent air attacks.

Immediately after loosing their heavy bombardment, pilots radioed they saw huge explosions accompanied by thick black smoke. One flier banked sharply to avoid a glowing orange fireball at 3,000 feet.

REPORT BLITZ

While the air blows were being dealt against the North, U.S. pilots killed an estimated 70 Viet Cong guerrillas, destroyed 460 buildings and hit 36 river sampans in South Viet Nam, a spokesman said.

On the ground, U.S. Marines and Vietnamese troops went after the remnants of a battalion of North Vietnamese regulars and hardcore guerrillas in tunnels and bunkers northwest of Hue. The marines reported 66 North Vietnamese killed and took four prisoners.

Marine officers at the battle scene estimated that the U.S. air and artillery fire may have cost the lives of 300, or about half the opposition force. U.S. 7th Fleet ships offshore joined in the barrage.

Down the coast, eight U.S. Army men were killed when two helicopters collided in the air near Tuy Hoa, 230 miles northeast of Saigon, as the bulk of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry went into action against a tough North Vietnamese battalion.

The new spearhead took place during a frontline visit Sunday by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam.

So far 395 enemy have been reported killed in the eight-day-old operation.

JACKASS, CROWS

Golfer Gets Three Birdies

MELBOURNE (AP) — Stan Ely thinks golf is for the birds.

Crows took two of his golf balls after he played shots on the fifth hole Sunday at Leongatha.

As he was about to drive on the seventh he was distracted when a kookaburra (laughing jackass) bird started to laugh from a nearby tree. Ely duffed the shot. About to play his thid shot at the seventh, the kookaburra laughed again. And Ely duffed again.

Finally he got the ball onto the green. Out of the tree came the kookaburra. It picked up the ball and flew off.

Ely said after the game he has had his share of birdies but never two crows and one kookaburra in two holes.

Burchill in Battle With U.S. Newspaper

WASHINGTON (CP) — Professor Charles S. Burchill of Royal Roads Military College at Victoria has made a lengthy reply to a Washington Post editorial calling his views on China and the origins of the Korean War a "farago of faction and nonsense."

Burchill, a professor of history and economics, wrote a study paper called "China—Myth or Menace?", which has been published by the Study Group on China, Vancouver, and distributed in the United States by a Seattle Quaker group.

Burchill's three main rebuttal points in a letter published in Monday's Post:

THREE POINTS

—Doubt does exist about whether the north or south started the Korean War in June, 1950, although Burchill says he leans to the general view that the north began it.

—The South Korean government of the late Syngman Rhee did suffer a major election defeat the previous month and Burchill says a United Nations commission supports him on that.

—The late John Foster Dulles as U.S. state secretary did use American aid as a lever to keep Rhee's government in power.

FOOTNOTE

In a footnote, The Post recited one sentence from Burchill's original study paper which says Dulles before the South Korean assembly in June, 1950, pledged "continued American aid but only if Syngman Rhee's minority government continued in office."

The Post repeats its contention that Dulles "did not say a word in his speech about predicting American aid on the continuation of Mr. Rhee's government."

Musmanno of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court.

Some 2,000 whites clustered near the Capitol, impassively watching the rally. They included 50 Ku Klux Klansmen wearing green pants and shirts, with white ties and white belts.

"We just came down here to make sure these niggers don't cause any trouble," said a leader, who declined to give his name. "If they don't, we won't."

Willie Ricks, a militant leader of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee, repeatedly called during the 22-day trek for a black power crusade and threatened that white blood would be spilled if any more Negroes were killed.

DISSENSION CONTINUES

Although Meredith, King and the other speakers emphasized unity, the squabbles and dissension that marked the march continued on the final day.

The leaders voted to exclude the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and particularly its Mississippi leader, Charles Evers, from participating in the rally on the grounds that Evers and the NAACP did not lend sufficient support to the march.

counted for $9,000, with another $2,500 spent on advertising.

Echoing Mr. Werner Mueller's words, Mr. Barraclough said: "This just isn't enough money to do a good job.

"I've been trying for years to get the city to provide 25-cents per capita. We'd be happy with 10 cents even."

CAME IN 1962

So far, no names have been suggested for replacing Mr. Werner Mueller, who first hit the Victoria scene as guest conductor for the 1962-'63 season.

A resident in Canada since 1951, he is not yet certain where his next move will be to.

"I hope to go to eastern Canada," he said "There I will be nearer the centre of things."

Even so, he has not ruled out the possibility of moving to the U.S.

In August he travels to Wyoming where he will conduct four concerts at a special musicians' festival.

He will return in September to conduct his last series of concerts with Victoria Symphony.

THE BOY WITH A LINE on a legend is little Russell Johnson. When he dropped his hook in the Inner Harbor this morning he came up with Cadborosaurus, a legendary sea serpent. Caddy must have got an ichy fin because his usual summer haunt is Cadboro Bay, where the story began. (Times Photo).

Young Angler Spins a Line With His Daddy's Caddy

By BOB DONAHUE

When little Russell Johnson, 3077 Dysart, cast his fishing line into the Inner Harbor this morning he came up with a fugitive from Cadboro Bay.

For there, on the end of the line with teeth gleaming was "Caddy," the sea serpent of Cadboro Bay, officially known as Cadborosaurus.

●

He also hooked a 40-year-old local legend which was brought to life again by his father Bill in a fibreglass replica of the famed sea monster.

To the skeptics he is a myth, but even the pessimists will grudgingly concede that many credible witnesses have reported sightings.

The Provincial Museum officially credits the sightings to "bull sea lions."

Believers prefer the ancient Indian legend which tells a poignant tale of a beautiful Indian maiden, Cadboro, and her lover Saurus.

Old Indians relate how Cadboro was the sole inhabitant of Vancouver Island when it first emerged from the sea.

She was so lovely the gods decided to preserve her from "the touch of men."

●

But years later the reckless, brave Saurus came and wooed and won her and they eloped by canoe for the Olympic Mountains.

The angered god of air and water turned himself into an eagle and swooped down and carried off Cadboro.

For punishment she was turned into a stone, Gonzales Hill, and for Saurus, love's reward was being turned into a sea serpent.

●

A former Times managing editor coined the name Cadborosaurus and the newspaper still has a $300 reward for an authentic photograph.

Among witnesses who swear to Caddy's reality are a seaman, a clerk of the B.C. legislature, a telegraph lineman and about 600 other persons.

There is one other. His name is Russell Johnson and he is four years old. He knows there is a Caddy because his daddy said so.

ROAD DEATHS OUTNUMBER WORK FATALITIES

You Can Have Deadly Job . . . and Live Longer

It's safer to drive than it is to work.

But you're more likely to be killed on the road than on the job.

This is shown by figures for the last two years from the Workmen's Compensation Board and the motor vehicles branch.

Highway accidents caused 500 deaths and 17,574 injuries last year.

Industrial accidents resulted in 253 deaths and 94,379 injuries reported to the WCB.

In 1964, 393 were killed on the roads and 16,911 were injured.

At work, 215 died and 87,827 were hurt.

Time-loss work injury cases (more than three days off) amounted to 27,362 last year. A total of 1.1 million working days were lost.

Compensation costs during 1965 reached $25.2 million, up $1.5 million on the record cost year of 1964.

Of the compensation costs, $10.4 million was paid in time-loss compensation to workers, $8.9 million for permanent disability and death awards and $5,8 million on medical aid payments.

CITY VET REVIVES BIG CATS

Drug in Horse Meat Blamed for Sickness

A Victoria veterinarian, who brought relief to jungle cats felled by tainted meat Friday, said today city vets couldn't be expected to treat circus animals.

"How often do we see panthers and tigers here?" said Dr. R. E. Cranston.

He was referring to animal trainer Bill Horne's comment Saturday that Victoria veterinarians had offered him "no consolation" in the treatment of his sick cats.

"All you can do is treat them symptomatically. Luckily what we did for them was the right thing."

Dr. Cranston said he phoned a veterinary hospital experienced in the treatment of circus animals in Los Angeles which confirmed his diagnosis and treatment.

"There wasn't, as Capt. Horne said there was, anyone in Seattle who knew what to do for them."

Dr. Cranston said analysis of the horse meat fed the cats showed it had been contaminated with barbiturate. The horse apparently had been killed with the drug.

"For the cats eating that meat was like a light anesthesia," said Dr. Cranston.

ANTIDOTE

"We gave them a little antidote for it. It seemed to do the trick."

He said the cats were nearly recovered by Saturday night.

Capt. Horne, whose act Friday night was cut short by dopy animals and who cancelled two shows Saturday, staged an abbreviated performance in the circus' steel pen Saturday night.

Saturday afternoon he told an interviewer Dr. Cranston had helped his cats "a great deal" after earlier saying city veterinarians couldn't help him.

Capt.Horne had been especially worried about Zombie, a black panther, who seemed to be paralyzed.

"The panther," said Dr. Cranston, "had either eaten more of the meat or else his tolerance wasn't so high."

Capt. Horne's act, along with the rest of the circus left for Penticton Sunday morning.

Woman Badly Injured In Royal Oak Crash

Eight Hurt In Weekend Collisions

One woman is in critical condition and seven other people required hospital treatment following five auto accidents in Greater Victoria over the weekend.

Mrs. Muriel Bourque, 62, of 216 Wildwood is being treated in the intensive care unit at Royal Jubilee Hospital after her car ran off Royal Oak Avenue near Lochside Sunday night and slammed into a tree.

Police said she suffered multiple fractures and undetermined internal injuries. Damage to her car was estimated at $1,500.

Two visiting couples were treated at St. Joseph's Hospital emergency ward and released after a two-car crash at Russell and Craigflower shortly after noon Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Duda of Sudbury, Ont., and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Podkulski of Garson, Ont., received minor injuries when their car, driven by Mr. Podkulski, was in collision with an auto driven by Dennis Eberts, 562 Selkirk.

Damage was estimated at $1,000 in a two-car crash at Gorge and Admirals about 7 a.m. today. One of the drivers, Mrs. Phyllis Stenson, 545 Baker, was treated for face cuts at St. Joseph's Hospital. Driver of the other car was Calvin Radomsko, 2830 Prior.

Victor Mazac of Duncan was treated for abrasions to his forehead and arm Saturday night after his car was in collision with another auto at the intersection of the Trans-Canada Highway with Douglas.

$1,000 DAMAGE

Driver of the other car was William Andrews of Aldergrove, B.C. Damage was estimated at $1,000.

Mrs. Ella Anderson of the Beverley Hotel was treated for back pains at Royal Jubilee Hospital early Sunday after the car in which she was a passenger was hit from behind at Government and Fisgard.

Police said Roderique Lavoie, 1974 Oak Bay, was the driver of the auto which rammed the first car, driven by Mrs. Virginia Could of Thetis Lake trailer park.

$200 MONTHLY RESTITUTION

Grandmother Released After Fraud Conviction

A Victoria grandmother, convicted of obtaining $12,214 from various local residents by deceit and falsehood, was released from custody today on condition she make restitution.

"I cannot see that putting you in prison would serve any purpose," Judge Montague Drake hold Mrs. Gladys Naylor, 914 Sioux Place, in Victoria County Court.

Mrs. Naylor was found guilty on four counts of fraud. She was said to have borrowed thousands of dollars from various people on the ground she was expecting an inheritance of $750,000 from her uncle's estate.

DIED DESTITUTE

But the uncle, Wallace Ricketts, died destitute in a northern B.C. camp.

Judge Drake said Mrs. Naylor would be released from custody on a recognizance of $10,000 and two other sureties on condition she (1) keep the peace for two years, (2) make restitution by monthly payments, (3) borrow no money except from a chartered bank, (4) report monthly to a probation officer.

"If there is any breach of these conditions during the next two years, you will undergo the judgment of this court," Judge Drake said.

He passed sentence after Mrs. Naylor's defence counsel, Dermod Owen-Flood, said Mrs. Naylor was prepared to work "night and day" to make restituiton to her victims at the rate of $200 a month.

Quoting indirectly from Shakespeare, Mr. Owen-Flood sid:

"The 'quality of mercy' would not be strained if Your Honor could give her an opportunity to fulfil her debt to society."

He pointed out that Mrs. Naylor had no previous convictions and had been described by a psychiatrist as suffering from pathological mendacity, which meant that she came to believe her own stories.

"MENTALLY SICK"

"I submit that the accused is a mentally sick woman who origunally believed in her own delusions. She was unable to face the tightening web of robbing Peter to pay Paul — a web which became ever tighter as the hope of extrication became more remote."

Judge Drake said he was willing to believe Mrs. Naylor was suffering from "some aberration of the mind" when she told of her uncle's estate.

"But I cannot disregard the heartless way in which you took advantage of your charitable victims. Your behavior has been absolutely shameful," he told Mrs. Naylor.

Crown prosecutor Louis Lindholm pointed out that Mrs. Naylor continued borrowing on the myth of her uncle's estate long after she knew he had died destitute.

Victoria psychiatrist Dr. Douglas Alcorn said he had examined Mrs. Naylor several times since her arrest on Nov. 2.

BELIEVED STORIES

He said she was sane within the meaning of the Mental Hospitals Act, but exhibited signs of a phenomenon known as pathological mendacity.

"I am quite convinced she came to believe her own stories. She was driven by the necessity to raise money and, in all probability, there was a relative who once told her she would be his heir when he died."

Dr. Alcorn said Mrs. Naylor kept no record of her transactions; she did not know how far she was involved in debt or what she had actually written in the way of cheques."

Mrs. Naylor was said to have written cheques far in excess of the amounts she borrowed.

"She did not have the capacity to face reality," Dr. Alcorn said. "When forced to face facts, she still found it difficult to give any details. She assured me she had no funds at all, nor could she account for what had happened to the funds she obtained."

Dr. Alcorn said one individual, now dead, had forced her to make a repayment under circumstances which amounted "almost to blackmail."

"Gamblers often believe they can win in spite of knowing the odds are against them."

Crown Prosecutor Lindholm asked the doctor if he would expect Mrs. Naylor to change her conduct after she knew her uncle had died destitute.

"It is hard to say in these cases," Dr. Alcorn replied.

Mr. Lindholm: "Would you call her an intelligent woman?"

Dr. Alcorn: "Not particularly."

Mr. Lindholm: "Persuasive?"

Dr. Alcorn: "Not to me."

The trial of Mrs. Naylor took place in County Court last Monday and Tuesday. She pleaded not guilty but the crown said she had obtained loans totalling $12,214—some from total strangers—and to have repaid $178.

Mrs. Naylor stated that her husband was not aware of any of her transactions.

Woman Pays Fine For Shoplifting

A woman was fined $200 in central court today on a charge of stealing two sets of wall plaques and an ashtray, worth a total of $65.71 from a Victoria store.

Mrs. Gudrun Pilchak of Nanaimo was apparently under medical care at the time, and gave no reason for the theft.

"It is just inexplicable the way people in these circumstances disgrace themselves and get a criminal record for something like this," Magistrate Ostler remarked.

Speedup Expected Shortly On Museum-Archives Work

Public Works Minister W. N. Chant today indicated work will return to high gear soon in the Centennial Museum - Archives project.

He has issued the first tender call since work was suspended this spring during a re-examination of costs in a number of provincial construction projects.

Tenders are returnable July 22 on a contract including excavation for the carillion tower to house the bells that will be donated by the Dutch community.

The contract also involves retaining walls, foundation work, installation of floor slabs, drains, waterproofing and backfilling.

"We also will be calling bids for a large contract shortly which will bring the whole project much closer to completion," Mr. Chant said.

Driver's Flight Ends in Ditch, Fine of $400

The policeman turned on the patrol car's pursuit light when he couldn't catch up to a speeding car on Malahat Drive.

Then the speedster really took off.

The 100-mile-an-hour chase that followed was highlighted by the fugitive's attempt to evade capture by turning on to a side road and switching off his headlights. When the police spotted him, he sped away.

His wild flight ended in a ditch at the foot of a deadend street.

The driver of the car, Thomas Timms, 180 Atkins Road, was fined $400 in central court today for dangerous driving. His licence was also suspended.

In passing sentence, Magistrate Ostler noted the plight of "the police offiieer whose duty calls him to take this dreadful risk."

'FEELING NO PAIN' IN STOLEN VEHICLE

A police search for a stolen car ended Saturday when the auto was involved in a crash at Douglas and the Trans-Canada Highway.

The driver, William Andrews of Aldergrove, B.C., admitted in court today he was "feeling no pain" at the time of the mishap.

He was jailed three months for stealing the car, another month for driving while impaired and an extra five days for driving without a licenee.

Andrews claimed that a friend had given him the keys to the car and asked him to pick up a relative at Swartz Bay.

But when the friend was questioned, he said he hadn't seen Andrews for 15 years.

MOTORCYCLIST 'ONLY FAIR'

An Edmonton man, severely injured when his motorcycle went out of control Friday, is in "only fair" condition today.

Randy MacDonald, 21, is in St. Joseph's Hospital with chest and leg injuries received when his machine ran into a hedge on St. Lawrence.

Cabbie Fined For Delivery Of 'Groceries'

A part-time cabbie who pleaded guilty to delivering liquor to a 16-year-old boy was fined $100 in central court today.

Edward Gray of HMCS Antigonish, who works as a part-time taxi driver, described his offence as "a service a number of companies provide—just like delivering groceries."

"These juveniles get in enough trouble without assistance from you," Magistrate Ostler told him in finding him guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The offence occured May 14.

SUN'S TRYING BUT CLOUDS GET IN WAY

More of the same.

That's the word from weather seer William Mackie.

"The sun is shining," he said, "somewhere up there."

It's just that the clouds keep getting in the way. Otherwise it would be fine.

Expect a few showers tonight and a temperature near 50 degrees.

There might be a break in the clouds sometime Tuesday —but there will also be an occasional shower. The temperature will be around 60 degrees, below normal for this time of year.

Five Minors Fined For Having Liquor

Five minors each were fined $35 in central court Monday for having liquor.

Sentenced were: Robert Washington, 20, of Kilmulu Road; Frank Morton, 20, of 660 Admirals Road; James Carrie, 18, of 1378 Hillside; John Clark, 20, of 4042 Fred Street; and John Darryl Wildin, 20, of 600 Fort Street.

Man Fined $60 Over Tax Delay

A delay in making his sales tax returns cost B. F. Reagan, 1132 Colwood, $15 on each of four counts in central court Monday.

He explained that difficulty in obtaining a good accountant had caused the hold-up in his returns for four consecutive months.

Explosives Discovered In Saanich

It could have been an explosive weekend in Saanich.

Police were called on to deal with three reports of explosive material being found.

Officers turned a 12-inch "shell" over to authorities at the Canadian Forces Base, Esquimalt, after it was discovered in the foundation of a building being demolished Saturday afternoon at 4520 Hughes.

Later Saturday four sticks of dynamite were found near the ground for a new subdivision.

Sunday evening a man reported to police finding a blasting cap near new construction at Arbutus and Queenswood.

Ask The Times

Q. Can experienced gamblers control dice that aren't "loaded"?

A. United States authority on gambling John Scarfe gives a qualified "yes". He says in a recent magazine article that an expert hand can control the dice on certain kinds of surfaces or against a certain kind of backboard. Mr. Scarfe says the most common means of dice manipulation is called the blanket roll, whereby the dice are thrown in such a way that they roll end over end like wheels. The numbers on the outer sides of the dice do not come up and certain combinations therefore, cannot be made. The shot works best on a blanket or soft carpet.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to the Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

Boy Injured As Car Rolls Over Embankment

LADYSMITH—Andrew Sampson, 3, received head cuts Sunday in a freak car accident.

Andrew and an unidentified older boy were playing around a parked car on the Indian Reserve. Somehow the emergency brake of the car was released.

The car rolled backwards and over an embankment.

Ladysmith RCMP said today it is not known exactly how the boy was injured but he suffered head cuts and was taken to Ladysmith Hospital.

Andrew is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Sampson who live on Ladysmith Indian Reserve.

New Sooke R. Bridge Soon

A new bridge over the Sooke River will become a reality in the near future, a highways department spokesman said today.

He said tenders were called earlier this year "and I imagine it won't be long now before the contract is awarded."

On Saturday the president of the Sooke Chamber of Commerce charged that pleas for a new bridge were only met with promises.

John Slemko said: "The bridge is one of those things we have been promised for so long that we have given up hope."

The present bridge is a narrow, one-lane structure which forms a bottleneck on the Victoria to Sooke Road.

Plans for the new bridge call for a wider span adjacent to the present bridge.

Sitter Attacked In Duncan House

DUNCAN — A 10-year-old baby-sitter was beaten up here Saturday night.

The girl told RCMP a man came into the Allenby Road home where she was baby-sitting and attacked her.

The girl said the man beat her and tore off all her clothes.

Police were called to the house but by this time the girl had been taken to the emergency ward of King's Daughters' Hospital.

She received multiple bruises and a possible concussion.

A man is to appear in court today on an assault charge.

WOMAN SURVIVES TUMBLE

A Sooke woman escaped with only minor injuries early today when she tumbled down a 100-foot embankment alongside Phillips Road in Sooke.

Mrs. Daniel MacIntyre, 2119 Townsend Rd., was treated by a doctor at the scene and taken to her home.

RCMP officers said she fell down the near vertical embankment after stepping from a car about 1 a.m. today.

It took two policemen, two volunteer firemen and four others to handle the rescue operation. They hauled the injured woman on a stretcher up the embankment on ropes.

SAWMILL READY BY EARLY '67

Clearing Work Completed

LADYSMITH—Clearing and dredging work has been completed at the site of the new sawmill to be erected at Ladysmith Harbor.

The $1,000,000 operation of Ladysmith Forest Products Ltd. will be owned 70 per cent by Doman Industries of Duncan and 30 per cent by Pacific Logging and T. W. McKenzie Logging.

The latter are subsidiaries of Canadian Pacific.

Herb Doman said at the weekend: "Our plans are all ready and we will be calling tenders soon.

"We confidently hope to have the mill in operation by the start of 1967."

FIRST PHASE

He said the mill will be large enough to handle up to 50,000,000 board feet a year.

Mr. Doman said: "This is only the first phase of the Ladysmith Forest Product Ltd. development."

The mill site is at the northwest of the government breakwater at Ladysmith Harbor.

HEALTH BOARD PRESSES FOR MORE B.C. GRANTS

COURTENAY—The Upper Island Union Board of Health will ask councils and school boards to take more advantage of provincial grants for health education purposes.

They will also be asked to pay annual assessment dues for the associated boards of health of the province.

The board announced a dental health education program will begin in September conducted by Dr. H. G. Bennett.

BRENTWOOD COLLEGE

Trophy Presented To Son by Mother

MILL BAY—Mrs. John Peter presented the prizes, including one to her son, at the awards day of Brentwood College at the weekend.

She had the thrill of presenting the Butchart Trophy for top scholarship to her son, Christopher.

Christopher's father, Dr. John Peter of the University of Victoria, was guest speaker.

ALL-ROUND

Richard Rollins, who plans to study medicine at the University of Alberta, was awarded the Yarrow Shield for all-round achievement.

The Appleton trophy for outstanding leadership went to head boy, John Fiegl, Vancouver.

Good Citizen awards were won by James O'Donnell and Michael Richmond.

NES OFFICE WON'T CLOSE SAYS MANAGER

DUNCAN—Robert Robinson, manager of the National Employment Service office here, said today his department is not being closed down.

He was commenting on newspaper reports about UIC closures at Vernon, Port Alberni and Duncan.

"Only the Unemployment Insurance Commission section is being centralized at Nanaimo," he explained.

This means the transfer of four men from Duncan.

Mr. Robinson said: "Not only will the NES continue to operate in Duncan but will expand as time goes on due to the economic and industrial growth of the area."

He illustrated this growth by stating the population of North Cowichan has increased 50 per cent in the past ten years.

ON TOP OF OLD NAMU, Seattle Public Aquarium owner Edward Griffin goes for wet ride. (AP Wirephoto).

Namu's Money in the Water For Enterprising Seattle Man

By DALE NELSON

SEATTLE (AP) — A year has passed since Ted Griffin's whale swam into a salmon net near the cannery town from which the whale would take his name — Namu, B.C.

In that year, Namu has become the main attraction of Griffin's Seattle Public Aquarium, starred in a movie, been the focus of a civic controversy, undergone an electorcardiogram, put on weight and made money for Griffin.

●

Griffin would not say how much money. But an aide said attendance on an average Sunday in June was 1,590, compared with 743 last June, before Namu's arrival.

Namu is a killer whale, the first specimen of Orcinus Orca ever to be taken captive and live. Griffin bought him for $8,000 from his fisherman captors and had him towed here in a pen.

At the aquarium on Elliott Bay, Namu puts on five shows a day, alternating with a trained seal act. His biggest crowd-pleaser is a turn in which he leaps from the water for a salmon which Griffin dangles from a tower. The whale's owner, wearing a plastic wet suit, also goes bareback riding on his whale.

●

Namu spent the winter behind a submarine net in Rich Cove, across Puget Sound, where scenes were shot for the movie, Namu the Killer Whale.

While his pet was in Rich Cove, Griffin came up with a plan to install him in a two-acre marine park to be built at the Seattle center, site of the 1962 world's fair. City council endorsed the plan. But it drew opposition, especially from youth organizations which urged that the site be set aside for a teen-age center instead. Griffin withdrew his proposal, but says he hopes to submit it again.

Griffin figures Namu is about eight or 10 years old. The whale is 25 feet long, three feet longer than when he was captured. His weight was estimated at four tons a year ago. When he got up to six tons a few months ago, his diet was cut to 325 pounds of salmon a day from 400 pounds.

●

Killer whales enter Puget Sound when the salmon are running and anyone seeing one is asked to telephone the aquarium collect. Griffin wants a mate for Namu. He has used boats, helicopters, and tranquilizer-injecting harpoons in the search, but abandoned the latter for nets after two harpooned cow whales died. He did catch one, which he named Shamu, but said she was too small for Namy. Shamu was sold to a San Diego aquarium.

China Creek Road Finished

PORT ALBERNI—The access road to the new park at the mouth of China Creek has been completed.

When it officially opens next year the new park will have campsites, picnic and parking areas, mooring facilities and a safe boat launching area where China Creek joins the broad sweep of the Alberni Canal, less than 45 minutes drive from city hall.

The park is the end result of efforts by former alderman Douglas Mallory, MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Co. Ltd., the provincial parks branch and the Harbor Commission.

Cleric Feted At St. John's

DUNCAN — Canon Roy Crisfield was presented with farewell gifts by the congregation of St. John's Anglican Church, Duncan, Sunday morning.

He has been rector of St. John's for the past two years.

Canon Crisfield will take up a new charge at Lethbridge, Alberta, and be succeeded in Duncan by Rev. G. Allan Kerr, Minnedosa, Manitoba.

CHARRINGTON TOBY BEER...
NOTED FOR ITS BRITISH GOOD TASTE

The British are noted for good taste. And so is British beer. Does this mean that Charrington Toby has MORE good taste than Canadian brews? No. It simply means that British brewers like Charrington omit a great deal of the fizz inherent in Canadian beer. And when interfering fizz is removed, you get full flavour. THIS is how Charrington Toby achieves good taste: less gas... fuller flavour. Have a Toby!

LOCKHEED ENTRY IN SUPERSONIC RACE

1,800-m.p.h. Transport Unveiled

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Lockheed Aircraft Corporation unveiled today a plywood dummy of its proposed supersonic transport.

The mock-up of the 1,800-mile-an-hour plane, called the Lockheed 2000, is 273 feet long, about 100 feet longer than present transports.

The four-jet plane would carry the 266 passengers seated five abreast in the coach section and four abreast in first class. A Lockheed spokesman said it could take off and land at present jet-transport airports.

The Lockheed 2000 is the firm's entry in a design competition with Boeing under a study ordered in August, 1963, by the late president John F. Kennedy toward development of a U.S. supersonic transport.

General Electric and Pratt & Whitney are designing jet engines. The Federal Aviation Agency will select an airframe and an engine company to build two prototype supersonic transports.

Designs are to be submitted Sept. 6.

The U.S. transport will compete for world air traffic supremacy in the 1970s with the British-French Concorde.

Lockheed said the U.S. craft, made largely of titanium and due for first flight by 1970, will be nearly 400 miles an hour faster than the Concorde. But the Concorde is scheduled to enter airline service two to three years ahead of the U.S. competitor.

AGAINST BENNETT

New Trial Set In Jones' Suit

The British Columbia Court of Appeal today allowed a new trial in a slander suit launched against Premier W. A. C. Bennett by the former head of the British Columbia Purchasing Commission, George E. P. Jones.

The unanimous decision of the three-judge appeal bench also noted:

"The effect of the proposed legislation (to fire Jones) appears to be tantamount to an acknowledgement by the government that the appellant's compulsory retirement was for some cause other than misconduct in office.

"In the absence of explanation of the actions taken by the government it was for the jury to determine what inference was to be drawn from the two apparent courses of action taken by the government."

The judgment stated that the government was pursuing two opposite courses:

One, the prosecution of the appeal of Jones' acquittal on criminal charges, the purpose of which "could only have been to cause the aquittal to be set aside and a finding of guilt substituted";

Two, was the introduction of Bill 34 which made "most generous" provisions for Jones' compulsory retirement.

The 19-page judgment said that it was up to a jury to determine exactly what words were used in the alleged slander.

"Until that has been determined the question as to whether they were related to the appellant and whether they were capable of conveying a damatory meaning, and were in fact defamatory of the appellant, cannot be answered."

Mr. Jones' counsel, Tom Berger, argued that the remarks contained "an innuendo which left Jones the victim of rumor and speculation" and the inference was that Mr. Jones was dishonest and unfit to act as chairman of the purchasing commission.

Mr. Jones was appointed February 15, 1956, as head of the commission which purchases supplies required in the British Columbia public service.

On October 2, 1964, he was charged with accepting a benefit from a Victoria car dealer, a man who had dealings with the government. Mr. Jones was suspended from his duties, but had refused to recognize the order-in-council relieving him and remained in his office until the legislature passed an act forcing his dismissal.

The criminal charges against Mr. Jones were later dismissed in county court in Victoria and the decision was upheld in the British Columbia Court of Appeal.

FROM SYMPHONY

Werner Mueller Resigns Suddenly

BY TERRY IZZARD

Conductor Otto Werner Mueller dropped a bombshell in music circles today by announcing his resignation as director of Victoria Symphony Orchestra.

MUELLER
. . . 'a stifling situation'

The sudden announcement took even his closest friends on the symphony by surprise and left a big question mark as to the orchestra's future.

First to learn of the move was symphony society president Jack Barraclough who said today: "It's going to be a great loss.

"The public of Victoria won't appreciate it until he's gone."

FINISHING YEAR

Mr. Werner Mueller, who took on the job of musical director in 1963, will end his association with the symphony at the end of this year.

Unquestionably the most talented conductor Victoria has ever had, the 40-year-old German-born musician, said of his resignation today:

"The symphony is working on a shoestring. There's no room for improvement. It needs more money."

Not the sort of person to criticize for criticism's sake, he went on to say in an interview at his home:

"It's absolutely ridiculous the amount of money they're working on now. It's so unsure."

BEGGAR

Of himself he said: "I feel much more like a beggar than an artistic asset to the city.

"This is a stifling situation."

Mr. Werner Mueller, whose contract runs until the end of the season next April, but who took the optional six months notice, said the symphony is sadly in need of more professional musicians.

At present, many of its 70 members are drawn from the tri-services college of music at Naden.

COLLEGE VITAL

"If the college were taken away there would be no symphony," he remarked.

For his services for a season — which last year consisted of 27 concerts in Victoria and surrounding areas — the former CBC conductor receives $11,000.

In addition, he annually conducts a number of concerts up-Island, in eastern Canada and the U.S.

A professional conductor since the age of 19, he believes the symphony cannot improve any more unless the city chips in a larger annual grant.

FIVE CENTS

Last year, Victoria's share of the cost was five cents per capita, with other Greater Victoria municipalities chipping in slightly less.

Other grants from government and individuals, and ticket sales gave the symphony a total working budget of $100,000, scarcely enough to pay musicians' wages. It left them $16,000 in the red at the end of last season.

MISSISSIPPI MARCH OVER

No Longer Will Fear Reign, Says Meredith

JACKSON, MISS. (AP)—The long and turbulent Mississippi march has ended with James H. Meredith—who started it as a "journey against fear"—saying the "governor and every other person is going to pay attention to the Negro."

"The system of white supremacy will reign no longer" in the U.S., Meredith told a heavily-guarded rally behind the imposing state capitol building Sunday.

Some 16,000 persons, most of them Negroes, flowed through Jackson streets to jam into a portion of the grounds and adjacent areas.

The final leg of the march—from Tougaloo College on the outskirts of Jackson to the capitol—and the rally were marked by a subdued atmosphere.

Meredith, 33, led the procession along with a number of national civil rights leaders, including Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

RESPONSE GREATEST

Meredith drew the greatest response from the crowd, which couldn't hear half of what was said from the flatbed truck that served as a speaker's platform.

Meredith said his father, now dead, told him most white persons "are pretty decent."

"It's true that we got some mean white folks in Mississippi . . . but these people can be decent.

"There is only one thing that is holding them back. And that thing is the system of white supremacy.

"The purpose of the march that I started three weeks ago . . . was to point up and to challenge that thing at the base of the system of white supremacy. That thing is fear. . . ."

STARTED JUNE 5

Meredith began the trek June 5 at Memphis, Tenn., 225 miles north of Jackson. He was wounded by a blast of birdshot from a shotgun the next day near Hernando, Miss., after covering 27 miles. A white man, Aubrey Norvell, of Memphis, was charged with attempted murder and is free on a $25,000 bond in the case.

King and other national civil rights figures rushed in to take up the marathon mission, turning it into a Negro voter registration crusade. They led the marchers off U.S. 51—the route planned by Meredith — and meandered through the heavily Negro-populated delta area.

A sidetrip by auto to Philadelphia, Miss., for a rally unleashed violence and a task force from the march returned to the east central Mississippi town last Friday for a two-mile walk to the courthouse under heavy police guard.

Meredith recuperated from his wounds in New York, where he is a law student at Columbia University. He walked at the front of Sunday's final procession for a while but he had to drop out and ride ahead in an auto because his leg, still not healed from the birdshot wounds, began swelling.

HAILS MEREDITH

At the Capitol, King, who heads the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, hailed Meredith, saying, "it was his bravery, his majestic scorn of crippling fear that originated this march."

Among the whites joining the final day's procession were AFL-CIO Vice-President Walter Reuther and Justice Michael

Peace Efforts Continue—Rusk

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) U.S. State Secretary Dean Rusk told the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization today that the United States will continue its "persistent efforts" to move the war in Viet Nam from the battlefield to the conference table.

Speaking at the opening of the annual meeting of SEATO's council of ministers, Rusk said the United States deeply regretted "that the Soviet Union has seen fit to give both moral and material support to aggression against South Viet Nam."

"What we should like to see them do is to take up their duties as co-chairman (with Britain of the Geneva conference on Indochina) and help the Geneva machinery establish peace in Southeast Asia," he said.

He said that in due time the Chinese mainland will have a government more compatible with the abilities and great traditions of the Chinese people.

At a closed session in the afternoon, Foreign Minister Tran Van Do of South Viet Nam told the foreign ministers 36,000 Viet Cong had switched to the Vietnamese government side in the last year, informants said.

They added that Rusk thought the report important enough that he deferred until Tuesday his own speech to permit Do to speak.

ONTARIO JUDGE JAILS FIVE UNION LEADERS

TORONTO (CP)—Jail sentences of two months each were imposed today on five Peterborough union leaders convicted June 6 of contempt of court.

Another 21 men each received 15-day sentences.

Chief Justice G. A. Gale imposed the two-month sentences on Charles Clark, William Mulders, Stanley Rouse, George Rutherford and Victor Skurjat.

All had been convicted of contempt for violating an injunction restricting picketing at the strikebound Tilco Plastics Co. plant in Peterborough.

Chief Justice Gale said in his judgment June 6 that mass demonstrations outside the Tilco plant Feb. 23-24 were illegal in the face of a court injunction limiting pickets to 12.

He said the illegal picketing was well planned and deliberate and was an open challenge to the authority of the court.

No Ferry Strike

The threat of a ferry strike was averted today, a spokesman for the employees said after a meeting with management.

In a statement, Norman Thornber said employees have been given guaranteed recognition by the B.C. Ferry Authority.

This does not extend however to full collective bargaining rights—an earlier demand.

Quick Case

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — The prosecution took only five minutes today to present its case against Annette Buchanan, 20, the student editor who has refused to name her sources for a story on marijuana.

District Attorney William F. Frye said the only issue for the court is that the University of Oregon student editor refused to answer questions before a grand jury after she had been ordered by a judge to do so.

Ransom Note

GUATEMALA CITY (AP) — A lawyer member of a wealthy Guatemalan family has been kidnapped by armed rebel forces, the press reported today.

The victim was identiifed as Roberto Serrano Alarcon, 44.

Serrano's family said they had no information on the reported abduction, but friends said there had been a ransom note demanding $100,000.

Three on Trial

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI) — Three of six Ku Klux Klansmen accused in connection with the nightrider salying of Negro educator Lemuel Penn of Washington, July 11, 1964, went on trial today in federal district court.

IWA WORKERS FAVOR PLAN

First results in voting by 26,000 coastal woodworkers show overwhelming acceptance of the Nemetz report, dispelling the chances of an industry strike.

There was still no comment on the report by Forest Industrial Relations, representing the companies, but a spokesman indicated the industry stand will not be made known until the full union vote is counted later this week. Acceptance is expected.

Turnouts at mass meetings Sunday in Victoria, Vancouver and Duncan drew less than one-half of the members of these locals of the International Woodworkers of America.

In Vancouver, which has 7,000 members, 2,746 voted yes and 326 no for 89 per cent approval.

At Duncan, just over 2,000 of the 4,300 members voted nearly 90 per cent in favor.

About 800 Victoria IWA members, half the total membership here, voted Sunday but the meeting passed a resolution that balloting be continued on the job for those who didn't go to the meeting.

The 4,000-member New Westminster local also is balloting on the job.

About 1,700 members voted in Port Alberni but no ballots were counted until remote camps along the coast can also vote.

Complete results are expected to be made public Thursday.

BACK AT WORK

At the same time, IWA members on strike for the past 10 days in Vancouver and Duncan voted to go back to work immediately.

As many as 14,000 members were on strike at one time but this dwindled to about 7,000. The union had requested no strike action until the Nemetz report was made public.

Duncan president Weldon Jubenville said: "By and large it is a pretty good report.

"It's by far the best report the union has ever got from a mediator. I'm convinced the action of the membership of Local 1-80 and others in stopping work speeded up and sweetened the report."

NO EXTENSION

He also said no extension of the ballot is planned. Letters were sent to each local member pointing out the ballot would be taken at the Sunday meeting.

The report of Mr. Justice Nathan Nemetz, government-appointed industrial inquiry

40 KILLED, 30 HURT AS INDIA BUS BURNS

NEW DELHI (UPI)—A bus jammed with 120 passengers burst into flames today when a passenger's cigarette ignited gasoline which had leaked into the vehicle. First reports said 40 persons died in the inferno which followed and 30 others were injured.

Authorities said the gasoline apparently leaked into the bus from cans which had been placed in luggage racks on the roof.

BILL EXPECTED THURSDAY

Sharp Rallies Support For Bank Act Changes

By VICTOR J. MACKIE
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—Plans for the introduction of the controversial bank act amendments are going ahead with the likelihood that it will be placed before the Commons Thursday, just ahead of the summer recess, Government House Leader George McIlraith said here today.

The bill will go before the house after a debate on the resolution. It will be given first reading. Originally there had been hope on the government side that it might be able to get second reading and be referred to the finance committee of the Commons.

Now the aim is to get first reading only. It will come up for second reading and referral to the committee after the summer recess, according to the House leader.

The decision indicates that Finance Minister Sharp has rallied support in the cabinet for the amendments.

Several members of the cabinet were reported to be disturbed by the provision in the amending bill that allows the bank interest rate to go up.

Mr. Sharp was said to be unhappy with the delay but now appears to have the solid support of the majority of the cabinet.

Mr. McIlraith declined to comment on reports that Finance Minister Sharp had considered resigning over the issue. The newspaper headlines to that effect were just "hot-weather gossip," Mr. McIlraith said.

The official explanation for the delay in introducing the bill was that one clause had to be altered after the bill was in print.

Mr. McIlraith said it might be possible to get the bill before the house for first reading Tuesday. But he thought it would more likely go before the Commons Thursday.

The finance minister was at a cabinet committee meeting today. He was to see Prime Minister Pearson later and the bank bill in its final printed form will be before the cabinet again Tuesday for discussion.

Mr. Sharp was annoyed at the delay in bringing the bill forward.

Former finance minister Walter Gordon and former provincial secretary Maurice Lamontagne have been fighting hard to prevent any changes in the existing bank rate on loans.

Interior IWA Eyes Coast Pay

SMITHERS (CP) — The big Interior membership of the International Woodworkers of America (CLC) is expected to seek parity with coastal woodworkers when they open negotiations for a contract renewal in 1967. Thir present contract runs until September next year.

Spokesmen for the Interior group have indicated that a major point will be parity with Coast lumber workers, now voting on acceptance of a recommended increase of 40 cents an hour across the board over two years plus numerous fringe benefits.

Senator Hits Back

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd (D.-Conn.) took the witness stand today to deny charges of misconduct and to lash out angrily at former employees who had made them.

In table-pounding testimony before the senate ethics committee, Dodd declared "I was surrounded by people who were betraying me . . ."

He related he had fired two of his accusers for "disloyalty" and asserted that his former office manager, Michael O'Hare, "lied in his teeth" when Dodd asked him about papers being stolen from his office files. "They were robbing me blind," Dodd testified.

Dockers Still Out

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto dockworkers who walked out Friday protesting a liquor charge against a checker voted unanimously against going back to work for the first shift today.

Aussie Drought Appears Over

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — The drought over the central part of eastern Australia appears near an end.

"Only a few more inches of rain over a wide area in the next few weeks and it will be broken," says John L. Green, chairman of the New South Wales drought relief committee.

The cost has been great: Farm income down by $250,000,000; 17,100,000 fewer sheep in two states in a year; 1,000,000 fewer cattle; less wheat and wool.

New South Wales, the state in the centre of the East Coast, has been hardest hit. Green says the drought has been the worst since 1902.

Rains in May and June have brought relief and hope for many farmers and ranchers. Only the northern part of the state, particularly in the far west—an area the size of England, Scotland and Wales—remains drought country.

Even in areas where the drought has been broken, heavy rain is needed to build up inland rivers and fill irrigation reservoirs, mostly less than one-quarter full.

A government spokesman says it will be seven or eight years before the flocks and herds are built up to what they were.

Doctor Pays Penalty

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A San Jose, Calif., doctor was sentenced Friday to work eight hours a week for one year in free clinics, as penalty for violating U.S. income tax laws. Dr. Mobley, 62, an anesthetist, pleaded no contest to charges of failing to file income tax returns in 1959 and 1960.
